REPUBLIC'S FOES MAKE BIG GAINS IN GERMAN VOTE

Dictatorship Party Wins 103 Seats.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—[3 a. m. Monday]—At two o'clock this morning 6,000,000 of the votes cast in yesterday's momentous reichstag election had been counted and the returns showed that the Fascists, the reactionary enemies of the 12 year old German republic, had won a smashing victory. While the Social Democrats held a numerical lead with 137 seats, compared to the 153 seats they had in the last assembly, the Fascists, who previously only had 12 members, now have 103, and the Communists have increased their representation from 54 to 76.

Heavy Vote Recorded.

There are another 3,000,000 votes to be counted in what was a record poll, it being estimated that 85 per cent of the electorate cast ballots. The Catholic Centrists seem to be assured of 75 seats; the German Nationalists 66, the People's party 23, the Economic party 22, the German State party 20, the Farmers 15, the Bavarian Catholics 17, and the Conservatives 5.

Adolf Hitler, the "brown shirt" organizer of the Bavarian "putsch" in 1923, an Austrian citizen and so debarred from sitting in the reichstag, a leader of the Fascists emerges from the election as one of the most powerful men in Germany.

Fascists Threaten Action.

"We shall now show these Republicans," his henchmen said blithely to leaders early this morning, "what really strong fists and strong minds can do." His spokesmen are also talking of "doing away with all those who dared oppose the Fascist reign." They openly favor a dictatorship.

The Fascist landslide has far exceeded Hitler's own expectations and the party had scarcely enough candidates on the official list to take care of all the votes.

Foes of War Debt.

The Fascists stand against the Young plan for the payment of reparations, against the Jews, and against the political rights of women. On these slogans they won the votes of the masses. Their uniforms and their military demeanor also won many to their cause.

When the first returns became known panic reigned in Wilhelmstrasse, because Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's cabinet had hoped that Germany would bolster up his government, which stands for the middle classes.

Cabinet Hopes for Coalition.

After a hurried conference of the government chiefs in Berlin a calmer view of the Fascist danger prevailed, since under the constitution the cabinet is only forced to resign when overthrown in open battle in the reichstag. The cabinet members still hope that, though their supporters have dwindled, they will be able to keep in power through alliances with the Socialists and other groups opposed to the Fascists.

The Fascists, however, count on the support of 41 Nationalists, led by Alfred Hugenberg, the newspaper magnate. Therefore the next session of the reichstag, in early October, promises to be one of the stormiest in German history.

Hugenberg himself was reelected, but other prominent politicians to be ousted included Chancellor Bruening, Foreign Minister Julius Curtius, former Chancellor Hermann Mueller, former Otto Braun of Prussia, Finance Minister Hermann Dietrich, and Minister of Labor Adam Stegerwald.

The defeat of Gottfried Treviranus, minister of occupied regions, was an astounding one in the returns. His failure to be reelected is important since it was Treviranus who upset the Franco-German applecart recently with Poincare and France by his speeches calling for revision of the war treaties.

Polls Heavily Guarded.

The outcome of the voting was eagerly awaited everywhere and feverish excitement prevailed all yesterday in the capital and the big cities of the republic. In honor of the occasion the police forces donned new white gloves. They were very much in evidence everywhere because of fear of attacks by radicals on the polling booths.

The precautionary measures that have been taken had a good effect and as far only one death has been reported, that of a poll supervisor in Prussia who was stabbed by Communists. Minor clashes elsewhere between Fascists and Communists were quickly

BROOKLYN TAKES FIRST PLACE BY 8 TO 3 VICTORY

Brooklyn's Robins took first place in the National league yesterday by winning, 8 to 3, while the Cardinals were dividing a double header at Boston. The new leaders are half a game ahead of the Cardinals, whom they deposed, and one game in front of the Cubs, who were idle. Brooklyn-Cincinnati score by innings:

AMMEL TESTS PLANE ON EVE OF OCEAN HOP

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Under lowering skies and amid intermittent showers, Capt. Roy W. Ammel and Roger Q. Williams made flight tests today in the craft in which Ammel hopes to set up new trans-oceanic records. Ammel's Lockheed, in which he expects to fly alone and nonstop from this field to Paris or beyond, roared up and down the island at 140 and 150 miles an hour. After he landed Ammel said he was pleased with its performance.

There is little prospect of a takeoff before Tuesday or the next day, according to the weather report of Dr. James H. Kimball. A low trough containing two and perhaps three storms extends northeast across the Atlantic, cutting directly through the great circle course.

MEXICO TO HAIL FREEDOM AMID MILITARY POMP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—About 30,000 members of the Mexican army will parade here tomorrow in celebration of Independence day. Seventy-nine generals will participate, and the procession will take five hours to pass a given point.

Fifty per cent of the Mexican military forces of all arms of service will be viewed by 500,000 Mexicans. The national railways alone have already brought in 50,000 visitors, and they still continue to pour into the city for Mexico's greatest military parade.

Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow of the United States, as dean of the diplomatic corps in the absence of the Brazilian envoy, will place a wreath on the Statue of Independence in memory of Mexican heroes.

MRS. HELEN CORD, WIFE OF AUTO CO. PRESIDENT, DIES

Mrs. Helen Marie Cord, wife of Errett L. Cord, automobile manufacturer, died yesterday following an illness of several months in the Cord apartment at the Drake Tower, 179 Lake Shore drive. Mr. Cord and their two sons, Charles Errett, 14 years old, and Billy James, 12, were at the bedside at the time of her death. Mrs. Cord, before her marriage in 1918, was Miss Helen Marie Frische of Cincinnati. Mr. Cord is president of the Auburn Automobile company and of Duesenberg, Inc. Funeral arrangements were not announced last night.

Report Lingle Suspect Flees in Booze Raid

On a report that Ted Gelsking, notorious Indiana gangster and a suspect in the murder of Alfred Lingle, had been seized in a Kentucky liquor hijacking, Police Sergeant George Williams, of the staff of Assistant State's Attorney Charles F. Rathbun, hastened last night to London, Ky., a Cumberland mountain town in the remote southeastern section of the state.

Three men, known associates of the Lingle suspect, were in the Laurel county jail under tripled guard, but Gelsking, if he was on the hijacking expedition, had escaped. Sergt. Williams identified the prisoners as John Gauley, Dave Hodges, and a character called Sheets, who gave the alias of John J. Graham of Indianapolis.

Armed with Machine Guns.

Armed with machine guns and other weapons, the three prisoners and a fourth man, who eluded capture, had hijacked a truck of 2,000 pints of liquor late Saturday night at Corbin, a hamlet near London. The Corbin constable, a witness of the hijackers' operations, saw them drive the truck toward London and notified Sheriff Harve Steele, whose deputies, backed up by the local federal agents, were waiting when the truck appeared.

The hijackers made a show of fighting their way through, but surrendered when one of their machine guns jammed, Mr. Rathbun's representative at Indianapolis was informed.

The sheriff ordered extra guards after being informed by the sheriff at Rising Sun, Ind., that Geisking had five weeks ago staged a jail delivery there after his brother had been jailed as a bootlegger. Sheriff Steele feared Geisking would attempt to repeat the exploit on behalf of Gauley, Hodges, and Sheets.

Henchman of Traum.

Geisking is described as a former henchman of Joe Traum, Indiana gangster, who for five years directed bank raids, highway robberies and hijackings in Indiana until last spring, when the gang was broken up. Geisking, according to reports, came to Chicago and proffered his talents to the Moran-Aiello-Zuta gang.

Zuta, regarded in some quarters as the man who decreed Lingle's death, offered the Hoosier gunman the task of slaying Lingle, as the story goes, and promised him $10,000 for its execution. Geisking, eager to demonstrate his prowess as a killer, accepted the offer, according to the story, and for a week or fortnight prior to June 9—the date of Lingle's death—was kept under cover in a north side hotel.

The assassination accomplished, Zuta is said to have instructed Geisking to quit Chicago, paying but half the promised fee.

Geisking departed, but, becoming restive over Zuta's failure to produce the balance owed, returned here to collect from Zuta, according to the theory. Meanwhile Zuta had been in police custody, had escaped being killed in the State street attack, and had fled to supposed obscurity in Wisconsin.

But, as the theory has it, Geisking wanted payment and Zuta's associates, Bugs Moran and the Aiellos, suspecting that Zuta might have betrayed them while in police custody, desired his death. Geisking was among those elected to finish Zuta, according to the story.

That Zuta's acquaintance with Geisking may have been one of long standing was suggested, the authorities remarked, by the circumstance that London, Ky., is but 40 miles from Middleboro, home of Zuta's cousin and heir, Ike Ginsborg, where Zuta often sought refuge in time of stress.

YANKEE FLYERS SAFE AFTER 25 HOURS OVER SEA

Lose Battle Against Fog and Wind.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Sept. 15 [Monday].—After a twenty-five hour battle with fog and wind over the Pacific ocean, Lieut. Harold L. Bromley and his navigator, Harold Gatty, landed their huge monoplane, the City of Tacoma, at the village of Shitsukari, on the northeast point of the mainland of Japan, at 6 a. m. [4 p. m. Sunday, Chicago daylight saving time]. Both men are safe.

Thus ended the fourth attempt of the two airmen to span the Pacific without a stop.

Silence Cloaks Flyers.

From the time of their departure, almost complete silence cloaked the fate of the flyers as they attempted to pierce the fog off northeastern Japan.

Though the vermilion plane carried a radio, the mystery of its whereabouts was deepened by Japan's ban on ships and amateurs revealing messages they received from the plane. Several conflicting reports were received, but not until the flash that they had returned to Japan was the flyers' safety definitely established.

Just how far they traveled also remains a mystery. It was reported that a Vancouver radio amateur had picked up a message from a Japanese boat telling they had heard Bromley signal that he was flying low over the Aleutians. This would indicate they were well on their way before returning.

Liner Picks Up Message.

First news that the plane was returning to Japan was received when the radio operator of the Dollar liner President Taft docked at Yokohama at 7 a. m. today [5 p. m. Chicago time]. The ship's radio operator said he had intercepted two messages.

One message indicated the plane had passed Cape Lopatka, southernmost point of the Kamchatka peninsula, late Sunday. The second radio report said Bromley and his companion were over the Kurile chain of island and headed back for Japan. If the plane did reach Capt Lopatka the airmen had traveled about 1,800 miles of their projected 4,500 mile flight.

Can't Speak Japanese.

It is believed that Bromley and his companion were forced to return because of strong headwinds, the ever-present fog and rain.

The flyers are unable to speak Japanese, and the American embassy has rushed an interpreter to the scene of the landing to assist the aviators in their negotiations with authorities there.

Atlantic Flyers Delay Departure.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Capt. Erroll Boyd and Lieut. Harry Connor, who planned to fly to Harbor Grace today to complete the first lap of a proposed trans-Atlantic flight from Montreal to London, postponed their departure because of unfavorable weather conditions.

The two flyers landed at Tea hill, five miles from here, early last night after head winds and a low ceiling had so delayed them after their departure from Montreal that they would have been forced to make a late night landing at Harbor Grace. They turned back over Cape Breton.

Widen Joyce Death Inquiry; Quiz 2d Girl

The investigation by the state's attorney's office into the sudden death of State Senator John T. Joyce, which was attributed by a coroner's jury to hydrocyanic poisoning, broadened yesterday. Also an inquiry was begun into the death of Mrs. Joyce's first husband, Howard Daly. As a third development a former resident in the Joyce home was secretly taken into custody.

An examination of records on the death of Daly prompted the increase in the scope of the investigation by Assistant State's Attorneys George Lavin and Ross Lee Laird. A report in the coroner's office shows that Daly died Aug. 26, 1925, at 11 West Chicago avenue while the death certificate in the health department gives the place of death as 59 East Chestnut street.

Dr. Eastman Questioned.

The certificate, which gives the cause of death as heart disease, is signed by Dr. Louis K. Eastman, head of the Keystone hospital, then a coroner's physician. Dr. Eastman confirmed a report that he had been questioned by the prosecutors. Daly had been divorced by the present Mrs. Joyce months before his death.

"Mrs. Daly [the present Mrs. Joyce] was brought to me by an undertaker of the name of Shute," Dr. Eastman said. "She said that her husband had been treated for heart disease by a physician who, she said, was out of town. I signed the certificate. The address was given to me as 59 East Chestnut street. Nothing was told to me about a divorce. I am pledged not to reveal more."

The second development came yesterday evening when Detective Sergeant Michael Ahern of the state's attorney's office took Miss Bernice Webb, 22 years old, a hat model, from a near north side hotel to the hidden place where the prosecutors continued to question Miss Isabelle Daly, stepdaughter of Joyce's widow, Mrs. Mary Daly Joyce, who was taken from the Joyce home at 207 East Chestnut street Saturday night.

Girl Is Third Questioned.

Miss Webb had lived at the Joyce home for four months until a week ago. She is the third person to be hidden away for questioning. A Negro maid was held for several days by the prosecutors and released Saturday morning. It was reported that Miss Webb was held to determine whether she had knowledge of a friendship between Joyce and his foster daughter.

Miss Daly is said to have maintained that she left the Joyce home last spring because of a dispute over possession of a coat. She returned to the home from Kansas City after Joyce's death at the request of Mrs. Joyce, it was said.

Meanwhile at the Joyce home, Mrs. Joyce asserted that the investigation was a political move.

"My only sin is that I am in politics," she declared. "Johnny's sin was that he won the nomination. No matter what happens I will not quit this race. Johnny was the best husband a woman ever had. He had a smile for every one. And now his friends have come to me."

"They know and I know that Johnny never committed suicide. They know that he was murdered by his political enemies. They are coming to me to vindicate the man with a gay laugh in his heart."

Relatives Offer Aid.

At the home during the day were the father, brother and sister of Joyce. Miss Florence Daly, a school principal at Mount Clemens, Mich., and a sister of the first husband, wired that she would arrive today to offer aid to Mrs. Joyce in her investigation of the death. Mrs. Joyce has retained Dr. William D. McNally, toxicologist, to examine Joyce's body, which is to be exhumed this week.

Mrs. Joyce said that Daly did not die at 11 West Chicago avenue, but in a hospital, and that she paid the expense of his funeral, even though they had separated.

Chicago Stores Brimming With New Fall Fashions

A black, or black-and-white ensemble, a debonair hood, a swagger belt—that seems to be the popular mode for the well-dressed woman this fall.

The coat may be long or three-quarters. It's whatever you prefer. It may have a fur collar or not. There's a wide choice of materials, but tweed runs high in favor.

Woolens head the list in dress fabrics. Bolero or peplum jackets are especially popular. But whatever the preference, there's certain to be a cleverly designed model to meet it.

Models never seemed more chic and inviting than those now on display. Values in the shops are exceptionally good, prices are attractive. It's a splendid time to buy that new fall outfit.

KNIFE SLAYER INVADES ROOM AT SOUTH BEND

3 Others Slumber During Tragedy.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Alice Woltman, 17 years old, was slain in her bed by a prowler who invaded her home here early today. Her throat was cut with a razor.

The girl was slashed to death shortly before dawn as she slept in her home beside her 8 year old brother. Four feet away were two sisters deep in slumber. But so silently did the killer work that he was out and away before the family was aroused.

A day and night's investigation yielded the South Bend police little evidence to suggest a motive for the crime, and no suspects. For a time they were inclined to the theory that a jilted suitor had slain the girl and they broadcast an appeal for the apprehension of William Myrich, 31 years old, who had been in the girl's company in the past.

Youth Found in Florida.

Late tonight Myrich was cleared in a telegram received from the Chief of Police of Gonsales, Fla., who wired Chief Samuel Lennon of South Bend that the youth was at his home there and had been for some weeks. This left the police with only one man in custody, a man not suspected of the murder but who may have evidence of a valuable nature.

Horrified by its second girl murder in less than three weeks, South Bend is thoroughly aroused. All day long crowds thronged the vicinity of the modest home of Henry Woltman, a grocer, at 114 North Jackson street, where the tragedy occurred, and mutterings of mob violence if the murderer is found caused the authorities to post lines of police about the home and the neighborhood.

There are two or three clews to this morning's murder. Of these two sets of finger prints, one in dust and the other outlined in blood, and both on the window sill of the girl's room, are considered most important. Others may be found on a chair which was found tilted against a lean-to in the rear of the home, and with which the murderer apparently gained the sleeping roof adjoining the window.

See Figure in Alley.

The sole clew bearing on a description of the killer is contained in the statements of two witnesses who say they saw a white shirted and slim male figure dart through the alley in the rear of the Woltman home about 4 a. m. He wore dark trousers and had rolled his shirt sleeves well above his elbows, these witnesses said.

It was shortly before 4 o'clock that the slayer came to the rear of the home, the police believe. The chair was found, apparently, close by and was propped against the lean-to wall and used as a ladder to scale the 8 feet to the roof, which sloped upward to the window of Alice's room.

Up this slope the murderer crept, placing one hand on the sill to steady himself as he stepped to the floor but one foot below the sill. The bed where the girl and her young brother, Richard, were sleeping was only a step from the window. Alice was sleeping on her left side, and it was only the work of a second to draw a sharp blade—either a razor or a keen butcher knife—across her throat.

Leaps from Window; Flees.

The murderer leaped to the window, left bloody prints on the sill, and was gone. Sliding down the sloping roof he is believed to have scorned the chair and jumped to the ground, dashing toward the alley. There he emerged into a strip of moonlight and his fleeing figure in that brilliance enabled two neighbors, seated on their back porches, to catch a glimpse of him.

Unable to cry out because of the mortal wound in her throat, the girl stumbled from her bed and careened against that occupied by her sisters, Henrietta, 21, and Evelyn, 19. They failed to awaken and the girl managed to totter two steps to the hallway, where she collapsed at the head of the stairs.

The sound of her falling body aroused her parents, who were sleeping on the floor below with their five other children. The mother, Mrs. Katherine Woltman, rushed to the foot of the stairs, called inquiringly, and, getting no response, advanced up a step or two. From that point she saw her daughter's body and ran screaming to her. The girl died in her mother's arms a moment later.

Across the alley from the Woltman home Mrs. Catherine Firakus had been unable to sleep because of the heat and had gone to her back porch to catch the benefit of what little air was stirring. She told Chief Lennon that she saw the white shirted man race down the alley toward the street, disappearing from her vision as he sped behind outbuildings in the alley.

The presence of this figure was also verified by George Stokes, who lives next door to the Woltmans. Stokes was aroused by his baby daughter's crying about 3:30 a. m. and took her to the back porch, where he rocked her. The child was wakeful, and he sat there for more than half an hour soothing her. No sounds attracted his attention to the adjoining house, nor were there lights, he said, adding that he was certain he would have noticed any disturbance. The first intimation of anything untoward came to him as it had to Mrs. Fiarkus in the sight of a man running down the alley and passing through the waning moonlight.

Fail to Find Weapon.

The man had hardly disappeared when the clamor of grief broke out in the Woltman home. The father called for the police and Coroner C. P. Crumpacker, Chief of Detectives Horace Hamilton, and Chief Lennon came immediately with a squad. They searched the alley for marks of the escape and spent some time looking for the weapon used in the murder. Nothing was found.

The authorities then began a search of the girl's possessions, seeking clews which might incriminate any of her former suitors. The father said his three older girls had gone about with boys, but he and Mrs. Woltman had no knowledge of any "serious" affair that Alice might have confused with romance.

The lone man held in the hope of gaining information, Barney Kluszczyski, 23 years old, was reported to have overhead a conversation between Alice and her present sweetheart, wherein the girl upbraided the boy for indolence, insisting that he go to work. The sweetheart, Alex Pietrzak, 18 years old, was questioned and released

Tells of Engagement.

Pietrzak told the police that Alice had been his sweetheart and that she had agreed to marry him. The parents knew nothing of this close attachment, they said. Alex and Alice attended a dance in the Goodfellow's hall together last night and returned to her home about 10 o'clock. For a while they chatted in the kitchen with Mrs. Woltman and the mother said both her daughter and the boy seemed happy. Finally Alex made ready to leave.

As he went out of the kitchen he signaled the mother, who followed him to the hallway, where they whispered of a surprise birthday party the boy wished to give for Alice next Friday, when she would have been 18 years old. He left before 11 o'clock and Alice and her family went to bed. Pietrzak told this story to the police today and it was corroborated by the mother.

Engagement Note Found.

In a bureau drawer where Alice kept her correspondence, the police came upon a note which read: "You could have struck me dead when I heard you were engaged." No name was signed to the note and the family could give little aid in determining the identity of the writer.

That the murderer may have been a disappointed suitor for the favor of the girl's hand seemed the best conjecture that could be made. Alice was pretty and popular in the crowd of Polish and Hungarian young people in which she moved.

Until early June she had attended the St. Stanislaus parochial school, but she quit, telling her teacher that she was to be married, it is reported. Since that time she has clerked in her father's grocery, assisting him a great deal lately because of his failing health.

Recall Appel Kidnaping.

Alice Woltman's murder follows less than three weeks after the body of Marberine Appel, 7 years old, was found grewsomely slain in an alley behind her home. She had been attacked and murdered and the lack of a solution to this crime renders South Bend the more shocked at the latest atrocity. The Appel girl was found a mile or so across the city from the Woltman home, but the crowds which thronged the lawn and walks in front of the latter residence today talked of a fiend stalking South Bend homes in the dead of the night and the streets of the residence districts were deserted tonight as children were called in early and doors bolted.

Late Saturday occurred an incident which police believe may have some bearing on the Woltman murder. A slender young man, about 25 years old, entered the editorial offices of the South Bend News-Times and approached a reporter.

"I want to get even with a girl who gave me my ring back," said the man. "She dirty tricked me and I wish you'd put something in the paper about it." The reporter asked a few questions, but the man would give no details and left without accomplishing his mission.

Knew Inside of Home.

This man was slender, had dark hair and wild, troubled eyes, the reporter said, a general description which would fit that of the man seen in the alley. Whoever the slayer is, he had a considerable knowledge of the Woltman home, police agreed, a fact indicated by his ability to find the bed without arousing the others sleeping in the room.

Tonight South Bend was bending efforts to protect school children, and the most signal outward effect of the crime was seen in the absence of children from the street. They were called in from their play early in the evening. Two such atrocious crimes in a short space of time is expected to produce unusual activity on the part of the police and Coroner Crumpacker. The latter completed a day of work on the murder by announcing grimly that "intensive activity" will be the rôle of the authorities tomorrow.

KILL ONE, FIND LOOT OF $100,000 IN SAFE BLOWERS' RENDEZVOUS

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Police killed one man and seized Liberty bonds and money orders valued at more than $100,000 in a raid today on what they described as a safe blowers' rendezvous.

Frank Reliser, 37, the leader of a gang whose activities, veiled by a photograph enlargement business, extended from Iowa to Colorado, and Mrs. Meda Graham, 37, his companion, were arrested.

The raid was made on information from officers in Topeka, where Ray Sawyer and J. A. Haynes, alleged members of the gang, were arrested yesterday.

QUIZ GIRL IN HUNT FOR SLAYERS OF AIELLO GANGSTER

Jack Costa Put on Spot, Is Police Theory.

Miss Margaret Reardon a divorcée, was questioned at the detective bureau late last night in the belief of the police that she might aid them further in the search for the slayers of Jack Costa, bodyguard of Joe Aiello, north side gang leader. Costa was mortally wounded on Saturday night in the courtyard of the Fernwood apartments at 4048 Sheridan road. He died yesterday noon at the American hospital.

For some weeks Costa had lived at the Sheridan road address with the Reardon girl as his wife, Lieut Phil Carroll learned. He was shot down with an automatic rifle as he stepped from a doorway across the courtyard from his own flat. The assassins fired from a window of a third floor apartment directly over the victim's head. They had rented the apartment on Friday apparently for the purpose of killing Costa, according to the police.

Hunt Mysterious Companion.

Near by in the courtyard at the time of the shooting was Miss Reardon. Also with Costa was a mysterious "Fred," who, the police suspect, may have participated in the murder plot and even taken part in the firing. "Fred" fled the scene before the arrival of Sergt. George Schupolsky and a squad from Town Hall station. He is being sought.

The failure of Miss Reardon to shed light on the identity of "Fred" and to explain his relation to her slain sweetheart were largely responsible for the renewed questioning of her after she had gone over her story of the shooting at the Town Hall station earlier in the day.

But in response to questions Miss Reardon, apparently near collapse, would only repeat:

"I know nothing. If I could help you get Jack's killers I would do it. I loved him."

Explains Renting of Flat.

She had a ready explanation for the engaging by her on Saturday afternoon of an apartment directly beneath that used by the killers and across the courtyard from the apartment which she occupied with Costa.

"My sister was giving a party on Saturday night in our flat, and I got this other place for the use of Jack and Fred until the party was over," Miss Reardon said. "I didn't want them to bother my sister's guests.

"Saturday night Jack, Fred, and I ate in the apartment I had rented. At 9 o'clock we started over to our flat, thinking my sister's guests would be gone. Fred had crossed the courtyard and was entering the door. I was about fifteen feet behind him and Jack was behind me.

"I heard shots and turned around. Jack lay sprawled on the ground. I ran to him. Then I fainted."

Sergt. Schupolsky placed a lipstick and two half-burned cigarettes before the young woman. They had been found in the room used by the killers, as had a shotgun with chambers emptied.

"I never saw those things before in my life," she declared.

"Weren't you in that apartment a half hour before the shooting?" insisted Schupolsky.

"No. I went out to get some food but I wasn't in that apartment."

Lieut. Phil Carroll said he believed that some one had put Costa "on the spot." "We think a woman helped to do it, but we haven't got the evidence yet," he added.

Sister Also Is Held.

Miss Reardon said she met Costa a year ago and that they had lived together at various north side addresses ever since. She denied she knew anything of his business or of his gang connections. Her sister, Mrs. Edna Greer, is also held as a material witness.

The police said they were unable to determine the motive for the slaying. Last May Costa and Peter Ash [Ash Can Pete] Inserra were suspects in connection with the killing of Frank Piesica, a north side gangster. On July 21 Inserra was slain.

A café at Curtis and Erie streets, one of several Costa is said to have owned, was raided by the police.

BORED BULL FIGHT FANS BOO; BULL STIRS INTO ACTION

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

MADRID, Sept. 14.—Madrid saw the most curious bull fight in seven years today. All afternoon bulls who showed a greater longing for green pastures than a desire to charge bored the crowded bull ring.

The fifth bull, a mottled black and white animal, ambled peacefully into the ring and refused to be baited. The crowd howled. The bull tried to jump the fence and get away. The angry roar of the crowd was heard in the heart of Madrid. A red handkerchief was waved in the president's box. This permitted the use of exploding fire darts which sent burning sulphur into the bull's shoulders. The animal bellowed and the crowd applauded madly.

The red handkerchief was waved again and another pair of torturing darts entered the bull. The handkerchief was waved a third time and a fourth and fifth and the bull began to look like a porcupine, blood rolling down its sides. The crowd went wild with excitement as the animal pawed in agony. Finally the seventh pair of darts drove the bull to desperation and with lowered head he charged. The matador killed him. The fourth bull was the best of six. It killed four horses.

BROODS OVER HIS PART IN FATAL CRASH; ENDS LIFE

Sheboygan, Wis., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Brooding over his part in a collision in which Frank Cesar Jr., 19, of 1705 North avenue, was killed, Hugo Elsner, 38, a farmer residing north of the city, drowned himself today in Lake Michigan near his home.

Members of the farmer's family told Coroner Clarence Sonnenburg that he had been despondent since last Monday, when his machine figured in a collision with Cesar's motorcycle.

Telling his wife he was going to the shore for sand to fashion a play box for their children, Elsner waded beyond his depth in the lake. Seeing his car parked along the shore a few hours later his father, August Elsner, went to meet him. He discovered the bo floating near the car.

RUNAWAY LOG RAFT SECURED AFTER A FIGHT

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Victorious over wind and waves that plotted with a $200,000 runaway log raft to threaten destruction to the logs and three tugs pulling them, lumberjacks and sailors tonight convoyed the captured cargo toward Ashland.

Since Thursday night surefooted lumberjacks wielded handspikes and sailors heaved with ropes to control the rampant raft. Fog and stormy weather held them at bay while the raft lashed its free end in Lake Superior at Stockton island.

Made up of 17,000 cords, the raft, said to be the largest ever towed from Canada, suddenly became unmanageable during storm weather off Presque point. It veered toward shore, dragging its three tugs after it helplessly. Tug captains ordered tow lines cut to save their craft.

A lull came in the wind today. The fog lifted. The raft was prisoned by booms. Again the tow lines were fastened to the tugs.

Police Suspect Moshiek in Extortion Attempt.

Search was begun by police yesterday for Aaron Moshiek, notorious forger, in connection with the plot to extort $10,000 from Oscar De Priest, negro congressman from the First Illinois district. The police suspect Moshiek may have organized the plot.

Discovery by Assistant Prosecutor C. Wayland Brooks and Lieut. Andrew Barry of the identity of "Joseph Claiborne," also sought as one of the plotters against De Priest's life, led to the search for Moshiek, long known to authorities as "Chicago's master penman."

Identified as Goldstein.

"Gladstone," the investigators were informed, is Joseph Goldstein, racketeer and former confederate of Moshiek in forgeries. In 1928 Goldstein was convicted of forgery along with Moshiek and Morris Bogoslowsky, but at a later trial he turned upon his alleged accomplices and testified against them.

"To think of Goldstein is to think of Moshiek," said Lieut. Barry. "They quarreled a year ago, but have probably made up by this time. Anyway, we want to question Moshiek."

Moshiek is said to be in New York. Court records will be examined today to learn the present status of his case, it was said.

Plotter Makes Confession.

Selly Lason, 25 years old, 3747 Lake Park avenue, a milk truck driver, made a complete confession, Mr. Brooks said, of his part in the extortion plot against Congressman De Priest. Lason was seized shortly after he had removed a decoy package containing $200 placed by De Priest in an old shanty at 17th and Wood streets. In his confession Lason involved "Gladstone," or Goldstein, and Julius J. Link, a minor politician of De Priest's district, residing at 3615 Ellis avenue. Link already had been arrested through the tracing of the license of an automobile used by several men whom detectives saw talking to Lason. In Link's home was found a quantity of liquor, two sawed off shotguns, and a pistol.

Denies Part in Plot.

Link insisted he knew nothing of the plot to kill De Priest unless the congressman paid over $10,000, but, pled with questions by Prosecutor Brooks and Lieut. Barry, he wheeled suddenly upon De Priest, seated near by, and shouted:

"You've got all the patronage in the district. I'm broke. I've been starving to death down there."

Link ran for state representative on the anti-De Priest ticket at the last election and was defeated. Lason likewise was a defeated candidate for a minor committee office.

Mr. Brooks said he might ask grand jury action against Goldstein, Link, and Lason today.

De Priest Gets Letter.

De Priest was apprised of the extortion plot through a threatening letter signed "Brooklin Rats." He informed Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Col. Randolph referred him to Walter G. Walker, counsel for the Employers' association.

Assistant Prosecutor Charles J. Mueller, who is to direct the war on racketeers and racketeers ordered by Chief Justice John P. McGoorty, will lay his plans before State's Attorney John A. Swanson today, he announced. Mr. Mueller will seek, he announced, an early conference with Col. A. A. Sprague, chairman of the Association of Commerce racket committee.

MANY IMPROVED WEAPONS AWAIT TESTS BY ARMY

Designed to Increase Fire Power.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special]—A dozen new or vastly improved army weapons, designed to play a part in modernizing the army and increasing its mobility and fire power will be tested out on war department proving grounds this fall and winter.

The new weapons range in size from fifteen ton tanks down to semi-automatic shoulder rifles weighing slightly more than eight pounds. They include a new Christie tank, an army developed medium fifteen ton tank, two models of 75 millimeter artillery with a universal field of fire, three semi-automatic shoulder rifles, a new airplane machine gun, and a tank machine gun. In addition, a .50 caliber Hotchkiss machine gun has been ordered from France for test and study by the ordnance department.

Improved Christie Tank.

The Christie tank is to be an improvement over the nine ton vehicle turned out by the Christie firm last year. It will weigh from ten and one-half to thirteen tons. Specifications call for a machine that will make forty miles an hour on hard roads and at least thirty across country. It will have armor plate thick enough to stop the service caliber bullet and mount one rapid fire one pounder, and one .30 caliber machine gun. It will be built with tracks for cross country and wheels for hard roads.

The army tank weighs close to fifteen tons and is designed to travel close to thirty miles an hour. Its armament will be superior to the Christie vehicle. It will have a three pounder rapid fire gun as well as two or three machine guns. Both tanks will be equipped with Liberty airplane engines.

Experts Will Compare Rifles.

Within the next few weeks the army semi-automatic shoulder rifle board will receive one shipment of twenty Garand .276 caliber rifles to be tested by the infantry, one improved Pedersen semi-automatic .276 rifle and a new .30 caliber semi-automatic rifle manufactured by J. C. Garand.

The board is still undecided as to the comparative merits of the Pedersen and Garand rifles although inclined to believe the Garand is the better gun.

One Killed and Eight Hurt in Crash of Three Autos

In a three car collision yesterday at Oakton street and Tripp avenue, Niles Center, one man was killed, one critically injured, and seven other persons were hurt.

Traffic Policeman Philip Doetch of Niles Center had stopped an automobile which he suspected might have been stolen. As he was questioning the occupants a party west bound for a golf game approached.

They were in two cars. The first was driven by Joseph Swieglow, 32 years old, of McHenry. In the front seat with him was Eugene Hughes, 32 years old, also of McHenry; in the rumble seat were Joseph Berger, 25 years old, of 1818 Larrabee street; Miss Marion Miller, 18 years old, 4231 North Francisco avenue, and Miss Evelyn Kolodzik, 21 years old, 5327 North Christiana avenue.

The second car was driven by Fred W. Bradley, 4750 Kenmore avenue. With him were his wife, Ruth; his brother, William, and the latter's wife, Irene, of 4400 Malden street.

One Killed, Eight Injured.

Swieglow's roadster crashed into Doetch's automobile, which was parked in the road. Bradley followed into Swieglow's car. Both overturned. Berger was killed and Hughes hurt so seriously he may die. Mrs. Irene Bradley suffered a fracture of the left leg. All were taken to St. Francis hospital, Evanston. The others escaped with minor injuries. The suspect car, indirect cause of the smashup, drove away and Doetch did not obtain the license number.

Berger's death and two others increased the Cook county motor toll for the year to 717. The other victims:

Frank Cartosiewicz, 47 years old, 1369 Belmont avenue, struck by a hit and run car containing three men at Division and Paulina streets. Witnesses obtained the license number and ownership of the car was traced to John Jansen of 6724 Cornell avenue. He had reported it stolen earlier in the evening.

Russell Haeth, 21 years old, 1036 North Central Park avenue. Crushed to death when a car driven by Roy Zoebel, 4191 Montana street, turned over in a ditch a miles west of Waukegan when it skidded on the wet pavement. Zoebel and Mrs. Anna McCoy, 5929 Walton street, were injured.

Mrs. Lena Timm, 64 years old, 1625 Keenon street, was struck and probably fatally injured by an automobile at North and Damen avenues. The driver did not stop.

Auto Hits Fireplug; 4 Hurt.

Two young couples were slightly injured last night when an automobile in which they were driving south in Kostner avenue at 19th street plunged across the sidewalk, broke down an electric light standard, and crashed into a fireplug.

Those in the car were Kate Sezenenja, 17 years old; her sister, Charlotte, 17, both of 1419 South Kedvale avenue; Arthur Overzet, 17, of 1239 South Kildare avenue, and Marcius Lanenga, 17, of 1228 South Lombard avenue, Berwyn. Overzet, who was driving, said he swerved the automobile to avoid colliding with another car. The four received first aid treatment at the county hospital.

The west park police department, under the direction of Capt. William Schramm, yesterday launched a new system of handling traffic law violators. Instead of being tried before the safety commission, the offenders will be sent to the traffic branch of the Municipal court for trial.

SHEBOYGAN GIRL, 6, KILLED BY CAR OF A CHICAGOAN

Sheboygan, Wis., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Geneva Leurquis, 6, of 2321 South 12th street, was killed today by the car of Hobert Unguarit of 1511 South Racine street, Chicago, as she was crossing the street with four playmates. Unguarit agreed to appear at an inquest tomorrow.

Britain May Join France and Italy in Naval Pact

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Sept. 14.—Negotiations for a settlement of the Franco-Italian naval row, chief obstacle in the way of general disarmament in Europe, are at a standstill tonight pending the return of Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, with Premier Mussolini's approval of the new scheme which has been worked out. A word from Premier Andre Tardieu of France, giving his O. K. to the trend of the negotiations, and acceptance by the British admiralty of the latest French and Italian figures in naval tonnage are also awaited.

The situation is the same as that which resulted in a deadlock at the London naval conference, except this time the British Labor government is staking everything upon disarmament and in order to hurry up the Italian-Franco negotiations, now seems willing to involve itself in some kind of a Mediterranean security pact.

The chief obstacle is the difficulty of working out a naval formula with figures low enough to suit the British and high enough to suit the French.

Up until tonight the situation stands this way:

The British issued a flat ultimatum insisting that the preparatory disarmament commission finish its work at all costs by November, and that a general disarmament conference be called next year.

The Franco-Italian naval dispute is the greatest obstacle in the way of general disarmament and, accordingly, the British are bringing tremendous pressure to bear on both nations, holding a club over their heads in the form of a safeguard clause in the London naval treaty, which permits Britain to built up her navy if the continental powers reach too high a level.

Relentlessly spurred on, the British, French and Italian naval experts have been making progress in their talks here. The Italians have come forward with a new offer revising the three power Mediterranean pact discarded during the London conference.

Yesterday Foreign Minister Briand of France had an important talk with the head of the Italian delegation, Prof. Vittorio Scialoja, in the presence of technical advisers from both nations. During the conference, the Tunis and Tripoli questions were discussed as well as the Italian naval offer. The exact formula for naval limitation remains to be worked out, however, as this is believed to be the object of talks between First Lord of the Admiralty Alexander of England and the French minister of marine, Jacques-Louis Dumesnil, in Paris.

KOHLER AND SON OF LA FOLLETTE END RACE TODAY

Governorship Fight Most Bitter in Years.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Wisconsin fairly rocked today in the closing throes of the governorship fight which goes to the voters at Tuesday's primaries, the most bitter in years even for Wisconsin, noted for intense politics.

Gov. Walter J. Kohler and Philip F. La Follette, rivals for the Republican nomination, will carry on their platform activities almost up to the tap of the bell, the governor speaking over the radio tomorrow night and Phil La Follette addressing a Madison audience.

Busy Through Sunday.

Today workers from the opposing camps were out on the highways and byways on the trail of the voters, while the two candidates made speeches. Gov. Kohler, at the dedication of a grotto at Dickeyville, dwelt on the conservation of the natural beauties of Wisconsin. As the event had a religious setting, the governor kept aloof from political issues beyond an exhortation that a big vote turn out as a duty of citizenship. Mr. La Follette, over the radio, dwelt on unemployment. He said 100,000 Wisconsin workers have been out of work for nearly a year, and declared Gov. Kohler failed to speed up public construction.

Tuesday's battle is another of the fights between regulars and La Follettites, which have run in serial form for years in Wisconsin politics. Gov. Kohler, who is running on his record, has been denouncing the "Madison ring" and the "La Follette machine." He has assailed the La Follette camp as "political racketeers" and "falsifiers" who have been making "desperate distortions" of things as they are. The La Follettites, on the other hand, have accused the governor of various actions ranging from undue campaign expenditures to increased taxes.

Concentrate on Labor.

In the closing days the great concentration of effort is upon the industrial centers along the lake shore and down the Fox river valley. Here the work among the labor vote has been intense. Both sides regard Milwaukee county as perhaps the pivotal area in the battle. Two years ago it gave Kohler a 22,000 majority. Both sides are claiming it.

The Milwaukee Herold, German language newspaper which was a supporter of the late "Fighting Bob" La Follette, has come out in an editorial pointing to the old tradition in Wisconsin, to give a second term to a governor "who has made good." It says for this reason "there is little doubt" among those who know their politics that Kohler will be renominated. The Amerika and the National Demokrat at Sheboygan, former supporters of the La Follette camp also are urging the reelection of Kohler.

"Main Issues" Defined.

As to the main issues as viewed by the opposing camps, Gov. Kohler says: "The issue is unmistakable. Either Wisconsin will continue to progress or we will once more revert to the neglect and lethargy of partisan and selfish machine politics."

Phil La Follette says: "The people must resume control of their government if it is to serve them instead of chain banks, chain stores, and the power monopoly."

The anti-chain-store-bank issue was rather flattened at the Oshkosh convention of the regulars in June, when planks were adopted on these subjects which the regulars viewed as walking away with the thunder of the La Follette group. The La Follette campaign has been largely built around "monopoly control," one of their basic phrases for years. Their platform among other planks has denounced the "Grundyized" tariff as "an outrageous imposition."

MICHIGAN PRIMARY RECOUNT MAY PERIL REPUBLICAN CHANCES

Detroit, Mich., Sept 14.—(AP)—Out of a combination of circumstances there appeared today the possibility that all the strenuous work of Alex J. Groesbeck and Wilber M. Brucker in the primary election campaign for the Republican nomination for governor might go for naught.

Should Groesbeck persist in his determination to demand a recount of the votes cast last Tuesday it appeared likely that certification of the nominee would be delayed so long as to make it impossible to get the successful candidate's name on the ballot Nov. 4.

On the face of revised returns Brucker won the nomination by 5,555 votes. The poll tonight stood: Brucker 369,927, Groesbeck 364,372.

Every indication is the Groesbeck forces had not altered their determination to demand a recount of the 800,000 votes cast. Burt D. Cady, state chairman of the Groesbeck for governor committee, said:

Either or both candidates would be able to run on stickers in November should the recount delay certification too long.

ALL SIGNS POINT TO PROHIBITION AS BIG '32 ISSUE

Democrats Almost Certain to Take Wet Stand.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Political developments having a bearing on the 1932 presidential contest point to prohibition as an issue of even greater intensity than in 1928. The declaration of Gov. Franklin Roosevelt, who will be New York's candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination for repeal of the 18th amendment, is accepted as meaning that the wets who backed Alfred E. Smith feel no discouragement as a result of his defeat in 1928.

Nomination of Gov. Albert C. Ritchie for a fourth term at the Maryland Democratic primaries of last Monday places this state executive again in the running for the Democratic presidential nomination on a wet platform.

Think It Is Winning Issue.

Despite the disastrous defeat of the Democratic candidates in 1928 when former Gov. Smith led an attack on prohibition, the wets in the party seem convinced that this issue furnishes their one chance to win. They have noted with satisfaction the prediction by Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) that the next presidential nominee of the party will be for repeal of the 18th amendment. The favorable attitude shown by Senator Wheeler, a westerner and a radical as well as a former dry, toward Gov. Roosevelt has made the New York Democratic leaders feel that it should be possible again to nominate a New Yorker and a wet.

The wets in the Democratic camp believe that if the religious issue which figured two years ago is kept out of the campaign the southern states will go along with a wet presidential nominee.

Various developments of past months have tended to show that the Democrats in the south will hesitate to bolt their party again. These include the defeat of Senator F. M. Simmons [Dem., N. C.] for renomination, the barring of the other senate Hoovercrat, Senator J. Thomas Heflin [Dem., Ala.], from the Democratic primaries in his state and the refusal of Virginia to follow longer the leadership of Bishop James Cannon Jr.

On the Republican side prohibition also is figuring in every move which has any bearing on the presidential election of 1932. The general belief is that President Hoover will stand pat on the dry side of the issue which in the event of his renomination and the nomination of a wet by the Democrats will furnish a clear cut prohibition fight in the election. It is uncertain as yet whether there will be a formidable fight against President Hoover for renomination. Dwight W. Morrow continues to loom up as a possible wet aspirant for the Republican nomination.

Democrats Will Force Issue.

Two years ago both parties were content to adopt law enforcement platforms neither going on record for or against the principle of prohibition. In 1932 the Democrats may incorporate a state rights declaration in their platform in connection with the prohibition issue.

The last of this year's primaries which will take place this week, should furnish developments which will have an important effect upon party policies in the presidential election. Primaries will be held on Tuesday in Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut, and Wisconsin.

If Eben S. Draper, a wet, is nominated by the Republicans for senator over former Senator William M. Butler, a dry, in Massachusetts, it will mean that the Republicans in that state are ready to join in the movement to moisten up the party platform in 1932.

In New York state delegates will be elected in the primary to the party conventions which will select gubernatorial candidates and adopt platforms. The platform on which Gov. Roosevelt is nominated will be regarded as that upon which he will base his presidential candidacy. If the Republican platform and candidate are wet as now seems likely, it will be a further aid to the wets in the Republican national convention of 1932.

In Delaware former Senator Thomas Bayard and National Committeeman Josiah Marvel, a dry, will seek the Democratic senatorial nomination at a convention Tuesday. Senator Daniel O. Hastings already has been renominated by the Republicans.

INMATES GAIN WEIGHT IN THIS JAIL; THEY ASK LONGER TERMS

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Sixty days in the Allegheny county jail is a sure way to add weight, according to the report of Warden John McNeill. Several men sentenced to prison this fall have requested the courts to lengthen their stay so they could build themselves up physically at the county's expense.

Warden McNeill stated today that every one of the 800 prisoners who have been there thirty days have gained weight, and there is no sickness among them.

LEWIS ASSAILS PROHIBITION IN COUNTY OPENER

James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee for United States senator, unleased a triple assault on prohibition, the state referendum, and Ruth Hanna McCormick, his Republican opponent, in a speech yesterday opening the campaign in Cook county at a Democratic rally in Riverview park.

The former senator, who leads the Democratic state ticket, deplored the decline in personal liberty under the eighteenth amendment and described the state prohibition referendum as a "trick and a fraud devised by the political magicians known as the city hall machine."

Aims Shot at Referendum.

Mr. Lewis attacked Mrs. McCormick's attitude on the prohibition issue, describing it as a "now you see it, now you don't policy."

"She says she will abide by the majority as indicated by the referendum," the ex-senator said, "but the three propositions contained in the referendum make it virtually impossible for a majority for repeal to be obtained."

The Democratic nominee contended that one group of voters might give a plurality to one of the three proposals, while another set would favor a different proposition, and still another group favor the third proposal so that a majority would be difficult to recognize.

Mr. Lewis said that after this referendum was ended he expected Mrs. McCormick would want the question put to a referendum in each of the 48 states and then a national referendum before she would make up her mind.

He assailed the governmental authority that could dictate a citizen's habits, and said the department of agriculture now was endeavoring to make it possible to regulate women's clothes. Mr. Lewis interpreted this as the "effete east's hope of determining how truly we are the sons of the western jackass as Senator Moses insisted."

The senatorial nominee said the banking privileges had been concentrated in the east "for the favored gamblers on Wall street." He asserted that the east had been permitted to "seize the west and remove therefrom the fruits of our industry" and wondered "how far the government shall go in dictating our rights and still permit us to feel as free men."

Mr. Lewis, in further criticism of Mrs. McCormick's stand on prohibition, held aloft a page from the Bible and quoting, "thou are neither hot nor cold nor cold nor hot; therefore repent ye for thou are a fraud to thyself," said this epitomized Mrs. McCormick's position.

Other Candidates Speak.

A huge crowd attended the opening Democratic rally with virtually all the leading candidates on the ticket appearing on the speaker's platform.

Clayton F. Smith, chairman of the Democratic managing committee, presided and introduced the nominees. William H. Dieterich, candidate for congress at large, spoke briefly, blaming unsound governmental policies for business depression. Anton J. Cermak, chairman of the county Democratic central committee and candidate for reëlection as president of the county board, described prohibition and taxation as the two principal issues. Edward J. Barrett, candidate for state treasurer, and all the candidates for county office were introduced.

NYE QUIZ TODAY

The senate elections committee's inquiry into expenditures in the senatorial primary campaign in Illinois is to be resumed this morning at the federal building. Senator Gerald P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], chairman, and Senators Dill of Washington, Patterson of Missouri, Wagner of New York, and Dale of Vermont, will be present for the resumption of the investigation, which also will be directed at the activities of private operatives who had undertaken a separate inquiry into the history of Senator Nye for Mrs. McCormick.

Numerous witnesses have been subpoenaed for the reopening, among them W. C. Dannenberg, head of the detective agency employed by Mrs. McCormick. Two weeks ago, when the committee convened here for a two day inquiry, Mr. Dannenberg declined to give up certain records requested by the committee. His attorney said he would advise him as to his legal rights and report to the committee today.

OLD BOAT SUSPECTED AS A RUM RUNNER IS BURNED OFF ALTON, ILL.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Newspaper headlines this morning announced federal prohibition authorities were investigating to determine whether the historic old stern wheeler, Illinois, built in the 80's, was being used as a rum runner. Before most people read of the investigation, the craft had burned and sank in the Mississippi river. Federal authorities then started a second inquiry, this time into the cause of the fire.

The craft, one of the oldest in the St. Louis district, went down near Alton slough, two miles below Alton.

Persons connected with the Blaske Boat company dock at Alton, where the Illinois was taken recently after she had been damaged in shallow water near Grafton, Ill., said they had not been informed the craft was to be taken out.

AIR TOURISTS IN WINNIPEG; LED BY AURORA FLYER

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 14.—(AP)—John Livingston of Aurora, Ill., led the fleet of 18 contesting planes into Winnipeg today on the flight from Duluth, Minn., in the sixth national air tour.

Livingston, in a Waco open biplane, was closely followed by Arthur Davis in a similar ship, Myron Zeller and Harry Russell in tri-motor Fords, Walter Carr Jr. in a Stinson high motor, and Walter Beech in a Curtiss Kingbird.

All the competing ships arrived safely, followed by more than a dozen escorting planes. A noonday stop was made at Grand Forks, N. D. Adverse weather delayed arrival.

Britain Denies Agents in U. S. Seek New Debt Cut

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A denial that the presence in Washington of Sir Warren Fisher, permanent secretary of the British treasury, and Tom Jones, Prime Minister MacDonald's secretary, is connected with a campaign for the revision of war debts was made in responsible quarters of Whitehall tonight.

The denial followed cabled reports from Washington that the visit of Sir Warren and Mr. Jones had revived rumors that Great Britain will lead another European drive for debt reduction.

FLIGHT TO STARS FAILS; BALLOON STICKS TO EARTH

Bag Refuses to Lift Heavy Gondola.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AUGSBURG, Germany, Sept. 14.—Prof. Auguste Piccard's giant balloon, in which he hopes to explore the skies 50,000 feet up, refused to rise this morning, and the expedition was postponed until men of science have succeeded in discovering why it failed to budge.

Prof. Piccard and his assistant, Charles Kipfer, supervised the preparations while the balloon was being filled with gas. Thousands of curious persons were on the factory ground to witness the start. Prof. Piccard, his wife, and two small daughters were cheered by the crowd while sharing a farewell breakfast on the field at 8 o'clock. At 8:30 o'clock the Swiss flag was hoisted on the balloon, which was due to rise at 9 o'clock.

Refuses to Rise.

After saying farewell to his family Prof. Piccard and Kipfer were locked in the airtight gondola and the ground crew let go the ropes. The balloon swayed gently back and forth, but that was all.

Prof. Piccard believes that the weather was too cold and that the gas would not expand sufficiently, while others think that the gondola overloaded the balloon. Prof. Piccard, revising his calculations, today said he was prepared to wait until spring if the weather fails to improve before that time.

Experts said the amount of gas was insufficient to raise the gondola. Prof. Piccard had provided 2,200 cubic meters of hydrogen, which supplied only one-seventh of the bag's capacity, expecting that as high altitudes would be reached the gas would expand to 14,000 cubic meters.

Held by Downward Wind.

Then, too, there was a strong downward wind, which held the balloon on the ground.

When all attempts to take off had failed, Piccard opened a porthole in the gondola and pulled a line, which permitted the gas to escape. The two scientists, who had made elaborate preparations, had planned to reach the highest altitude ever attained by man and study cosmic rays.

French Flyers on Good Will Tour Today; Lasts 25 Days

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Bearing the friendship of France through the heart of America, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte take off tomorrow on a 15,000 mile good will tour in the scarlet sesquiplane which carried them from Paris to New York.

The flight will last twenty-five days and will take the famous airmen, first ever to fly westward over the north Atlantic from mainland to mainland in a heavier than air machine, across thirty states, in which they will make thirty-one stops, and pass over about seventy other cities.

The first stop will be Hartford, Conn., and the next Boston, where Monday night will be spent. Thence the course lends westward along a northerly route to the Pacific and back through southern states. The last night, Oct. 9, will be spent at Philadelphia, the flyers returning to New York next day.

The tour is sponsored by a committee of twenty men, and is generally believed to have been conceived by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who himself made a similar, but more extended good will flight after his return in 1927 from the first solo flight across the north Atlantic.

Damaged Propeller O. K.

For a time it seemed that there must be a postponement of the tour, for on their return from Texas and Washington the French flyers discovered a split in one end of their wooden propellor, which is of a type not available in America. But factory repairs were made and received final approval when Coste's mechanic arrived by ship today and conducted severe tests.

Two other planes will accompany the trans-Atlantic Question Mark. Preceding it on each leg of the long flight will be a department of commerce ship carrying Maj. George Witten, tour manager, and Rene Rapover, the Frenchmen's interpreter. Trailing it will be the army plane of F. Trube Davison, assistant secretary of war, carrying Coste's mechanic, who will check the engine at every stop.

Itinerary of First Week.

Monday—New York to Hartford to Boston.

Tuesday—Boston to Cleveland.

Wednesday—Cleveland to Indianapolis to Detroit, circling over Akron, Columbus, Dayton, Richmond, Fort Wayne and Toledo.

Thursday—Detroit to Chicago, circling over Lansing, Joliet and Elgin.

Friday—Chicago to Milwaukee to twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, where the week-end will be spent.

After that the course lies over Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, and Washington. Flying down across Oregon to San Francisco, the flyers turn eastward across Arizona, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and so back to New York.

FOES OF GERMAN REPUBLIC GAIN IN REICHSTAG VOTE

Social Democrats Take Lead, Fascists Second.

quelled and there was no repetition of violence that broke out in the working class district of Berlin on Saturday night.

This comparatively peaceful election is said to have been due to the embargo that had been put on weapons, voters not being even allowed to carry walking sticks to the polls, and to the ban on the sale of hard liquor during the time the voting booths were open.

Hindenburg Casts First Vote.

In Berlin President Paul von Hindenburg was the first man to cast his vote. He did so while everybody around stood at attention. At Potsdam, home of the former kaiser, the members of the Hohenzollern family, looking very pale, performed their civic duty at the Christian community house. Every one around bowed respectfully. The former crown prince, his wife, Princess Cecile, and Prince Oscar voted.

Suffrage in Germany is granted to all men and women over the age of 20 if not disbarred for crime or lunacy. The voting is on the proportional representation system, one member of the reichstag to every 60,000 votes. A certain percentage of the votes will have been wasted owing to the fact that there were 24 parties standing for election. Those going to candidates who failed to get their 60,000 quota do not count. While the last reichstag had 491 members the increase in the electorate since the last election is expected to swell the membership to about 550.

Returns Alarm France.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 14.— Because of the possible effect of the German elections on foreign policies, French interest in politics on the other side of the Rhine has been gradually waxing stronger. The usually insular Parisians clustered tonight around the bulletin boards outside the newspaper offices anxiously scanning the returns.

When it became clear that the Fascist and Nationalist combination would have a strong hand in Germany's destinies, many were heard to say, "Well, the next war is not far off."

NEGRO SLAIN IN QUARREL.

In a quarrel over a woman yesterday in an East Chicago Heights rooming house operated by one Louise Woodfort, Cleophis Edwards, 32 year old Negro of 3720 Main street, Indiana Harbor, Ind., was shot to death by another Negro, known as Nobie. Hellwig police are seeking the slayer.

NEW HOURLY AIR SERVICE IN EAST BREAKS RECORD

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—The New York, Philadelphia, and Washington airways, which opened an every hour on the hour service between New York, Philadelphia, and Washington on Sept. 1, carried 1557 pay passengers in the first ten days of service. This, according to officials, is a world's record.

"Americans are apt to think of the air passenger movement across the English channel as a high water mark in air transport," a representative of the company said.

"According to statistics the total passenger movement across the English channel for 1928 was 43,179, an average of 118 a day as compared with the 155 a day on the New York, Philadelphia, and Washington line."

Who does not love them? What foot doesn't look prettier when it can wear this type of slipper? What fashion is safer than—the OPERA? But preferred though it is, the Opera must bow to Fashion's edict for Black Suede. In other words, the Opera—always right—now becomes ultra-smart when it is in Black Suede!

I. Miller, foreseeing the fashion importance of the Black Suede Opera as the certain all-occasion slipper this autumn, prepared for the vogue with typical I. Miller thoroughness . . . prepared an array of Black Suede Operas so smart, so varied, so distinctive that even the most ambitious of Opera penchants may now find complete satiation—and at the same time be amazed to discover in how many diverse ways the Black Suede Opera can be made both popular and exclusive.

The Amulet $14.50

The Harmonie $12.50

Programs to Be Amplified in Grant Park.

To augment the United States Marine band in several of the compositions it will play tomorrow afternoon in the Chicago Stadium, 1800 West Madison street, as a TRIBUNE musical treat, arrangements were made yesterday to utilize the power of the huge Stadium organ. Organist Ralph Waldo Emerson will accompany the band in selections chosen by Capt. Taylor Branson, who leads the fifty Marine corps musicians.

The beloved "Blue Danube" waltz, which has endured in popularity throughout the thirty years since the death of its composer, Johann Strauss, will be one of the numbers the band and organ will combine in presenting. Sullivan's "Lost Chord" is also suited for the dual effect and will be played with a special part for cornet and organ. "The Chicago Tribune March" is another selection in which Mr. Emerson will take part.

Encores for Children's Concert.

Capt. Branson wired yesterday that he has chosen several light encores for children to be added to those already selected for the afternoon concert which will be given before 22,000 children of the Chicago public and parochial schools.

Both concerts are free and will begin promptly at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. Entrance to the Stadium in the afternoon is restricted to children and their teachers while the evening performance is planned, both in point of time and program content, for adults, who may bring their children if they choose. The doors will be open at 2 and 7 p. m.

Since the Stadium seats but 22,000, and judging from the fact that 150,000 persons attended the Chicagoland music festival, THE TRIBUNE will provide additional facilities for the enjoyment of the band and organ music to those who cannot find seats in the large indoor arena.

Broadcast to Grant Park.

Beautiful Grant park in the vicinity of the Buckingham fountain is the location selected for the erection of a high wooden tower which will support loud speakers connected with microphones placed above the band playing in the Stadium two miles away. Both concerts will thus be amplified and present the opportunity for auto owners to drive to one of the roadways near the fountain, park, and watch the display of the water while listening to the music.

At night the colored lighting effects will be brought into play at the fountain while "the President's Own" band is giving its second concert.

AFRICAN RULER BUYS EX-KAISER'S IMPERIAL COACH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Once more the gates of the palatial imperial stables in Berlin were thrown open today to let pass the imperial state coach of former Kaiser Wilhelm. Its sides emblazoned with the imperial coat of arms, the coach shone in all its old time splendor on its last drive through Berlin on its way to Abyssinia to once more figure in an imperial festival, but this time for Ras Tafari, future emperor of Abyssinia, a Negro.

He will be crowned in October, and to make his coronation day one of unparalleled splendor, Ras Tafari sent emissaries to Europe to buy all available coronation paraphernalia of the formerly reigning houses of Europe.

The former kaiser's coach will be Ras Tafari's coronation coach. It was built in 1880 and, as so many products of the eighties, it failed to arouse the enthusiasm of art lovers. All the most valuable coaches, treasured because of their artistic designs or historical importance, form part of Berlin's Hohenzollern museum in a castle hidden away in a park in the heart of the city.

Mount Balks at Hurdle; Winnetka Rider Is Injured

HOOSIERS URGE EARLY BUILDING OF DUNES ROAD

Relief for Congestion Is Long Delayed.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Northern Indiana is aroused by the continued delays in starting construction of the Dunes relief highway, a forty foot pavement projected to extend from the Michigan-Indiana line to Gary, carrying the traffic that now makes the Dunes highway one of the three busiest roads in the United States.

Construction was to have started last spring. The right of way was cleared and the plans were drawn, but the Indiana highway commission, it is charged, allocated funds for much less important road work and is now without money to pay contractors on this superhighway that would serve the northern Indiana industrial district and Chicago bound motor cars from the east. So the contractors have not started work.

Waiting for Pay Suggested.

A delegation from northern Indiana recently called upon the administration at Indianapolis in regard to the superhighway. The state officials suggested that the contractors should be induced to proceed with the job on the promise that money will be available to pay them next April. This suggestion hasn't as yet turned a spade of dirt on the project.

"The highway commission," said R. F. Garrettson, president of the Michigan City Chamber of Commerce, this afternoon, "has allocated a considerable amount of its funds for work down state to give employment in the drought areas. However, northern Indiana also has an unemployment problem and this section wants the state to give us some relief.

Says District Will Profit.

"This delay is costly to Michigan City. Our commercial advancement is handicapped by the inadequate motor transportation facilities between here and Chicago. There will be no small benefit to the commercial welfare of this community when the driving time to Chicago is reduced by the construction of this forty foot road."

The traffic on the Dunes highway today verified all of the statements that have been made about the inadequacy of the road. On the bumpy, twisting and narrow pavement there was a constant stream of cars, a large portion of them bearing Illinois and Michigan license plates. Passenger cars were dodging around the occasional truck. Fast drivers were zig-zagging around slow drivers. There was danger as well as delay in driving on the antiquated highway.

16TH RADIUM DEATH IN FIVE YEARS OCCURS IN WEST ORANGE, N. J.

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—The sixteenth known death from radium poisoning, the result of painting with lip brushes used in painting watch dials with luminous radium paint, occurred in West Orange, N. J., on Saturday. This became known with the performance of an autopsy upon the body of Mrs. Anna Stasi, 27, of Orange.

As in the other cases of the last five years, the radium poisoning did not become apparent until years after the employment and exposure in the plant of the United States Radium corporation.

THE DANERSK plan of MONTHLY TERMS

FOR many years it has been our custom to arrange convenient terms of payment.

Now comes the Danersk Plan, which applies with equal benefits, whether you purchase Danersk Furniture through your decorator, dealer or direct from us.

Danersk Furniture is built by our colony of over three hundred Scotch and English cabinet makers in our Connecticut shops—built slowly and carefully with scrupulous regard for the old guild traditions. For years past, we have made a collection of measured details of pedigreed pieces, gleaned from museums, private collections and from the purchase of valued antiques.

Think of the joy of possessing a complete room of choice authentic pieces. These range in price from $380 for an English oak bedroom group to $3600 for a luxurious dining room of mahogany or walnut.

By the Danersk Plan of monthly payments, your initial outlay can be as low as $50.

We have just published a seventy-two page book on "How to Know Good Furniture." Write us specifically about your home and a copy will be sent you. Call and see the furniture itself without obligation to purchase.

Is your mouth a day behind you?

No one cares to have yesterday's "Unclean Taste" lingering in today's mouth. Yet many delude themselves by only half removing it. Be sure you really end it.

Just brushing the teeth does not mean you have cleansed the mouth. To be certain your mouth is really clean, rinse it with GLYCO-Thymoline daily.

Remember—the sensitive tissue lining of your mouth is almost as exposed as the skin on your face. Breathing—eating—smoking—talking—permits the entrance of foreign particles that lodge between the teeth, and gather in the numerous tissue folds. Sleep—over night gives them the opportunity to create that "Unclean Taste."

End "UNCLEAN TASTE" in the Morning with "GLYCO"

GLYCO-Thymoline baths and gently awakens the inactive tissues. It flushes clean every fold in the mouth—every crevice between the teeth. It removes clinging mucus, neutralizes harmful acids. As a gargle, it relieves irritated throats and clears "husky" voices. A morning necessity!

Prescribed by Physicians and Dentists for over thirty years. Use it daily when you brush your teeth and any time "Unclean Taste" assails. Try it today—just ask your nearest druggist for "GLYCO."

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Sept. 15 (Monday.)—The city is full of rumors tonight that the Uruguayan authorities have discovered an incipient revolutionary plot, attributed to Nationalist party leaders.

BY HAROLD TATAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 14.—Gen. Jose Uriburu, head of the provisional government of Argentina, broadcast an address to the people of the United States this evening in response to requests that he explain the motives behind the recent one day revolution and the aims of the provisional government. He said his government sought friendly relations with all nations in the western hemisphere.

"The government which has fallen was thoroughly execrated by public opinion because it had reduced the institutions of the country to a state of chaos and ruined the morale of public functionaries," he continued. "The country though aware of the state of things required spurring into action. A group of patriots has done the necessary thing and has now taken the reins of power by the will of the people, the army and the navy."

Promises Election Soon.

"The Supreme court of the nation hastened to recognize us while all national and foreign chambers of commerce, shipping, railroad, and other entities have spontaneously given us support. The bankers have offered us a 100,000,000 pesos (about $36,810,000) loan, leaving us to fix the rate of interest.

"We intend to fulfill our promise to return the country to normal life as soon as possible in order that the people may elect their own representatives according to the constitution."

Quickly Forget Revolt.

The citizens of Buenos Aires have resumed normal activities and today enjoyed themselves as if nothing had happened. The provisional government is proceeding with cleaning up government departments and has ordered a large number of additional arrests, including that of Modesto Pizarro, who was federal intervenor in the province of San Juan.

There is some talk that the government will ask Uruguay for the extradition of former Foreign Minister Horacio Oyhanarte, who is accused of graft.

MILITARY JUNTA RULING BOLIVIA

Roy Atkinson, Masonic Leader, Dies in Auto Crash

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Roy Atkinson, widely known in Illinois musical and Masonic activities, died tonight of a skull fracture received in an auto accident today. Atkinson, driving a car carrying his mother, Mrs. Catherine Atkinson, 84, and Miss Frances Berry, was thrown out of the automobile when it skidded and crashed into an electric transmission line pole at Leroy, near here. Mrs. Atkinson is reported near death in her home. Miss Berry was slightly injured.

BOMBS, TEAR GAS KILL 2, WOUND 15 IN WARSAW RIOT

BY H. NOWINSKI.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 14.—One civilian and one policeman were killed today and five policemen and ten civilians wounded in a street battle between the members of the Socialist Defense league and the police. The fight was staged on Aleja Ujasdowska street, the thoroughfare where the American embassy and other foreign legations are located.

Following a meeting of 4,000 opponents of Marshal Josef Pilsudski, the prime minister, at which resolutions were passed against the dictator for his imprisonment of 18 former deputies last week, the crowd decided to stage a demonstration in the main streets of the capital despite police opposition.

Hurl Hand Grenades.

When the crowd reached the French embassy the police made efforts to disperse the people. The Socialists then started to throw hand grenades.

A panic ensued and the crowds rushed into all the available nearby buildings to avoid the tear gas bombs which the police hurled. Then from their shelters some of the demonstrators began to fire at the police.

Mounted police reënforcements arrived and after repeated charges succeeded in restoring order. One hundred and fifty arrests were made.

Also Battle in Provinces.

Outbreaks of violence were reported today from all over Poland. Seven persons were wounded and many arrests made at Radom when crowds attacked the police. There were other outbreaks at Katowice, Czenstrochowa, Pozan, and Torun. Some 20 more casualties were reported from these cities.

The Socialists and the communists were deeply stirred when Marshal Pilsudski on Sept. 10 suddenly clapped into jail former Premier Wittos and 17 former deputies. His political opponents claim that he is trying to paralyze their chances at the national elections on Nov. 16. An appeal to the minister of justice to declare the arrests illegal, since they were made without court order, failed. The minister replied that his hands were tied, the arrests having been made by a higher authority.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Maj. Charles M. Stedman, veteran representative in congress from North Carolina, today was reported "resting comfortably" in the hospital where he was taken after being stricken with apoplexy last week. His condition still is precarious, however, and physicians declined to predict the outcome of his illness. Stedman, the only civil war veteran remaining in congress, has served the fifth district of his state as a Democrat for twenty years. He is 89 years old.

Fire 200 British Cops from Holy Land Police as Unfit

JERUSALEM, Sept. 14.—Unfitness or dissatisfaction with conditions is causing the dismissal or resignation of 200 British policemen. Some were found guilty of theft, drunkenness, and assault. The men are part of the 600 enrolled in England after the Arab riots last year. The Palestine police chief, Mavrogadato, is leaving this week for England to find others.

PLANS 15 HOUR CHICAGO TO N. Y. TRAIN SERVICE

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Railway running time between New York and Chicago can be cut from twenty to fourteen or fifteen hours by the construction of a new main line between Youngstown, O., and Easton, Pa., a distance of about 300 miles, according to Leonor Fresnel Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, and former president of the Rock Island, the B. & O., and high official of several other of the leading railroads in the United States. Rights to construct this line, forming a "Y" with the Easton-Pittsburgh railway, will be decided by the interstate commerce commission this autumn, as briefs on the case are on file with only oral arguments to be heard.

"My scheme is a revision of the old Harriman project for the New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago railroad, the Easton-Pittsburgh section being 288 miles long, and cutting 75 miles from the present shortest route between New York and Pittsburgh," Mr. Loree said. "A line to Youngstown, from a point in Pennsylvania on the Easton projected railroad, would reduce the grade traversing the Alleghany mountains by more than 600 feet and shorten the direct line between New York and Chicago by 100 miles to something under 800 miles.

Line Already Arranged.

"Some tunneling would be required, but that represents no difficulties. The problem of ventilation can be overcome through air blowers such as are used by the English railway under the Severn, or in the vehicular tubes under the Hudson river.

"Such a line would be built for modern heavy trains and for high speed passenger service, with curves and grades eliminated as much as possible. The line has already been surveyed. For connections with New York at Easton, there are the Lehigh Valley, Jersey Central and Lackawanna railroads available, and for connections with Chicago from Youngstown, there are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, and Nickel Plate systems.

"The Chicago-New York run could be covered in 14 hours, at an average speed of 57 miles an hour, or in 15 hours at about 53 miles an hour."

Mr. and Mrs. Loree, who have been touring Europe for the last two months, sailed yesterday from Cherbourg in the new Empress of Australia, returning to New York via Quebec.

Said Plan Would Boost Fare.

"Years ago I said that train service over existing lines might be operated between New York and Chicago in 15 hours," said Mr. Loree. "However, such a fast schedule interferes so heavily with freight movements along the main lines of the big systems that it is unprofitable. It could not be operated today economically at existing rates. There would have to be important increase in the fare to warrant the sidetracking of so much freight to give such a fast train the necessary right of way."

Elimination of stations, Mr. Loree believes will be realized in the next ten or twenty years.

"There are 90,000 railroad stations in the United States and I believe that about 20,000 will eventually be suppressed," he said. "Stations were placed at an average of about five miles apart along the various railways 30 years ago when constructed. Those were the days of dirt roads and horse drawn vehicles. Today, with metal roads and automobiles, a station ten miles away is more convenient and more quickly reached than one two miles away was in the old days."

American Railways Best.

Dazzle statements of the allied and American experts, who drafted the Young plan in 1926, that Germany possesses the finest railway system, Mr. Loree believes that American railways are best.

"The Young plan experts examined the Reichsbahn when it was at its best," he pointed out. In the first place Germany was required to surrender a huge amount of locomotives and rolling stock to the allies at the time of the armistice. This material she immediately set to work to replenish, and she pushed her war factories to the limit in order to keep down unemployment. The German railways were practically rebuilt entirely between 1920 and 1926."

Regarding the use of steel ties on the continent, particularly in Germany, Mr. Loree stated that the wooden ties used in America are far superior.

Hero of Lithuanian History Honored by Thousands Here

Ten thousand persons, representing memberships of most of the Lithuanian societies of Cicero, participated yesterday in a festival honoring the 500th birthday anniversary of Duke Vytautas the Great, Lithuanian national hero. A picnic in Cicero park, 51st avenue and 31st street, Cicero, was preceded by a parade of floats. Addresses were delivered by A. Kalvaitis, Lithuanian consul at Chicago; Joseph V. Klenha, mayor of Cicero, and the Rev. H. J. Valciunas, chairman of the fête and pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic church, Cicero.

FRANCE RUSHES FOREIGN LEGION TO CRUSH REDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—A tacit admission of the seriousness of the situation in Indo-China, where communist agents have been fomenting a revolution among the natives, came from the government today, when the ministry for the colonies announced that a detachment of the Foreign Legion was en route to the Annam peninsula.

The legionnaires were embarked at an Algerian port and are due at Saigon in a fortnight. They are carrying full equipment, including machine gun sections and automatic rifle squads.

The decision to call in the legion marks French appreciation of the gravity of the situation, which native troops and the units already on the ground have been unable to handle. The Paris newspaper L'Humanite asserted that the native troops are unwilling to fire on their brethren even during rioting and that several detachments have mutinied, resulting in wholesale executions.

Inquiry in Mexico Bares 20 Communist Committees

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—There are 20 communist committees in Mexico City. This was revealed today by an investigation by the authorities who are handling criminal proceedings against five Reds, arrested here a month ago. One of the Reds admitted yesterday that the communists have been making an effort to establish a government of laborers and field workers.

Ends Years of Acid Stomach Agony

New Formula Acidine Brings Long Sought After Relief

Mrs. Alice Tebbetts of Lexington, Mass., after suffering acid stomach misery for years, and trying dozens of remedies which failed, was overjoyed in the relief Acidine brought her. She says, "For years and years I had suffered acid stomach and bowel trouble. Then I began taking Acidine. It brought me relief that all other medicines I took could not. It is wonderful to be free from acid, bloating of the bowels and stomach ache." End burning acid stomach, gnawing pains, before or after eating, belching, gas, bloating, heartburn, dizziness, fullness, short breath, with new formula Acidine. Acidine is entirely different from other remedies. Contains Japtase, marvelous starch digestant, which liquefies 800 times its own weight of starchy food in laboratory tests. Five other scientific ingredients relieve acid, stop gas, soothe irritated stomach lining. No other remedy contains this scientific combination to end acid stomach troubles. Introduced only last year, people who first secured it, told their friends and its use spread like wild fire. It is rapidly replacing other stomach remedies. Don't run chances of getting dangerous troubles from acidity. Get Acidine and note the prompt relief from pain and belching. Eat, drink, smoke what you want. Relief guaranteed or money refunded. Get Acidine from your druggist today or write Health Laboratories, Inc., Pittsburgh, Pa.

FEW SEE BEAUTY OF RIVER; LACKS PLEASANT BOATS

Hurley Experts Discuss Travel Outlook.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Coasting leisurely down the placid Mississippi, a cool breeze tempering the sultry vapors over the Louisiana shore to the west, Secretary of War Hurley and his party of engineers spent today in discussion of the possibilities of future passenger traffic on the river.

While their minds during this 2,000 mile river cruise have been occupied chiefly with the commercial aspects of river transportation and problems of flood control, the engineers have not been unmindful of the delights of river travel.

Army officials who have traveled throughout the world assert that nature can be seen in no better mood than on a trip down the winding Mississippi from Minnesota to Louisiana. Americans, these officials say, are missing a great experience and an opportunity to see America because of a lack of passenger steamers on the Mississippi.

Only One Fine Boat.

The government steamer Mississippi, upon which Secretary Hurley is traveling, is the only boat on the river now adapted to serve passengers who demand first class accommodations. It has large outside staterooms with bath and shower attached, white paneled salon, excellent dining room service, and broad and cool decks.

"The government, of course, will not engage in passenger traffic," said Maj. Gen. Thomas G. Ashburn, who brought the government barge line from near bankruptcy to prosperity in ten years. "But it welcomes private investment in the river."

Rich in American History.

On Secretary Hurley's trip the steamer has floated between the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Mississippi. A cross-section of the country seldom or never traveled by the motorist has been seen and the passengers have been free to study it with all the leisure that river travel affords.

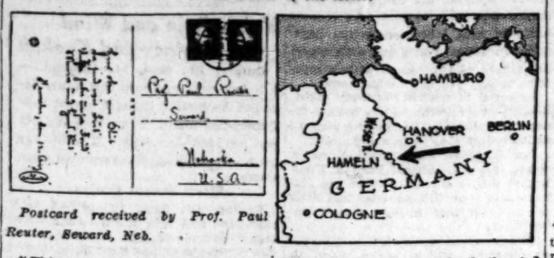
It is a region rich in the history of America. The development of the country has been inseparably bound up with the Mississippi.

1 Killed When Train Hits Stalled Automobile

Mansfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Carl Nipple, 45, of Middletown, Pa., was killed by a Wabash passenger train today when the engine of his car stalled on the track. Nipple's wife and two other occupants escaped injury.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.



Postcard received by Prof. Paul Reuter, Seward, Neb.

"This picture postcard was sent to me by my brother, the Rev. Hans Reuter, who is touring Europe this year," Prof. Reuter writes. "For more than twenty years, Dr. Reuter has been pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Birmingham, Ala.

"The card was mailed Aug. 13 from Hameln, on the River Weser, in Germany. Hameln is the German form for Hamelin, the town of Pied Piper fame. Robert Browning has helped to immortalize the well known Hamelin legend in his famous poem, 'The Pied Piper of Hamelin.'

"The incident, as related by Browning, is supposed to have occurred in the thirteenth century. As I went to school in Hamelin (I attended the Gymnasium, or Latin school, there) I know the city very well. It is located in northern Germany, on the River Weser, near Hanover, the home of Von Hindenburg. The population is about 25,000.

"The rat is the symbol of the city, or, I should say, the old town. You see them everywhere—hundreds of them on the façade of the Pied Piper house, hundreds of them on the Pied Piper fountain. You buy souvenirs—you will surely buy one or two rats, if nothing else. You go into a bakery, and you will surely see bakery goods in the form of rats, candy in the form of rats. You buy picture postcards, most of which have figures of rats represented on them."

SUPERIOR AND CIRCUIT COURTS OPEN TODAY; 50,000 CASES AHEAD

More than 50,000 cases await the opening today of the civil branches of the Superior and Circuit courts. To relieve the congested condition of the docket, partly brought about by the death of six judges during the last year, five county judges have been called by the Superior court to sit through the term.

Several of the 15,000 divorce cases on the dockets have been pending for years. In order to dispense with such old cases in which the complainant no longer desires to press a trial, a new system will be invoked, it is planned.

Any one wishing a speedy trial must serve notice, under this plan, and if the other party to the suit does not wish to go to trial, his objection will be heard by a designated judge. If that judge finds a continuance would be unjustifiable, the case will be assigned for trial at once.

Hit by Stray Bullet as He Waits for Street Car

John Mure, 48 years old, 819 North Homan avenue, was struck in the right hip by a bullet early this morning as he was waiting for a street car at Halsted and Lake streets. He was taken to the county hospital, where he told the police that he had not heard the shot fired and had no enemies who would shoot at him. The wound was attributed to a stray bullet from some reveler's gun.

PARADE NARCOTIC RAID PRISONERS BEFORE SHOWUP

Thirty-two prisoners seized in apartments of the Surf Ridge and Lurbana hotels Saturday night when police raided the apartments for narcotics were paraded at a detective bureau showup yesterday.

One of the prisoners, John Mortimer, 26 years old, was pointed out by Mrs. Gladys Mehan, 209 Kedzie street, Evanston, as resembling one of the bandits who robbed her of jewelry in Evanston recently. Other members of Mrs. Mehan's party will confront Mortimer later.

William H. Mehl, 6700 South Halsted street, clerk in the drug store of Willis Fiddelke, shot to death last week by robbers who found only $40 in the pharmacy cash drawer, said Mortimer resembled Fiddelke's slayer, but could not positively identify him.

LOW MISSISSIPPI LIKE GOOSE POND IN QUINCY AREA

Ferry That Sank 75 Years Ago Visible Again.

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—"It's bone dry; the Mississippi is now the lowest in years. Go over on the nonsinkable steel hull ferry, see the wreck of the old ferry that sank seventy-five years ago. See the devil's finger dykes."

The foregoing advertising has been running in a local newspaper for the last week or more. The hull of the old ferry has not been out of the water so much as it is at the present for many years.

One river man said that he never saw the river so much resemble a goose pond opposite Quincy as it does today. Never before have sand bars formed of such magnitude and with such rapidity. These sand bars reach from the Missouri side and extend toward the Illinois shore.

In the south Quincy drainage canal thousands of pounds of fish have been removed and tons of dead fish have been taken out and buried. As a rule this drainage ditch affords ample depth for the fish, but the low stage of the river has made it impossible for these fish to survive and aside from the tons that have been taken out and buried fifteen to twenty tons have been removed and placed in the Mississippi river. This has never happend before when the river has been at low stages.

The river at Keokuk is below low water mark, while at St. Paul it registers minus and all along the river new low marks are being made. The stage of the Illinois river has been much better since the diversion of water through the Chicago drainage canal. River men declare that twice as much water could be diverted and it would be a godsend to the Mississippi below Grafton.

Steam barge lines continue to make their way slowly up and down the river, but all are many hours behind schedule. From Grafton to St. Louis river navigation has been greatly augmented by the additional flow from Lake Michigan.

NEW GIGANTIC POWER PROJECT FOR WEST TO GET U. S. ATTENTION

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Another governmental power and irrigation project representing a larger expenditure than Boulder dam is to receive the study of engineers of the reclamation service of the interior department.

Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, announced today that he has assigned H. W. Bashore to take charge of a survey of possibilities in the huge Columbia river basin project in the state of Washington whose promoters have been championing before congress for several years. The survey will be financed by a special appropriation of $50,000 voted by congress in the last session.

Although farm groups have been up in arms against the Columbia basin project, which it is estimated would cost 200 million or more and which would open up for development a tremendous area of new agricultural land, its backers are preparing for a new drive to obtain federal support for the scheme as soon as the reclamation service survey is completed.

BRITISH TAXES FORCE BARONESS TO SELL HORSES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Another instance of the increasing burden of taxation on British nobility is afforded by the announcement of Baroness Wentworth, famous breeder of Arab horses and owner of the renowned "Crabbet Arabian stud," who is compelled to offer the stud for sale.

The decision follows a recent announcement of similar retrenchment by Lord Derby and other owners of blood stock.

The Crabbet Arabian stud goes back a couple of hundred years. The baroness said tonight that offers are being considered for the whole stud, if any one is prepared to keep the horses together for pure breeding purposes. The baroness has made no estimate of the stud's value because of the unknown selling prices of several valuable stallions.

How Old Are You?

When Will You Be 42?

Today You Say—And That Is That—But Tell Me, Are You Very Fat?

Well, if you are—it's probably your own fault—you don't know how to eat right, and that's one reason.

If you would like to learn how to lose the fat you hate—and no one else likes—do as I did—take this 30 day test:

Eat anything else you feel like eating, but moderately—lean meat—fish—chicken—vegetables and fruit are best.

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts—in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—follow this advice. One woman lost 19 pounds in 4 weeks—another got rid of 47 pounds in 3 months—a New York woman lost 14 pounds with one bottle of Kruschen and is full of vim and pep, so she writes—

At any drug store in the world you can get these magic salts—one 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Ask for Kruschen Salts—an enemy to Fat.

KIDNAPED IOWAN SET FREE; PAYS $10,000 RANSOM

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 14.—(AP)—James Sheridan, retired Des Moines business man, whose abduction Sept. 2 has furnished police and underworld characters of two states with a mystery, today returned to his home.

Released to friends Saturday night Sheridan was driven to Des Moines today from Illinois, after paying ransom estimated at $10,000 to a kidnaping.

For Sheridan the abduction was a closed incident. Sheriff Park A. Findlay, to whose efforts to trace the kidnapers in four Illinois cities had little to say other than that he plans to investigate.

The payment of ransom terminated negotiations which began Sept. 4, when a messenger was sent to Des Moines, with a note penned by Sheridan in which he directed that $50,000 ransom be paid for his release.

While those who negotiated Sheridan's return have not revealed the name of the city where he gained his freedom, it was said to have been Galesburg, Ill.

Abduction of Sheridan was the fifty-ninth in the country this year, police records show.

Heavy Rain and Wind Hit Quincy and Keokuk

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—A heavy wind and rain storm, accompanied by terrific thunder, swept over Quincy last night. For a time the city was without electricity. Keokuk was hit hard and crops in the vicinity laid waste.

Storm Sweeps Canton.

Canton, Ill., Sept. 14.—(AP)—A terrific wind and rain storm struck here today, causing extensive damage to power, telephone, and light lines. More than an inch of rain fell. In the rural districts roofs were torn from buildings. Standing corn was damaged. Less than two inches of rain had fallen here since June.

KASKEL KASKEL DUNLAP

The crashing of cymbals—the banging of drums may mark the advent of the new hat styles for men. But there is no such fan-fare for the introduction of hat styles for gentlemen. Their preference is for the quiet, simple dignity that forever marks good taste. These conservative young business men purchasers who prefer to pay about ten dollars for a hat but demand for the price the maximum of correct style and fine quality, find a true ideal in Dunlap Hats.

BRITAIN DRINKING LESS UNDER ITS LICENSE SYSTEM

Intoxication on Decline, Survey Shows.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Great Britain's liquor licensing system has steadily diminished drinking and promoted temperance without coercion or undue pressure, according to the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment shown in a report of a survey of conditions in that country made public today.

The association sent a representative to Great Britain in 1929 to study the licensing system. The results of that inquiry, which lasted three months, were given in the report. They were summarized as follows:

1. A rapid and steady decline in intoxication over a period of years; in the latest record convictions dropped from 188,877 in 1913 to 65,166 in 1927, and 55,612 in 1928.

2. The annual "drink bill" has declined from 469,700,000 pounds [$2,285,-795,056] in 1920 to 288,200,000 pounds [$1,402,525,300] in 1928.

Less Spirits Consumed.

3. Consumption of spirits has declined from 31,660,000 gallons in 1914 to 12,681,000 in 1927; beer has gone down from 34,130,000 barrels to 20,-819,000 in the same period; wine has risen from 10,630,000 gallons to 16,-462,000.

4. The number of public houses has been reduced, through a scheme of buying out licensees with funds paid in by "the trade," from 99,478 in 1905 to 78,893 in 1928, and this continuing process is accompanied by extensive building of model "pubs."

5. While high prices of liquor and reduced hours of sale have been important factors, the great growth of temperance is due largely to improved living conditions, recreational facilities, outdoor sports, and popular education.

No "Harsh" Measures.

Noteworthy feature of the English liquor system, according to the wet association's report, is that it "has established such impressive results without resort to harsh or unjust measures."

"Licenses have been and are being diminished, not through confiscation but with compensation to the owners of redundant houses," the report said. "The people have not suffered from arbitrary legislation."

Coincident with publication of the British liquor system report by the association Against the Prohibition Amendment, Dr. F. W. Buck, executive of the Federal Dispensary Tax Reduction league, another wet organization, announced definite plans for the convocation of an anti-prohibition convention this winter. It has been decided, he said, to hold the convention in Washington, starting Dec. 8.

Convention Is Planned.

Dr. Buck is head of a joint committee of several wet organizations which are sponsoring the convention with a view to promulgating a united plan for a liquor control system as a substitute for prohibition.

"This convention," said Dr. Buck, "must have delegates chosen by the people from each state and congressional district and they must come with open minds. Our league will pledge itself in advance to support the plan agreed upon by the majority of the delegates, and we hope all other organizations will do likewise."

NORWAY, NEARLY RUINED BY WAR, IS CLIMBING BACK

Few Are Jobless, and Business Picks Up.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OSLO, Sept. 14.—Norway, which was once the Cinderella of the north and which suffered more than any neutral nation from the world war, is steadily recovering prosperity and is not affected by the world economic crisis, according to P. Lund, finance minister.

The best indication of a steady improvement of Norway's situation is the fact that the kroner has been at par for some years and that unemployment is declining at the rate of 1,000 a year, in spite of the fact that Norway is hit by Russian timber dumping and the new United States tariff, which makes exports of her pulp, paper, and canned fish difficult.

Only 12,000 Jobless.

Norwegian business men are not making as much money as they think they should, but they have not been compelled to close down works or throw men into idleness. According to Minister Lund, the unemployed now number only 12,000, which, he says, is not much in a population of 2,500,000.

According to Torgus Vaerland, minister of social affairs, however, this figure only covers the registered unemployed drawing official relief, and he estimates that perhaps another 5,000 or 6,000 are wholly or partially unemployed. Even this is not large in proportion to the total population, and Minister Vaerland agrees that the figures have been decreasing every year since the war.

Communism is also absent in Norway, according to Minister Lund. There is a Labor party, holding 62 seats out of a total of 150 in parliament. It has a radical program, but it is parliamentary and not revolutionary, and takes no dictation from Moscow, to which it is opposed almost as much as Norwegian capitalism.

Poverty on Decrease.

One of the best evidences of the steady improvement of Norse conditions is given by Minister Vaerland, who states that after the war there was an annual state expenditure for relief of unemployment and poverty of more than $7,800,000. This year, he said, only $1,040,000 was spent, and next year it is expected to be less. Most of the unemployment today is in the forest and timber industries, and these unemployed are expected to be absorbed when the Russian dumping is overcome and the products of Russian slave labor are shut out of the markets in the United States and western countries of Europe.

Norway has only one unsettled quarrel abroad, and that is with Russia over the exclusion of Norsemen from Franz Joseph land, which was formerly free to all the world and which is now claimed by Russia as her territory. This is compensated in a strange way by the food conditions in Russia, which make her a customer for grades of fish unable to be sold to the rest of the world, but for which the Russians are willing to pay a small price. This enables the Norse fishermen to keep busy in seasons when they would otherwise be idle.

Norway is only mildly interested in Baltic politics and there is little chance of her joining the Baltic bloc which is being formed on the south side of that sea. Her reasons are geographic. Norway is really not a Baltic power. No matter what happens in the Baltic, she has a free outlet to the west, and her great trade is done with western countries.

Norway has no common frontier with Russia and therefore is not nearly as keenly interested in the developments over the Russian border as Sweden and Finland, both of which have common frontiers and both of which might be excluded from communication with the western world by Russian hegemony of the Baltic. At the same time Norway is keenly sympathetic with the efforts of the Baltic powers to assure their safety and keep the Baltic neutral for world commerce.

GET BACK IN THE RING

Fifteen months ago business began to fall off rather sharply in many lines. Eleven months ago came the first crash in the stock market to advertise to the world that hopes had been running too high.

Some of the shrewdest men in the United States had failed to note the recession and were taken completely by surprise. Even those who foresaw a decline had no notion for the most part that it would run as far or as fast as it did. The executives of some of our strongest industries and banks were among the victims. A lot of good men were dazed in November, as any one is likely to be who has been tossed out of a fifth story window even though he lands on a haystack.

But all that was ten months ago and ten months is a long time to stay punch drunk. The decline is history. The worst is over. Business is not likely to decline further in any important branch and on the whole is definitely on the upgrade.

Business is coming back faster than business men. A lot of them are still walking around in a daze. They talk as if business had never before declined, though the business cycle is a phenomenon familiar to every schoolboy. To call them pessimistic is to flatter them, for a pessimist thinks and reasons; these men are too scared to think. Even their sense of shame has succumbed. They yammer and complain as if they were victims of unrelenting forces which they cannot even hope to understand.

This mental state is bad enough in any one but it is at its worst in salesmen. A salesman in despair gets few orders and he spreads the contagion of fear. There is a lot of unemployment these days but we suspect that a little more of it would do no harm. We are thinking of the salesman who cannot keep his woes to himself and of the salesman who does not believe that business can be found and therefore refuses to hunt for it. Courage, resourcefulness and pertinacity are the cardinal business virtues today, and they are destined to be rewarded. Men who lack these qualities are in the way.

PROHIBITION AND THE LEGION.

The state convention of the American Legion, meeting at Aurora, decided not to poll its members on the question of prohibition. The decision to sidetrack the issue was taken in view of the fact that the members of the Legion as individuals have the opportunity to vote in the state referendum this fall. The officers of the Legion seem to have felt, too, that a vote of the Legion for repeal might weaken the influence of the organization with the present dry majority in congress, to which appeals for veteran relief must be made.

There is force in these arguments, but we are inclined to agree with the minority in the convention that the Legion has a direct concern with prohibition and its voice on it should be heard. The eighteenth amendment was as definitely an outgrowth of the war as is the national debt. The amendment was adopted long before the war hysteria had disappeared and when many thousands of men who now belong to the Legion were either absent from the country or were still out of touch with civilian affairs after many months in uniform. As veterans they are justified in thinking that prohibition was put over on them and on the country. The strength of this sentiment is evidenced by the fact that, despite strong efforts to keep the subject in the background, the Veterans of Foreign Wars in convention recently in Baltimore and the Legion in New York have both gone on record as favoring repeal by overwhelming majorities.

INTERSECTIONAL CONTESTS.

While faculties complain, the young men of college age become more mobilized. From state to state they move to carry contest to some distant school, and football, basket ball and track, debate and singing, oratory and religion, fraternity and Y. M. C. A. and military and naval training pull them away more frequently to remote regions. With expenses paid, with virtue and enthusiasm upon them, the young men, and sometimes the girls, become intersectional ambassadors. They carry back and forth a national acquaintance and they come to know America better than before.

Though the practice is disrupting in an orderly curriculum, the growth of intersectional exchange is probably of value, and extension of it to more students for their regular college work and to teachers would add further to our educational maturity. To our social life it gives solidarity. To education it gives liberalism and a broader tolerance of strange ideas and people.

In the exchange of students over various geographies there is more educational value, perhaps, than in classroom drill. An adjustment of the college system to increased exchange would no doubt be of service all around. The European method of moving from university to university has advantages that America should not lose.

THE WEST SIDE AND THE LAKE FRONT.

If Lake Michigan cannot go to the great west side, the west side, it would seem, should take steps to go to Lake Michigan. With will and statesmanship enough the lake and most of its advantages can be made accessible to people west of Halsted street as far as the Mississippi river. Though a 16 foot tunnel will carry some of Michigan's blue waters as far as the city limits an elevated highway or so would carry more of the west side to the lake shore. Through highways of great capacity should connect the lake with the west side of Chicago and with the western areas of Illinois and Wisconsin. When inland dwellers want these highways enough they can get them.

Over inland property the lake shore has every advantage. There is climate and open water bathing and yachting. There is water for transportation and for boilers and condensers. There are uninterrupted roads for automobiles. There is beauty and quiet. But lakeside advantages should not be restricted to those who live nearby. They can be made available to all through elevated highways.

Our highway system, extensive as it seems, is primitive and crude compared with present and future needs. In Chicago alone there are now 415,000 automobiles. By 1950 there will be no doubt more than 640,000 automobiles. But the highways of the region are not adequate to 200,000 automobiles. Great trunk highways must be built for fast, through traffic, with separated crossings and a scientific feeder system. Among them should be through roads to the lake. The "Drang nach Oesten" of the great west side needs roads to drang on.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WORLD?

The Potomac synod of the Reformed Church in America announces the solution of the problem of unemployment. What is needed is an economic system "to serve human needs rather than grind out profits for a privileged few."

This is handsome and it is perhaps ungrateful to ask for further specifications, but it would be instructive to know just what the reverend gentlemen propose as a substitute. Our economic system may fall far short of perfection, but at least it has served mankind better than any other economic system ever employed anywhere, and in saying that we are not overlooking the gloomy present. Contemporary capitalism in America has provided more goods and a wider distribution of goods than the world has ever known. It has rewarded most handsomely those individuals who found the widest markets for their products, which is to say those individuals whose "grinding out of profits" benefited the largest number of their fellow men. All these things it has done while greatly reducing individual drudgery and the pain of hard labor.

Perhaps the gentlemen of the synod will take the position that it is not enough to supply vacuum cleaners, X-ray apparatus, candy bars, and automobiles, which only fill material needs as distinguished from "human needs." Unfortunately it is only the material needs with which an economic system is concerned. It can hardly be held liable for failure to satisfy the spiritual cravings of men. That happens to be the business of the churches, among others.

BABIES IN RHINELAND.

On the roll of post-war babies born out of wedlock in the Rhineland Americans will look with feelings somewhat mixed and uncertain. As published by the French "Candide" it shows a great preponderance of parenthood attributed to Yankee fathers, and, though the list well may be incorrect, the figures are at least interesting. Americans were responsible for 1,851 babies; the English for 988; the French, 767; the Belgian, 199; Negro, 15; and unknown, 21. During an occupation of three years with 5,000 men the Americans produced more babies than the French produced with 80,000 men during an occupation of twelve years, according to these figures. The causes of this difference, if the difference be true, are doubtless mixed and varied, but the mere civilian who looks upon the list will probably find his criticism of the Yankee soldier tempered somewhat with awe.

Babies in Rhineland are the inevitable fruit of military occupation, and if Yankees were the parents of the most of them the reasons must be strong. Perhaps the Yankees had more money, or perhaps their sense of rectitude was less; perhaps they were less used to measures of prevention or perhaps the Germans liked them better. In any case the surplus babies of the Rhineland seem to be due to young America, unless it be—and this is always probable—that the figures are not true.

What can be done about the matter is a confusing question, but certainly the United States government, the official father of these children in a sense, should hold itself responsible for their welfare. If Uncle Sam's men will sow wild oats, and it is often done, it may be that Uncle Sam himself should reap them.

Editorial of the Day

[New York Evening Post]

We are afraid that Mrs. McCormick's "shadowing" of Senator Nye will not help her chances of not being barred by the senate, should she be victor over James Hamilton Lewis in Illinois. Senators do not like to be followed by detectives. It appears to them as an invasion of the rights of their holy mightiness. Mr. Nye himself speaks of it mildly as being "shoddy, scabby, unprincipled, and unconscionable." Nor is it entirely within the amenities. Yet, taken as a fighting move by Mark Hanna's daughter, it has its exculpatory aspects. In the first place, the "investigation" of the McCormick campaign by the Nye committee takes on some of the appearance of a persecution. It is openly charged that, with some thirty other senatorial contests to look into, the committee has spent on the McCormick case alone about $50,000 of its $100,000 appropriation; at least one of its "operatives" was accused of being an ex-agent of the Ku Klux; Mrs. McCormick's office was certainly broken into and her records searched. One does not blame her for "fighting back." Also, from the public's standpoint it is highly doubtful whether the senate has any legal warrant whatever for thus intruding into the domestic primaries of a sovereign state. It is feeling its oats on "investigations." It finds that most of its successful dramatics in the last few years have taken that form. It is riding high and seizing powers the title to which is extremely dubious. Perhaps Mrs. McCormick's campaign of reprisal may slow down this new embodiment of senatorial arrogance.

ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE.

FATAL accidents have taken the high place formerly occupied by contagious diseases on the graded roll of causes of death. As smallpox vanishes and other forms of contagion become a memory accidents work overtime to keep the death rate up. We think of contagion as being preventable, but we forget that accidents are also unnecessary. This is proved by the decrease in railroad and factory accidents in the period in which highway and household accidents were on the increase. The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs has a committee on safety which devotes especial attention to highway accidents. This committee circulates a card on which is printed the following slogans:

The modern ABC—Always Be Careful.
A little care makes mishaps rare.
The chance taker is the accident maker.
Educate, organize, supervise, and conquer carelessness.
A fool there was and he took a chance—They carried him off in an ambulance.
Pull together. In preventing accidents everybody counts.
Every mother's plea—Drive safely.
Frequent inspection prevents accidents—tighten that loose part today.
Jay walking is a short cut to the hospital.
Every time is train time at a grade crossing—Stop, Look, and Live!
Brake inspection is your protection.
Better prevent than to lament.
"Therefore all things whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." (Matt. vii:12.)

Mrs. Graham of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs says this biblical rule is the best traffic law ever written.

VARICOSE TREATMENT.

S. E. writes:

1. I am a man 22 and have been bothered with varicose for three years now. My work is such that I must stand on my feet all day. Is there any cure?

2. I have heard that there are certain injections which may relieve, but they will later cause the veins to become clotted. Is there any truth in this?

REPLY.

1. Yes.

2. Cure by injection is the safest, most convenient, and most reliable method. Any kind of cure may go wrong or fail to be permanent, but the record of the injection method in this particular is comparatively good. Not all cases need to be cured.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Mrs. J. P. writes: 1. What are the symptoms of infantile paralysis?

2. Is it contagious?

3. If a child is cured does it leave any after effects?

REPLY.

1. The first symptoms are fever, some digestive disturbance, and light pains in the arms and legs. A baby with beginning infantile paralysis does not like to be held in his mother's lap. Bending his back causes pain. Weakness of muscles comes later, and wasting of muscles still later.

2. Yes.

3. The great majority of cases get well with no paralysis or wasting. Some get well but with wasted muscles.

SOURCE OF VITAMIN B.

E. M. M. writes:

1. Will you please list some good sources of vitamin B?

2. Does the word "Kahn" in medical parlance refer to a certain type of blood test?

REPLY.

1. Wheat germ, whole wheat, cereals, crackers, and breads containing these; yeast; lettuce and other greens and salads.

2. The Kahn is a blood test similar to and often preferred over the Wasserman. It bears the name of a professor at the University of Michigan who is also associated with the Michigan health department.

GET PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

L. K. writes:

1. I am afflicted with tuberculosis but am in pretty good condition. Would you advise me to go bathing? I cannot swim but love to wade in the water.

2. Is salt water harmful?

REPLY.

1. Not without your physician's definite consent.

2. Whether the water is salt or fresh is of no importance.

REPAIR OR RAZE.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[Friend of the People.]—On the corner of Montrose and Whipple are two very dilapidated buildings. They are ready to fall and are very dangerous to children playing around and to passers. One massive post has already fallen and almost killed a woman. H. C.

The two buildings located on Montrose avenue, an old brick church and frame pastor's residence, have been vacant for some time and damaged by vandals. Owner was notified to either take down buildings or board shem up. The buildings were boarded up, but are again open, and we are again notifying the owner to keep buildings boarded up or wreck same.

CHRISTIAN P. PASCHEN,
Commissioner of Buildings.

DAUGHTER SLIGHTED IN WILL.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If a mother makes a will naming her grandchildren as beneficiaries and has a daughter living, is there any way of the daughter getting the estate? 2. Will court proceedings be necessary? E. M.

1. Not unless the will can be set aside on grounds such as undue influence or lack of testamentary capacity. 2. Probate can be dispensed with in some cases.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TWO DUGOUTS REPAIRED.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—[Friend of the People.]—Several weeks ago the street in front of my home was torn up for some reason. There are two big holes, one on each side of the street, and when cars or trucks pass over these holes it shakes the whole house. R. A.

Concrete base has been relaid in the cuts made on permit D-91155 on North Kedvale avenue and the asphalt top repairs will be made soon.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

ROMANCE.

Romance is dead, they say—the worldly wise—
And show impatience with our dreams and songs;
They say each jolly to that age belongs
Which was the "golden" to illusioned eyes.
Romance is dead? When over land and sea
Man-birds are flying, seeking distant goals?
When daring science scans the skyey shoals,
And brings to light the stars' consistency?
Romance is dead? When over air-waves run
Unnumbered songs and messages of cheer?
When in a moment nations are brought near
And by a word the thoughts of earth are one?
Forget the midnight of the hoary past;

THOMAS CURTIS CLARK.

NOT EVERY ONE in Chicago, of course, but a majority of its population is following with tense interest the effort of the Cubs to win a second successive National league pennant. Such enthusiasm may seem trivial, unworthwhile, to a sober-minded minority. Probably it is trivial gauged by such world developments as are taking place in aviation, radio, and television. But this Line thinks it well worth while as a diverting thought from the more serious problems confronting most of us in our work and battle for existence. Without enthusiasm, life is drab. If a baseball pennant race can furnish enthusiasm, let it be a baseball pennant race. If not, let it be something else. Enthusiasm, partisanship, interest, whatever term we apply, are essential ingredients to our usefulness.

"IT'S AN OLD SPANISH CUSTOM."

Harve: Complaint has been made to the International Postal union by stamp dealers that the Spanish postal department is subject to wholesale arrest for sending "obscene matter through the mail." The artist Goya was honored by issuance of a stamp depicting a nude, objected to by mothers with juvenile stamp collectors.

"HAVE A HEART."

Wake-Line: The credit manager of a large partial payment plan house came into the office last Monday morning with a "Have a Heart" tag dangling from his coat lapel. He was unable to understand the suppressed murmur of amusement which greeted his appearance. J. A.

This Wake-Line Is Conducted By Harvey T. Woodruff. Help! Help!

THE WAKE-LINE awaits with interest the experiment of a local theater to provide reserved seats for high class "talkies" productions. The scheme calls for one performance afternoons and one performance evenings with top prices of $1.50 afternoons and $2.50 evenings. One objection to movies by many is the not unusual "wait" to secure admission. Whether that objection outweighs the higher admission charge remains to be seen.

Once we were present when a business man asked a Balaban & Katz official why that progressive firm did not have a reserved seat section with higher prices. The amusement purveyor answered positively that the uniform admission price and "first come, first served" policy was the attendance magnet of movie theaters. Movie enterprises draw the bulk of their revenue from the masses, not the classes.

THE NEW DRESS.

My new dress started out to be
Dull and brown and quiet;
But it had personality
And wanted me to buy it.
So halfway up one side, it smiled
An orange grin of glee.
It knew that merriment beguiled
Staid business girls like me.

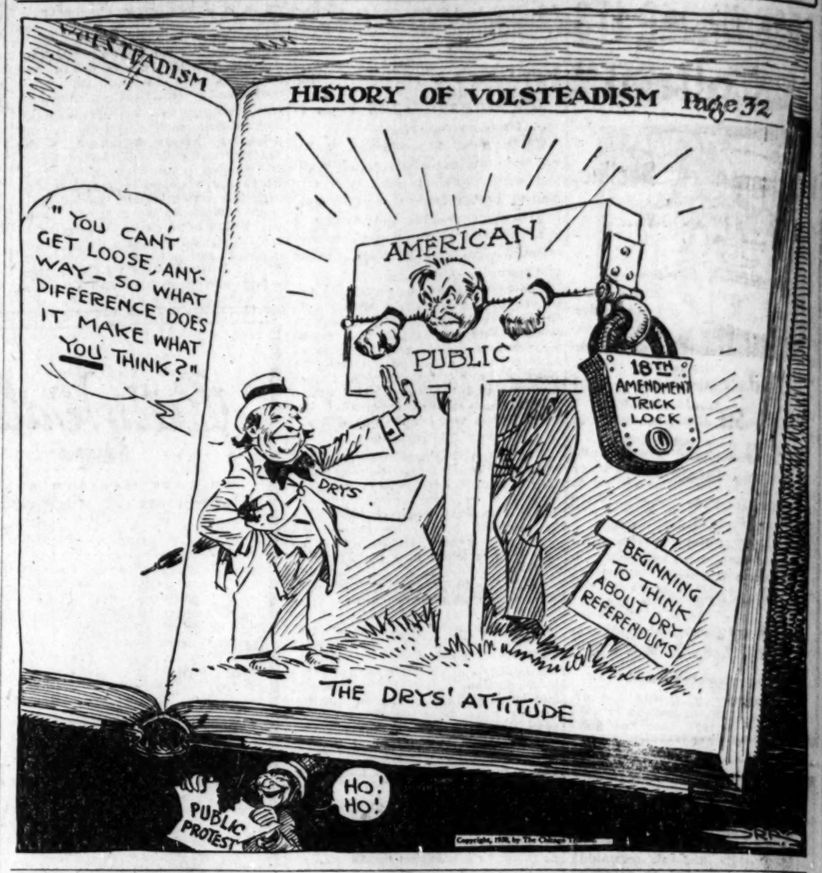
PROHIBITION



FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 15, 1914.

LONDON.—The Times says: "It is reported that Maubeuge has been relieved and that 12,000 Germans were taken prisoners." Maubuege is on the Sambre river near the Belgian frontier.

BERLIN.—[By wireless to Sayville, L. I.]—German headquarters gave out the following official report: "The German crown prince has captured the enemy's fortified position southwest of Verdun and is now bombarding with heavy artillery the outer forts lying to the south. A battle is in progress between the River Marne over a front stretching from Nanteuil in the west, where the English forces are, to Vitry. The crown prince's army is separated from the main battle by the forest of Argonne."

PARIS.—The main army of the Germans has halted its retreat in a strongly entrenched position on the River Aisne and is prepared to give battle to the advancing allies. It is possible the battle already has begun. The German center may have been joined by the army under Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, which earlier in the day was reported trapped near Verdun. It now appears that he retreated to a point near the Aisne.

PETROGRAD.—Continued Russian successes against Austria-Hungary and a retreat of the czar's forces in East Prussia were announced by the war department. The retreat before the German forces is said to be a well laid trap to ensnare the Germans in that territory and place them in a position where they cannot interpose opposition to the Russian advance through Silesia, the most direct road to Berlin.

LONDON.—All doubt that Russian troops in great force have passed through Great Britain to the battlefields of France was removed tonight when the Cardiff Evening News published the statement of a Welsh engineer who traveled from Archangel to Leith with 2,500 Cossacks.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 15, 1900.

GALVESTON.—Galveston will rise greater and better than ever after its disastrous storm. The activity, energy and pluck displayed today will to a certainty make this a greater city. Stores are open and women are shopping. The city is reviving under the stimulating influence of fire, lime, and carbolic acid. Lime is everywhere and more is wanted. It is estimated that 300 bodies were cremated today. Many of the Negroes who handle the bodies fell from fright and nausea.

LONDON.—According to the Lourenço Marques correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, President Kruger is virtually a prisoner in the residence of the district governor of Portuguese East Africa. This is at the instance of the British consul, who protested against Mr. Kruger using Portuguese territory as a base for directing his operations.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 15, 1865.

DES MOINES, Ia.—The contract for building a bridge, 600 feet in length, over the Des Moines river on Walnut street was signed. The bridge is to be completed by Jan. 1.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A party of English capitalists arrived here and proceeded to the Lindell hotel. They were entertained by a steam fire engine trial, the first they have seen in this country. They will be wined and dined by the merchants tonight and leave tomorrow for Chicago.

NEW YORK.—The Post's Washington correspondent says: "Officers of Richmond banks have preferred a claim for the specie captured from Jeff Davis and just brought to Washington." The money is said to amount to $100,000.

NEW YORK.—The Times Mexico City correspondent says: "There are now in this city about 40 former rebel officers, among whom may be mentioned Gens. Price, Magruder, Shelby, Wilcox, and King."

CHICAGO.—A massmeeting of workingmen was held in Witkowski hall, Clark and Monroe streets, to urge more complete trade organizations and more thorough action in favor of the "eight hour" system of labor. The Trades Assembly now comprises twenty-five unions, all large and influential and numbering in their membership the best men of the working classes.

CLEARING SKIES.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—I subscribed for all the legal newspapers about six months ago for the purpose of keeping count of the number of foreclosures in Cook county. In April they ran about sixty per day, in May they ran about fifty-five per day, in June about fifty-five per day, July, being a vacation month, they dropped to forty-five per day. Yesterday's number of foreclosure cases commenced were as follows: In the Circuit court, eleven cases; in the Superior court, five cases, being a total of sixteen.

A high official of the Chicago Title and Trust company told me that a few weeks ago their time was mostly taken up in bringing down abstracts with a view to commencing foreclosure cases. Yesterday I was told that this demand had dropped.

It occurs to me that this is the best evidence that good times are on the way. I am satisfied that the element of foreclosure is the best evidence that business will become normal within a reasonable time. I do not mean thirty days, but I do mean six months, and I particularly mean when the advertising, which comes in connection with the World's Fair, is put in the place where the buildings will stand, and also be noted in the newspapers.

There is any amount of idle money in Chicago, but the timidity of the owners of this money prevents a return to good times. This will take a few months, but it is sure to come.

WILLIAM B. AUSTIN.

CASHING A MONEY ORDER.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Today I went to the Jackson park station of the postoffice to cash a money order for $45. The clerk asked the mail carrier on my route to identify me, and as I work days and am never home at mail time he could not recognize me. I produced positive identification which had absolutely no effect on the clerk. I asked the clerk if he could suggest the proper procedure for cashing the order. His attitude told me that it would be useless to try any further, I might as well give it up as a bad job.

The neighborhood bank cashed it for me without any trouble. I cannot help comparing the desire to serve patrons as expressed by the bank with that of the postoffice. DERMOT K. FOLEY.

PURSE SNATCHING.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—If purse snatching from elevated platforms is such a common occurrence, why not a few placards placed conspicuously in each coach to warn passengers to watch their belongings? If the company cannot afford armed guards at stations, the trains should be equipped with screens at the windows. It is the fault of the elevated company for taking no action for the prevention of these robberies that these men become bold enough to make a business of crime. It seems to me the elevated company should be held responsible for such losses sustained by its patrons through lack of warning and protection. SPECTATOR.

THE FUNCTION OF THE CHURCH.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—I presume that there are many other ministers who read your editorial in last Sunday's paper which dealt with the function of the church in the city, and that many, if not most of them, agreed most heartily with the ideas therein expressed.

As Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin of the Union Theological seminary has recently declared, "Jesus is not a lawgiver but a conscience maker." If the Church of Jesus, which Jesus founded, is to be true to him, His doctrines and teachings, we, who are His disciples and apostles, must need make our main work the creating of a conscience, which in turn makes first of all public opinion and after that, of course, in the end makes law.

Democratic public opinion must always precede law making if we are to avoid law breaking. Law in a democratic country must always represent public opinion even though public opinion approves that which a large minority think evil. If the church in general will constantly concentrate on creating a social conscience we shall have no difficulty with the public opinion or with laws. NORMAN B. HARE,
Superintendent, Olivet Church.

VAGRANCY.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., Sept. 9.—After admiring THE TRIBUNE'S defense of private rights in regard to prohibition, I am rather upset to see THE TRIBUNE advocate so strenuous a destroyer of those same rights as the new vagrancy law, for certainly that law is contrary to all concepts of right, justice, and equality.

I am aware that the purpose of the vagrancy law is to put criminals behind the bars who would otherwise evade imprisonment. A fine intention, indeed, but the road to hell is still paved with good intentions. As far as that goes, the fundamental intention of prohibition is excellent.

It is extremely doubtful whether the vagrancy law will work out as intended. Any law that can be applied as generally as that law and depends for its correct application upon the police and judges is bound to be impractical. Incidentally, any vagrancy law is biting irony at a time when so many people are unable to secure jobs.]

WILLIAM L. DAY.

MILLIONS IN THE SEWER.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Is the city hall hard up again? It must be from the assessments for the new sewer in Rogers Park. The people of Chicago are used to being robbed, of course. Witness the doubling of real estate taxes a few years ago without rhyme or reason. But the citizens of Rogers Park will not stand for this latest holdup. Meetings of protest are being held everywhere and organizations formed to fight the assessment. Almost four million dollars for a few miles of sewer! My own bill is $465.35 for a fifty foot frontage.

I hereby publicly refuse to pay it and shall fight it to a finish. This new sewer must be lined with gold. Or is it only somebody's pockets that are to be so lined? It looks that way. The assessment is not legitimate taxation. It is just plain robbery.

MARY O'HARA GALLERY.

EXTENDING THE QUESTIONNAIRE.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—You are asking all legislative candidates to make a pledge that they will vote to repeal our prohibition laws if a majority vote "yes" in the so-called referendum.

Why not ask J. Ham Lewis and the other candidates to pledge themselves to vote dry if a majority vote "no" in the referendum? Will THE TRIBUNE pledge itself to dry up on the question if a majority vote "no"? I ask you. It is a poor rule that does not work both ways. R. CLARENCE BROWN.

CHARGES SOVIET USES TRADE WHIP FOR RECOGNITION

Tries to Blackmail U. S., Ex-Official Says.

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—An attempt by the Stalin régime in Russia, inspired by the Amtorg Trading corporation, the soviet commercial agency in this country, to "blackmail" the United States into recognizing the soviet government by withdrawing trade from American firms was charged today by B. W. Delgass, whose resignation as vice president of the Amtorg became known last week in dispatches from Moscow.

The dispatches stated that Mr. Delgass, who had been associated with the Amtorg for four and a half years, has been sentenced to death for resigning his position and refusing to return home. Mr. Delgass' resignation adds to hundreds of similar acts by soviet officials abroad who in recent months who have resigned their posts and refused to return to Moscow. With their faith in the ability of the soviet government to reconstruct Russia shattered, these officials have severed their relations with the Moscow régime and sought the protection of the countries where they have been stationed.

Calls It Blackmail.

Mr. Delgass today explained the reasons for his resignation and charged that the Amtorg Trading corporation, of which H. A. Bogdanov is chairman, is engaged in a policy of what he termed "blackmail" which he could not approve.

"Ever since the beginning of the financial crisis in the United States there has been a change in the policy of the Amtorg," said Mr. Delgass. "The heads of the Amtorg have taken it into their minds that because of the business depression they could squeeze American firms and get better terms. This was unwise and showed a lack of knowledge of the situation. How could a manufacturer grant better terms when he had to look for money himself? I raised my voice against this foolish attitude. Soon after, Mr. Peter A. Bogdanov came to the United States. Telegrams were sent to Moscow with the request to divert orders from the United States to other countries.

Seek to Force Recognition.

"Ardent advocates of this policy were Mr. Bogdanov himself, Mr. Markov, vice president in charge of the metallurgical and machine tools department, Mr. Konovetz, new vice president in charge of the export department, and others.

"The Amtorg persuaded the soviet government to direct orders to Europe, also with the idea that if the United States, being in a state of business depression, would be deprived of Russian orders, political recognition of the soviet régime by the American government could be forced."

THOUSANDS ATTEND THE DEDICATION OF CARBONDALE AIRPORT

Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Several thousand today saw the air circus which marked the dedication of the Carbondale airport that was taken over by the American Legion to be maintained and improved.

A score of planes took part in the air activities which included stunting and different type flying and parachute jumping.

Maj. James G. Haizlip, who won second in the second Chicago air races speed race, performed the outside loop and other stunts. The Hunters brothers, former holders of the world's endurance record, were here with the City of Chicago and the Big Ben. Maj. Richard Taylor, who is commander of the 113th observation squadron for the National Guard in the states of Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia of the 33th division, was here with three planes in command of Maj. C. A. McAlvain of Chicago.

The airport which was dedicated contains 100 acres is marked and mapped by the department of commerce. It is smooth and one of the best fields in Illinois, flyers declare.

FRIENDS FIGHT OVER WOMAN; ONE SHOT DEAD

In a quarrel last night over a married woman, Joseph Carney, 32 years old, 824 North Monticello avenue, a roofing salesman and said to be the son of a former policeman, was shot to death by his former friend, Harry Brandon, 38 years old, 5523 School street. Carney was with Mrs. Jean Marshall, estranged from her husband, in her apartment at 4326 Armitage avenue, when Brandon entered.

"You stole my woman," Mrs. Marshall quoted him as saying in her statement to Lieut. John Lahey of the Cragin police. Brandon emptied his revolver at Carney. The wounded man died en route to the Keystone hospital.

Brandon fled after the shooting and is being sought. Mrs. Marshall admitted she had formerly been friendly with him.

Family Assists Search for Two Home Robbers

Members of the family of Julius J. Janelunas, 6338 South Mozart street, yesterday examined pictures of known holdup men taken from the bureau of identification files, in an effort to identify two men who took $1,100 in jewels and $107 from them and their four guests late Saturday night. The holdup men were awaiting Janelunas and his wife, Olga, and their guests in the Janelunas living room on their return from the theater. They had chatted with the Janelunas' foster children, Victor, 16 years old, and Josephine, 12, for an hour before the elder Janelunases returned.

SERB STUDENTS CONDEMN ITALY'S EXECUTION OF 4

BELGRADE, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Police today forbade a funeral service organized by university students in memory of the four Slovenes who were executed a week ago at Trieste by the Italian government.

The students thereupon met in University hall and condemned the execution as a blow to Slovene minorities in Italy. Later they deposited a memorial of protest at the royal palace.

The executed youths, Italian citizens, but members of Slovene territory that became Italian after the war, were charged with acting against the security of the state, and with revealing information of military importance. Since then Jugo-Slavia has demonstrated in an orderly manner against the Italian action. Observers believe the executions served to unite the Croats, Serbs, and Slovenes, the three racial divisions of Jugo-Slavia.

TAKEN FOR RIDE; HE LIVES, BUT NOT TO TELL THE TALE

Tommy Thomas of East Chicago, described by the police as a still operator, was "taken for a ride" last night, but escaped after stopping one bullet, and will live. He won't talk, though.

Thomas, who last fall in federal court, was sentenced to serve six months in jail in a prohibition conspiracy case involving former Mayor Raleigh P. Hale and 200 others of East Chicago, lives at 151st and Railroad streets, in that suburb.

As far as can be learned Thomas was driving to his home from Calumet City, when his car was crowded to the curb by a sedan containing two men. One got in his car, covered him with a revolver, and the other trailed behind. After a ride of a half mile, the man with Thomas opened fire, wounding him in the right arm. Thomas leaped from the car, escaping in the darkness. His wound is not serious.

Both Pocket & Desk Pen Now in One

Any Parker Duofold Offers This Combination

SAVES PRICE OF A SECOND PEN — PEN GUARANTEED FOR LIFE

As a Pocket Pen — Same Pen Converted

Getting the Parker Duofold is now like getting two Pens at the price of one. Attaching a tapered end converts it into a Desk Set Pen. Removing the taper restores it to a Pocket Pen.

Either way, you save the price of a second pen. You have only one Pen to fill instead of two. And whether you write at your desk or on the go, you always have your favorite point.

You have a non-breakable Permanite barrel that holds 17.4% more ink than average, size for size—that is jewel-like in lustre, color, and beauty. And most of all—the famous Duofold ★bonus point that writes with Geo. S. Parker's 47th improvement—Pressureless Touch.

Even at higher prices, other makers have been unable to match this classic. Now that it takes the place of a special pen for the pocket and another for the desk, its sales are soaring beyond all previous heights.

Go and ask the nearest dealer to show how the Duofold is changed back and forth from a Pocket to a Desk Set Pen. If you own a Parker, take it with you. If not, go anyway and see this revolutionary invention.

MISSES' ENSEMBLES, SIXTH FLOOR, MIDDLE, STATE

CO-OP MANSION READY FOR N. Y. WAGE EARNERS

"Avenue" Comforts for Lower East Side.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—A long, shiny limousine nosed its way through the push carts of the lower east side, passed through streets so narrow that the overhanging fire escapes on either side seemed to merge high above to shut off the last shaft of sunshine, turned into a wider, tenement lined thoroughfare and drew to a halt.

Two men left the automobile and stood on the sidewalk surveying the drab vista.

"It will front here," said one of the men, "and it will be unlike anything else in this tumble down neighborhood."

"No profits, of course, that's taken for granted," said Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

Ready for Occupancy.

That was just a year ago. Today the first unit of an enormous coöperative dwelling house erected on that site under the direction of the state housing commission is ready for occupancy.

It is known as the Lehman-Rabinowitz development for it was their foresight and money that made it possible.

This latest east side development is not a tenement—it is a great building full of homes. It covers a square block in the most congested area in Manhattan and yet room has been found for gardens, fountains, playgrounds and even a swimming pool, supplied with pure water from the nine artesian wells on the property.

Today the landscaped inner court—a plot of 24,000 square feet—echoes to the footfalls of city employés, clerks, craftsmen, wage earners in the lower salary scale. They are the future home owners in the Lehman-Rabinowitz development.

Have Uptown Conveniences.

The eager demand for uptown conveniences—even luxuries—at low cost have demonstrated that the low income family is willing to return to the east side if decent living conditions are offered.

The price of each apartment is $500 per room, plus from $9 to $12 a room rental. The coöperative buyer puts up $150, and the Lehman-Rabinowitz organization lends the buyer the balance of $350 per room and allows him ten years to pay it back at 5 per cent interest. It gets no bonus nor dividends—nothing but the 5 per cent interest. Their only desire is to give low wage earners homes that have something more than a roof and four walls.

The rent, prospective purchasers are told, is set aside to meet maintenance costs, reduce the mortgage, pay mortgage interest, take care of land taxes—the building is tax free.

Seven New York Firemen Injured in Fighting Blaze

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Five firemen, overcome by smoke, and two others, cut by flying glass, were rescued by their comrades late this morning while fighting a fire that burned for two hours on the eleventh floor of the twelve story loft building at 11 West 19th street. The damage to the building and stocks of goods was estimated at more than $80,000.

FRENCH PROTEST AGAINST VATICAN PAPER'S STORY

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The French embassy at the holy see tonight lodged a protest with the Vatican secretary of state, Cardinal Pacelli, against publication of an alleged statement by President Doumergue that France was essentially a Catholic country. The statement was published in Saturday's edition of the Osservatore Romano, which often voices the views of the Vatican.

It said the French president, who is a Protestant, in a recent conversation with Cardinal Verdier of Paris, had stated "France is essentially a Catholic country. I am ever more persuaded of the profound Christian sentiment of our race. We are a great Catholic nation and such we should remain. Your Eminence is a representative amongst us of that immense moral force, the Catholic church. Do not hesitate to act freely, because the anti-clericalism manifested in France is only superficial."

The Osservatore Romano published the alleged statement without citing any responsible source. It is understood the French embassy is pressing for a printed denial in Monday afternoon's issue. By order of the French government, it is said here, this incident will not be reported in the French press generally.

ROB MANAGER OF BALLROOM AS DANCE GOES ON

While nine young men and women were dancing away the 2,406th hour of a marathon at the Pershing ballroom, 6400 Cottage Grove avenue, early this morning two robbers slipped into the office at the rear of the dance floor.

At pistol point they compelled the manager, George O'Hara, 7607 Kingston avenue, to open the safe and then lie down on the floor in a corner. From the safe the robbers took $1,100, the receipts for yesterday and Saturday, according to O'Hara, and walked out.

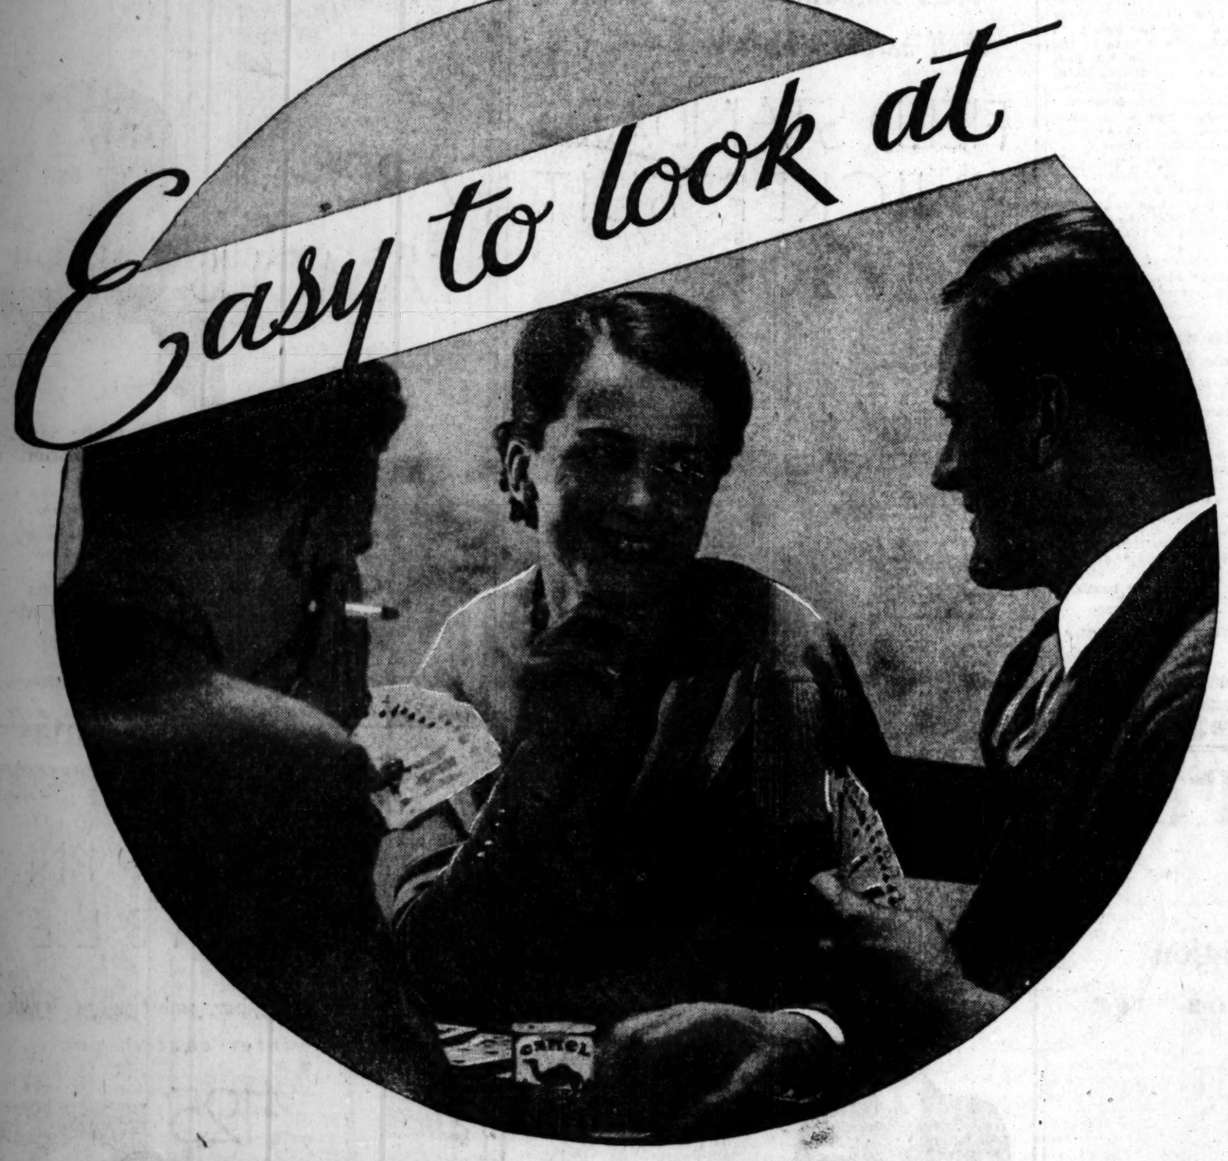
One hundred persons who were watching the dancers were unaware of the bandits' raid until policemen arrived.

Robs Garage Next Door to Detective Bureau

A daring gunman robbed the Stadium garage at 5 East 11th street early this morning, holding up the Negro attendant, James Blackburn, and escaping with $58. The garage is next door to the detective bureau.

WOMAN DROWNS HERSELF.

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Despondent over injuries sustained when struck by a truck eight months ago, Mrs. Emma Jurs, 36, of Dundee, committed suicide by drowning.



THERE'S a harmony between the natural loveliness of this modern age and the natural, mild goodness of Camels. And if you find them keeping company, don't be surprised.

Camel has given the world the luxury of a naturally mild cigarette—a cigarette that preserves all the refreshing fragrance of the choice, mild tobaccos from which it is made—a cigarette that is delightfully smooth, but never flat, never parched, never tasteless.

Modern smokers are awake to the fact that mere flatness doesn't mean mildness. That's one reason there's such a swing to Camels. Watch it right in your own crowd. Join them in Camels—a smoke that's enjoyable all the way—all the time.

CUBA DIVORCES QUICK, QUIET, EASY AND CHEAP

New Law Permits Decrees for One and All.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Sept. 14.—Under a new divorce law recently enacted, Cuba makes its bow as the new Paris and Reno of the western world, where those who wish to untie the knot that binds may do so quickly, quietly, easily—and cheaply.

To date more than a score of Americans have successfully tried the new Cuban divorce statutes, but the rush of unhappily wedded is yet in its infancy, lawyers believe.

Under the new law, one that sharply accentuates the separation of the church and state, Cuba has virtually quadrupled the original four basic grounds for divorce set forth in the first law enacted during 1889, where man and wife were forbidden to remarry after legal separation.

Divorce for Any One.

The new statute, adopted last February, sets forth fifteen grounds for divorce, many of them elaborations on the original four, with nonsupport, cruelty, desertion, cruelty to children, and others added. Briefly, the law allows a divorce to any one, Cuban or foreigner, providing the applicant can show a certificate of marriage.

The process is simple. The discontented mate has merely to board boat or train for Havana. Once there, he or she may turn over the marriage certificate to a lawyer, sail back home and in about four months obtain a decree by mail.

Cost Is $300 Per Case.

There is, according to members of the bar, no annoying scandal, no court appearance, no red tape necessary. Notice of the divorce is published in the Gaceta Oficial [Official Gazette] Spanish language government publication. The total cost of the process is estimated at an average of about $300.

Members of the Cuban bar are looking forward to a brisk business when news of the new Cuban statute reaches unhappy couples in the United States. They point out that there is nor worry over the bigamy charge that has followed many of the Mexican decrees; that Cuba is but 35 hours from New York; that Paris is across the Atlantic, and more expensive, and that even Reno has its drawbacks.

Second Anonymous Gift Is Received by Cornell

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Cornell's mysterious benefactor, who last year sent the university a cashier's check for $20,000, has made another anonymous gift. A typewritten letter signed, "L. H. Anon," containg a cashier's check for $10,000, has been received by President Livingston Farrand. This time the letter specified that the money was to be used for the engineering college.

125 FIDACS TO REACH NEW YORK TODAY; SEE PRESIDENT THURSDAY

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—The Cunard liner Lancastria, with 125 delegates to the eleventh annual congress of the Federation Interalliees des Anciens Combattants, known as the Fidac, on board, is expected to arrive tomorrow morning. The visiting notables will be welcomed down the bay by the mayor and the committee of arrangements headed by Col. William F. Deegan. They will leave the Battery on board the Macom early today. A flight of army and navy planes will join in the greeting.

Finishing touches were placed yesterday on the three day program of festivities here prior to the departure of the visitors for Washington on a special train Wednesday night. The congress will officially open Thursday in Washington and the visitors will be received by President Hoover at the White House later in the week.

Wife Held Incommunicado in Slaying of Her Husband

Mrs. Lucy Ferrini, 33 years old, who shot and killed her husband, August, in the bath room of their home at 11142 Eggleston avenue on Saturday night, yesterday was being held incommunicado at the South Chicago police station. An inquest is scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning in an undertaking establishment at 11511 South Michigan avenue. Mrs. Ferrini told the Kensington police she killed her husband in self defense.

MORE FARMERS DESERTING SOIL FOR URBAN LIFE

Movement to Cities Shown by Census Figures.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Farmers in nearly all parts of the country and in steadily increasing numbers are abandoning the soil and moving into the cities, according to 1930 farm enumeration figures partially compiled by the census bureau.

Corresponding closely with population figures which showed heavy decreases in many of the agricultural districts and heavier gains in the cities, the count of farms has further emphasized the trend in America away from agriculture and toward the pursuits of business, industry, commerce and labor in the metropolitan areas.

Farm enumerations have been completed in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, three typical farm states of the central west. In 1920 these three states had an aggregate of 631,602 farms. In 1930 this number had dropped to 578,991, a loss of 52,611 farms during the decade, despite the natural tendency toward smaller farms and more intensive cultivation as the country becomes more populous.

Desertions on Increase.

But what is considered more alarming by those who see a menace in farm desertions is the fact that the desertions in most states have increased rather than diminished during the last half of the decade covered by the census.

Between 1920 and 1925 the total farm loss in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana was 17,062, while between 1925 and 1930 the loss was 35,551. In other words, twice as many farms were abandoned in these three states during the last half of the decade than during the first half. Illinois lost approximately the same number of farms in each of the five year periods, but Wisconsin, which gained 3,858 in the first, lost 11,127 in the last. Indiana's loss also increased heavily.

Another significant feature of the farm census is that the percentage of losses is strongest in the industrial states of the east, growing smaller in proportion to the distance west of the Atlantic ocean.

Cook County's Loss Heaviest.

An analysis of the census returns from Illinois demonstrates clearly the destruction of agriculture by the expansion of the Chicago metropolitan area. Of Illinois' 102 counties Cook county sustained the heaviest decrease in the number of farms, losing 36.8 per cent. Lake county, adjacent to Cook on the north, lost 29.3 per cent and Du Page, adjacent on the west, 26.3 per cent.

Only four of the 102 counties in Illinois gained in the number of farms. These were Pulaski, which gained 3.4 per cent; Saline, 3.3 per cent; Vermilion, 1.2 per cent; and Henry .4 per cent. Menard county in 1930 had 1,033 farms, exactly the same number it had in 1920. All the other 97 counties registered decreases.

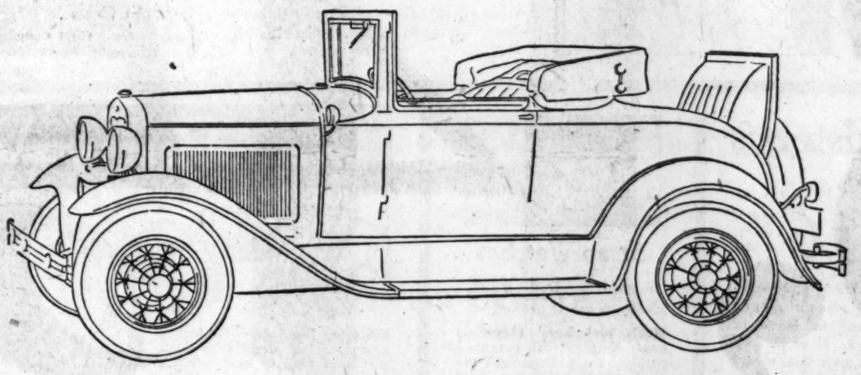
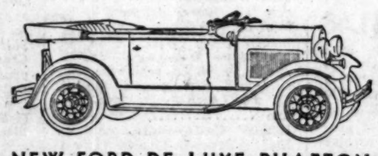
BEAUTIFUL NEW

Ford De Luxe Bodies

NOW ON DISPLAY

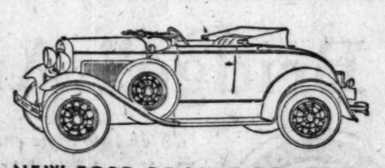


NEW FORD CABRIOLET (CONVERTIBLE)



NEW FORD DE LUXE PHAETON

Distinguished by its low, fleet lines, and attractive sport treatment. One wide door admits to front and rear seats. Driver's seat is adjustable. Upholstered in genuine leather. Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and windshield wings fold flat. Cowl lights, side fender-well, trunk rack and front and rear bumpers are standard equipment.



NEW FORD DE LUXE ROADSTER

A striking sport car. Finished in Raven Black, Washington Blue, and Stone Brown, with steel-spoke wheels in a harmonizing color. Upholstery is genuine leather. Distinctive tan top has natural wood bows. Rumble seat, cowl lights, trunk rack, side fender-well for spare wheel, and front and rear bumpers are standard equipment.

The words De Luxe are a fitting description of the beautiful new body types now on display at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Everywhere they have met with distinguished favor because of their striking lines and colors and the quiet richness of the upholstery, trimming and appointments.

These new de luxe bodies are offered in addition to the standard Ford line and include the De Luxe Roadster, De Luxe Phaeton, De Luxe Sedan, De Luxe Coupe, Town Sedan and Convertible Cabriolet.

The De Luxe Roadster and De Luxe Phaeton are upholstered in genuine Bedouin grain leather, in tan harmonizing with the swagger tops. The spare wheel is carried forward on the left. The new colors for these two types are Raven Black, Washington Blue, and Stone Brown. The wheels are finished in a complementary color. The De Luxe Sedan, De Luxe Coupe and Town Sedan are upholstered in soft luxurious mohair or Bedford cord, optional with the purchaser.

Plan to see these new de luxe bodies this week and arrange for a demonstration. You will find much to admire in their sprightly appearance and the high quality so evident in every detail.

NEW FORD TOWN SEDAN

A popular family car because of its reliability, economy and easy-riding comfort. Equipped, as are all the Ford cars, with four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers. Other features include quick acceleration, ease of control, 55 to 65 miles an hour, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, and Rustless Steel.

NEW FORD DE LUXE COUPE

Women will be quick to note the rich interior of this beautiful closed car. You may choose upholstery of brown mohair or Bedford cord. Hardware is of distinctive scroll design. Dome light and cowl lights are standard equipment. Selection in body colors includes Maroon, Kewanee Green, Chicle Drab and Black. Seat is adjustable.

NEW FORD DE LUXE SEDAN

A striking example of the rich finish that characterises all of these new Ford de luxe bodies. For upholstery you may choose either fashionable Bedford cord or luxurious mohair. Driver's seat is adjustable. Wide rear seat has a folding center arm and side arm rests. Cowl lights are standard equipment. There is a wide variety of body colors.

Fashion's Newest Recruit for Fall Has a Decided Russian Bearing

This new recruit has Cossack lineage and brings with it that swagger spirit which makes these fashions the most picturesque we've had in years. Now one sees bright embroideries that make for color contrast, button detail (which is very smart, has a definite place on these fashions). Then the tunic graces the long, statuesque lines that are the basis of modern fashion. Under this Russsian influence the silhouette may be formal or informal, but it always has a charming dignity.

Tunics in Different Versions

Sports Wisely Adapt the Short Tunic

$25

Fourth Floor, South, State.

Jeweled Tunic Frock Was Vionnet's Idea

$39.50

When the long tunic is diamented with little brilliants it has a festive formal air. This frock has that feeling. Long, graceful over a pleated skirt, the tunic is in red or soft blue with black, or two shades of green. Or this frock in all black with three colors in "jewels." Sizes for misses. Canton crepe. Sketched at center.

ROBINS LEAD LEAGUE; WIN TENTH IN ROW

SHAMROCK MAY BE ALTERED FOR 2D RACE TODAY

Enterprise Needs 3 More Victories.

Newport, R. I., Sept 14.—[Special.]—When Shamrock V. and Enterprise go out to sea tomorrow for their second race Shamrock V. may be a different boat from that of yesterday, when Enterprise, the defender, won the first race of the America's cup series. Her trim may be different.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

In yachting the contestant is a lively critter at times, but inanimate for consultation, and must be treated accordingly, so surgery must be resorted to to improve her. That is where the trim comes in.

When a yacht loses it is assumed she is too heavy or too light. Charles E. Nicholson, Shamrock's designer, decided tonight to hold a consultation on trim.

Webb to Supervise Trim.

Nothing may be done, but if an alteration is made it will be under the supervision of Prof. Harold W. Webb of Columbia university, official measurer of the New York Yacht club, custodian of the cup.

If either lead is taken out or more put in the challenger, she will be gone over at 6 a. m. tomorrow, five hours and forty minutes before the scheduled racing time, to ascertain her new waterline length. In any case, the change will not be sufficient to make her ineligible in size for the competition.

This proposed step was the only one taken by those in charge of Shamrock, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth hope in his years of cup hunting across the seas. They were anything but a dejected or discouraged lot over Enterprise's victory. They took it as a matter of fact, as little more than a lesson. One yacht must win four races to be declared the winner, they pointed out.

Race Shows Speed.

The speed of a racing yacht never can be measured except in competition. One may appear to be a witch in light or heavy airs by herself and be beaten badly in a race. The reason is that the wind and tidal currents never are exactly alike twice. Wind may be measured by an amemometer for velocity, but its weight may vary.

Shamrock came here with prizes from the fastest yachts in English waters, and Enterprise never had raced against the same boats, so there was no way to measure their ability. Now, with one cup race over, those on Shamrock feel they may make a great improvement in her as a match for Enterprise by taking a little weight out of her or putting more in. They were not decided tonight which might be better. Their thought was that if they removed lead and she did not improve tomorrow they might add some before the third race.

The contention has been made that Shamrock's big balloon jib, which buckled and almost folded up at times in the light air, was too large. However, English belief in kites is that the pull of the large one, when it does pull, is more than enough to overcome what is lost when the wind weight will not hold it out and it sags.

On Enterprise the system is the opposite. She has an assortment of balloners and spinnakers of all sizes, to use according to the conditions. She had a lightweight ballooner on her yesterday, much smaller than Shamrock's, but which pulled steadily.

Havemeyer Relieves Owner.

When Enterprise was running out into her lead yesterday, Bubbles Havemeyer was at her wheel. Skipper Harold Vanderbilt was at the helm for the start. After he had shot her over the line in the advantageous position and going faster than the challenger, he turned the wheel over to Havemeyer, who relieves him and usually sails the defender off the wind or running and reaching.

Mr. Vanderbilt watched Shamrock during that leg of the race and waited to take the wheel on the windward stretch back. He always has the racer against the wind. Just before the outer mark was reached and the wind hauled so that sheets had to be trimmed in, Mr. Vanderbilt went to the wheel. He sailed the defender around the mark and back across the finish line.

The second race, that of tomorrow, will be over a triangular course, and an endeavor will be made to make the first leg of ten miles to windward, with the second a run and the third a reach. The wind is the determining factor in course direction.

Skipper Vanderbilt was happy over his victory, but bore in mind that he has three more to acquire. Capt. Ted Heard, Shamrock's professional master, expressed confidence he could get the challenger going to ultimate success.

WILDCATS START DRILL TODAY FOR BIG 10 CAMPAIGN

Tulane First on Purple's Grid Schedule.

Football practice will get under way at Northwestern university today when Coach Dick Hanley, starting his fourth year in charge of the Wildcat squad, expects about 45 candidates to report at Dyche stadium. Two workouts a day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, will be the program during the coming week.

Despite the warm weather Coach Hanley indicated yesterday that he would start heavy drills immediately because of the proximity of the opening game with Tulane, last year's Southern conference champions.

The full back position is a big key in Hanley's offense and with Russ Bergherm, his offensive ace last year, gone, a new man must be developed. Harry Pritchard, of last year's squad, and Ernest "Pug" Rentner and "Reb" Russell, two sophomores, are the leading candidates for the job. Among the other tasks facing the Purple coach will be replacing Henry Anderson at guard and Mickey Erickson at center, both all conference selections last year. The other positions on the squad will probably be taken over by regulars from last fall.

With the exception of Jack Ryan, last year's end coach who has joined Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite at Wisconsin, the Purple coaching staff remains unchanged. Leroy (Pat) Hanley, line coach for the last three years, also will tutor the ends. Spud Lewis, former Stanford star, is back for his second year as back field coach, and Tom Stidham will assist Pat Hanley with the line. The freshman coaching staff will be headed by Maury Kent with Waldo Fisher and Yatz Levison, former Wildcat stars, and Litz Russness and Orion Stuteville.

EXPECT 53 MAROONS.

Headed by Capt. Errett Van Nice, 53 candidates for the Maroon football team will start work this morning to prepare for a heavy schedule that includes three intersectional contests and four conference games. A. A. Stagg, dean of the country's coaches, is directing the team, as he has done since the University of Chicago was founded in 1892.

Backfield prospects for the Maroons are excellent, but Coach Stagg faces a difficult task in building a line, with center and tackle as the major problems. Only seven lettermen return this season, and four of these are backs. Hard work will be necessary, because the important game with the veteran Wisconsin team comes the second week of the season.

Van Nice has returned to the Midway weighing 210 pounds, but has lost none of his speed. Van Nice is the passing hope for Stagg's famous "flanker" play, and he has developed into a good punter this season. Sam Horwitz, another letterman, has added seven pounds since last season, and now scales 175. He probably will be shifted from guard to tackle

ILLINI HAVE 57 OUT.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—With few defections expected from the original squad of 57 listed as candidates, University of Illinois football practice will open tomorrow morning.

"One job is to develop some punters, as we do not seem to have much talent in that line," said Bob Zuppke today. "Passers are also scarce, judging from spring practice."

Zup intimated that the Illini will be taught a new offense, considerably different from the double wingback formation of the last three years. One of the first searches will be for tackles. The line will be almost entirely new.

MICHIGAN STAFF UNCHANGED.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Development of Michigan's 1930 football prospects will be left in the hands of practically the same group of coaches as gave the Wolverines five victories, three Big Ten defeats, and a tie last year.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Jim Moore, only a few weeks ago rescued from a term in the minors, seems able to deliver the goods. Tossed into a sterling struggle with the veteran Alvin Crowder yesterday, the youthful White Sox pitcher polished off the second place Senators with amazing effectiveness and kept it up until a pair of hits by his co-workers drove home the run that broke up a ten inning game. The score was 2 to 1.

For getting the run needed to credit him with his second triumph in three big league starts, young Moore, who in action is the essence of coolness, can thank Johnny Watwood and the rapidly rising Carl Reynolds. After the first two men had been dropped by Crowder in the tenth and at least one more extra round appeared inevitable, Watwood hit a triple along the right field line. Reynolds was next, and having been held in check in four previous attempts, he was due. He proved it by singling between third and short to send Watwood scampering home.

Holds Senators to Six Hits.

Against Moore's smooth delivery of various items, chief of which was a well controlled hook, the Senators uncorked only six hits, four of which were recorded before anybody was out in the fourth inning. Then the lad got really serious about his assignment and breezed through to the end of the ninth without permitting anybody to reach first base. During these sessions Crowder was almost as good. Moore, however, had his biggest thrill in the tenth, when a single, a double, and an intentional pass might have caused considerable trouble if Johnny Kerr, who had just taken over the second base job, hadn't responded impressively in two successive plays.

If Moore hadn't picked a poor spot in which to grant free transportation, the Senators probably would have been denied the pleasure of their only run, which was scored in the second. The youngster handed the ticket to Cronin to start. Judge scratched a hit to Appling for the only hit of the inning. Harris moved the two runners along by bunting. Hayes offered a long fly to Barnes in center and Cronin dashed home after the catch.

It required two hits by the Sox to restore themselves to even terms in the home second. Barnes led off with a line single to center and Appling whacked a safety past Myer, putting Barnes on third. Nobody was looking, so Appling stole second. Kamm sent a fly to left, but it was so short that Barnes decided not to hike for home after the catch. Tate did a bit better. He made Manush chase back to pull down a wicked looking liner and Barnes had no trouble scoring on the play.

Sox Rally Fails in Eighth.

Watwood singled to no avail with one out in the third and nothing resulted from a double with which Judge opened the Senators' fourth. Then the long string of uneventful innings set in, all the activity being confined to a parade of would be hitters to and from the plate. Tate broke this monotony when he pried open the eighth with a single that squirted off Crowder's shin. Moore bunted and Tate beat the throw to second. Cissell tried to sacrifice in the interests of the two runners, but merely forced Tate at third. Watwood then forced

EVERYTHING'S FINE BETWEEN BUSH AND SOX FRONT OFFICE

BY ARCH WARD.

You hear a lot of reasons why the White Sox for years have been unable to climb out of the second division of the American league.

One is that the business office won't let the manager run the club. That is advanced as an explanation for the frequent shift in pilots.

Donie Bush, present manager of the south side team, ought to know something of the relations between the business office and the diamond. He is winding up his first year of service as Comiskey's field leader.

This is what Donie has to say:

"I have had no interference in the management of the club. Both Charles Comiskey and Harry Grabiner have given me every cooperation. Aside from a scarcity of victories, nobody could have had better working conditions than I have had this season. It has been my most pleasant season in the major leagues.

"Chicago is the greatest baseball town in the world. The fans, the press and the club officials have been wonderful. It's a great change from my experiences in Pittsburgh."

The only reason the White Sox are not up fighting the Athletics for the league championship is lack of players, according to Bush. Other clubs he points out, refuse to enter into trades that would give the Hose a chance to strengthen their lineup.

"One would think that a team like the Browns," Bush said, "which is losing money head over heels would be glad to sell one of their stars—say Goslin—for a good price. We could pay $200,000 for a man of that caliber and get it back in a few months by increased attendance. Chicago will patronize sport in a big way if you give the fans something to shout about. But try to put across a deal involving a box office attraction. It seems that it just can't be done.

"We need a hard hitting first baseman, a third baseman and another outfielder. Otherwise we are all set. Our pitchers and catchers next season will stack up pretty well with any club in the league.

"Lyons is one of the greatest pitchers in baseball. McKain this year showed me that he will be a winner next season. Caraway has been coming along great and I look for a lot of help from Frasier. Thomas' arm is all right."

Frasier is the Texas league hurler who was to have reported to the Sox last spring. He left the club without appearing in uniform because his wife didn't want to spend a summer in a big city. Their domestic differences have been settled, Bush stated, and Frasier will be with the club in 1931.

"We are going to try hard to complete some trades this winter," Bush said. "If we fail, we shall have to rely on minor league talent. Even if we don't make a change in our lineup, we will play better ball than we did this year. Several of my lads are improving week by week."

PURPOSE OF THE A. A. U.

Avery Brundage, who has done a great job as national president of the Amateur Athletic union, has faith in the future of the organization.

"Amateur athletics must have a controlling body," he points out. "This governing board, if it is to be of worth while influence, must include all the organizations which promote amateur sport.

"The A. A. U. meets that requirement. Its membership is made up of colleges, Y. M. C. A.'s, athletic clubs, industrial centers—any group which promotes amateur sport.

"Control of amateur athletics obviously cannot rest among the colleges, although they no doubt develop most of the good athletes. The boy denied the privilege of a college education is entitled to a chance to develop himself in his favorite sport. He gets that in A. A. U. competition.

"The A. A. U. has made its mistakes. It has had shortsighted officials as well as great ones. But the structure of the organization is basically sound. America gradually is beginning to recognize the work the A. A. U. is doing for the youth of the land."

SPENDING SUNDAY IN PHILADELPHIA AND THIRD PLACE!

What Could Be Sadder for Our Cubs?

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 14.—Sunday in Philadelphia. No movies. Static in the radio. The ice cream at the soda fountains is soft because it is wicked for the man to come and ice it on a Sabbath. Athletes sprawling about the hotel lobby but not a smile among 'em. Sunday in Philadelphia and the Cubs in third place in the National league and a doubleheader coming up tomorrow.

The foregoing is not to say, however, that all is despondency. The Cubs still think they are going to win the pennant. There is none who will say whether the pitchers or the sluggers are going to do it. The optimists are basing their predictions on the habits of the law of averages and the schedule.

Whiz Along at .286 Pace.

The Cubs have lost 10 of their last 14 games, which is whizzing along at a .286 rate.

The Cardinals have lost two of their last 14 games, which is .857 baseball.

The Cub optimists hold that no matter how good the Cards and Robins have become the law of averages will not permit such carryings on to proceed another week, especially since the Cards and Robins face each other in a three game series beginning Tuesday. And both have yet to face the Pirates, who are said to be pointing for the two series.

The Cubs are through with the Cardinals, the Robins and the Pirates in the season series. They tied the Cards and Pirates, 11 games to 11, and overshadowed the Robins, 14 to 8.

All Depends on Foes' Weakness.

In doping Cub chances on the schedule the calculations must be based on the general weakness of the future opponents and not in strict relationship to Cub performances, for the Chicagoans have put up their most sloppy performances against teams generally rated weak.

So we dodge experting on the basis of the schedule and ask you to write your own ticket on the information contained in the following day by day hookups involving first division clubs:

Sept. 15.
Cubs vs. Phillies [2 games] at Philadelphia.
Reds vs. Robins at Brooklyn.
Pirates vs. Giants at New York.

Phils vs. Giants at New York.

Collins to Face Bruins.

Phil Collins, who has a season record of 15 won and 7 lost, will oppose Fred Blake in the first game of tomorrow's double header. Fred has a season record of 8 won and 14 lost. In the second game Ray Benge, who has won nine while losing 15, will battle against Guy Bush, who has won 13 while losing 9.

Cubs Must Start Winning Streak or Let Flag Go

The percentage possibilities of the Cubs going across the finish line ahead of the other National league flag contenders were reduced by yesterday's developments. The Chicago champions now trail Brooklyn, the new leader, by one game. St. Louis, in second place because of getting only an even break yesterday, is a half lap from the top and the same distance ahead of the Cubs.

With thirteen more to play, the Cubs will have to be extremely lucky to win all except four games in series with the Giants, Braves and Reds and two today with the Phillies. If the Cubs can rally and take nine Brooklyn will need eight out of 11 and St. Louis 9 out of 13 to nose out the present titleholder. That would make the final

Brooklyn	91	63	.591
St. Louis	91	63	.591
Chicago	90	64	.584

Should the Cubs capture only 7 of their 13 engagements they would be nosed out if Brooklyn should land 6 out of 11 or St. Louis 7 out of 12.

It is possible for the Cubs to return to first place this afternoon. To do this they will have to win a pair from the Phillies and the Reds will have to put a halt to Brooklyn's winning streak. The Cardinals will be idle. The standing then would be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	83	60	.580
St. Louis	82	60	.577
Brooklyn	83	61	.576

If the Cubs break even today and the Robins win, the Chicagoans will become wedged tighter in third place as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Brooklyn	84	60	.583
St. Louis	82	60	.577

Cubs to Accept Series Ticket Requests Today

Applications for tickets for the Chicago end of the world series, if played, will be accepted, starting today, by the Chicago National league ball club.

Announcement for the plan of allotting the pasteboards, even though the flag race is undecided, was made last night by William Veeck, president of the Cubs. The plan is the same as that in operation here last fall.

The important features for would be customers to remember is that applications can be made only by mail, that certified check, bank draft or money order must be enclosed, and that only two strips of tickets, each calling for three games, will be accepted.

The price for box seats will be $6.60, including tax, and for grand stand reserved $5.50, including tax. As tickets must be purchased for games Nos. 3, 4, and 5, scheduled for Oct. 4, 5, and 6, a box seat strip will total $19.80 and grandstand $16.50.

Applications must be mailed to Chicago National league ball club, world series office, Chicago, Ill. Applications will continue to be acepted until such time as the club officials estimate the orders exceed the supply. Approximately 34,000 reserved seats will be available. Bleacher and standing room tickets are not sold in advance.

The actual distribution of tickets, if it takes place at all, will not be made until Sept. 29. In the event the Cubs are nosed out all remittances will be returned by mail and the tickets destroyed.

Rochester Clinches Third International Pennant

New York, Sept. 14. — (AP) — The Rochester Red Wings clinched their third straight International league pennant today by winning the first game of a double header from Montreal, 7 to 6, while Baltimore dropped its first game to Reading, 10 to 5. The victory was Rochester's 103d of the season. The Orioles, after their defeat, can reach a total of only 102 victories by winning all their remaining games.

Three Spectators Killed at Argentine Auto Race

RAFAELA, Argentina, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Two men and a woman were killed while watching the 500 mile national automobile race here today. Driver Alberto Fontana, in making a curve, lost control of his car and ran off the track into a crowd of spectators.

CARDINALS DROP TO SECOND PLACE; SPLIT TWIN BILL

Braves Succumb, 9-2, Then Turn Tables, 7-4.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Braves pushed the St. Louis Cardinals from first place today by splitting a double header with them while the Brooklyn Robins were winning. A crowd of 30,000 watched St. Louis win the first game, 9 to 2, and Boston take the second, 7 to 4, in a game limited to eight innings by the Sunday baseball law.

Ben Cantwell pitched steady ball for the Braves in the second game and held the lead which the Braves piled up for him in the first three innings off Johnson, whom they nicked for six of their seven runs. Richbourg's home run with Neun and Maranville on base gave Boston three runs in the first inning. Scores:

HERMAN PERILS TERRY'S LEAD IN BIX SIX BATTING

[By the Associated Press.]

Babe Herman of Brooklyn arose to threaten the batting supremacy of Bill Terry in the Big Six and in the National league as the New Yorker fell below the .400 mark yesterday. Terry made only two hits, one of them a homer, in eight trips to the plate, and his average fell off 3 points to .399. Meanwhile Herman hit three out of three and raised his mark 3 points to .395.

Al Simmons also registered a gain, going up 1 point to .380 with two hits in five tries, while Gehrig, American league leader, failed to add anything to his mark, although he hit two out of four. Chuck Klein was idle while Babe Ruth hit only once in four attempts and dropped a point.

Sox Buy Henline, Former N. L. Catcher, from Toledo

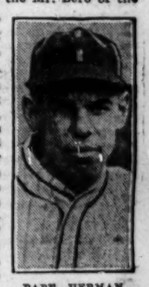
Another face will be added to the White Sox gallery today. It will be that of William "Butch" Henline, former National league catcher, whose purchase from the Toledo American association team was announced yesterday by the Sox secretary, Harry N. Grabiner. Henline served for several years with the Phillies and Robins. Cash and a couple of players to be turned over to Toledo at a later date were involved in the deal. Henline is hitting .334 for the Mudhens.

UNCLE ROBBY'S BOYS PUSH OVER REDS AGAIN, 8-3

Cardinals Trail by Half a Game.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Copyright: 1930: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Salvation Dan Howley, the Mr. Zero of the National league, could do nothing to deter Uncle Wilbert Robinson's ball club on the Brooklyn lot this afternoon, and the Robins beat the Reds, 8 to 3, for their tenth consecutive victory. Uncle Wilbert's ball club now leads the pennant race, a half game ahead of the Cardinals and a game ahead of the Cubs.



BABE HERMAN.

Mr. Zero's little army of the Otherwise Unemployed emerged from the tub with early vigor to score three runs in the first inning, unsettling Hollis Thurston, the first Brooklyn pitcher, so badly that he was taken out before the inning ended. Jim Elliott, a mountainous lefthander, was called to quiet the unrest with one man out, and the next two inmates of the ball players' snug harbor popped out in weary docility. They mooched a half dozen hits in the ensuing eight innings, but never more than one to an inning, and the ball game became another demonstration of the cheerless fact that them that has gits.

Fans Jam Ball Yard.

Although the contestants were plainly overmatched, a noisy horde of Brooklyn citizens presented themselves at the park and crammed the Tom Thumb ball yard to the final inch of space, some of them even sprawling on the concrete ramps, soiled with the tread of many feet, the rinds of hot hogs, the heels of buns and wads of gum, to glimpse the game through gaps in the architecture.

Their first yowl of elation was not long delayed, for within three minutes after the Cincinnati parties had scored their impudent stake of three runs in the first, Babe Herman went up and banged one to center field, arriving at second before yawning Bob Meusel could rouse himself, wash, shave, and dress to retrieve it. This hit scored Eddie Moore, who had bunted, and it moved Walter Gilbert from first to third, he having walked. Gilbert came in a little later on Del Bissonette's infield out, and Salvation Dan's pleasant three run lead had shrunk to a lead of one run.

Madness Traced to Scoreboard.

Now and again as the game went on there came sudden and apparently unprovoked blasts of crowd madness, certainly occasioned by nothing that had taken place at the moment on the field. These presently were traced to the scoreboard, where an anonymous harbinger was posting the progress of the games between the Cardinals and the Braves in Boston. The crowd had left, not forgetting to pause at the pitching mound and peer with dumb hope down into the empty well where the baseballs are kept during the games, before the result of the second game up yonder way was hung out on the scaffold.

The patrons plainly wished the Cardinals nothing but the worst of luck, but they had vanished to the beer stores, the street corner putteries and even, conceivably, to their homes, before the handsome news arrived to the press box that the Braves had held St. Louis to an even break, thrusting the Robins into first place.

Robins Settle It in Third.

Uncle Wilbert's nephews settled everything with an attack in the third inning which brought them four more runs on two hits. Eppa Rixey, who looks like Jess Willard, was pitching those early innings for the Reds, and Moore knocked a double to center which flicked his upraised glove, from which you might judge that this one was flying pretty high. Gilbert scored him with a single, and Herman loitered around, picking and choosing until the umpire gave him a walk if

'HOME, JAMES!' IS LINCOLN FIELDS FANS' NEW CHEER

Louisville Jockey Gives Every Mount Real Ride.

BY FRENCH LANE.

"Come on, James!" You hear that cry when the horses are pounding the turf in the home stretch at the end of nearly every race at Lincoln Fields these days.

For the Chicago racegoers have made the youngster who has been trained by the old master jockey, Roscoe Goose, their idol.

The Lincoln Fields crowds have gone so solidly for James the fans have just about forgotten to play the dope, they won't listen to tips and will back with confidence only the mounts which this young lad rides. And they have been getting a real run for their money, for James has been winning many races, he's seldom out of the money, and when he loses he has a way of showing the crowd that the horse he is riding is being beaten by a better horse.

He's 18 Years Old.

James is 18 years old, but has been in the riding business for four years. Those have not been easy years, either, for he has had to master just about there all is to know in horsemanship before he was permitted to ride his first race not so many weeks back at Latonia.

He hails from Louisville and weighs slightly more than 90 pounds. He isn't a lad that will take on much weight. He knows his horse before he climbs into the saddle, and brings him into the stretch with something left. And whether his mount is a cheap selling plater or a stake horse James so far has been able to get the final drive out of every horse he rides.

Fourth Week Starts Today.

It has been no easy job for James to jump into the spotlight at Lincoln Fields. Some of the best young riders in the country are performing there in Kenneth Russell, G. De Peso, W. Day, W. Johns, and others. There are also several clever older boys in the local colony. But James has been doing so well he usually has his pick of the mounts, and either he or the crafty Mr. Goose has been able to select the ones that win or furnish the contention.

The Lincoln Fields season goes into the fourth week this afternoon with the Sun Flower purse at a mile and a sixteenth the feature. It engages Jem, Typhoon, Golden Auburn, Fleche d'Argent, Who Win, Jean Lafitte, Blackwood, Rolled Stocking, and Seth's Hope.

The Dearborn handicap is the next stake race on the program. It is for 2 year old colts and fillies and carries an added money prize of $5,000.

Bluebloods of Dogdom Win at Shore Line

More than 2,000 persons attended the second annual licensed all breed dog show at the Shore Line Kennel club in Northbrook yesterday, attracted by the showing of 574 bluebloods of the dog world. The animals were of 41 breeds.

The judges were Col. M. Robert Guggenheim, Babylon, N. Y.; Anton A. Rost, Brooklyn; Edmund J. Tyler, Ferd Kramer and John W. Burton, all of Chicago; R. L. Davies, Anderson, Ind.; T. M. Mullins, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Richard Quigley, Lock Haven, Pa.; Dr. G. A. Mills, Wausau, Wis.; J. P. Wagner, Milwaukee, and Leonard Zachering, Detroit. Although her name appeared on the program as one of the judges, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin of Lake Forest was not present.

Taicoun Wins Royal Oak Stakes at Longchamps

LONGCHAMPS, France, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Taicoun, belonging to Senator James Hennessey, former minister of agriculture, won the Royal Oak stakes, feature race of the opening day of Longchamps autumn meeting in dismal, rainy weather today. Taicoun, a son of Sourbier out of Tahiti and ridden by the American jockey, Frank Keogh, won by a length from the even money favorite, Chateau Bonsaut, which was a length and a half in front of the second choice, Rieur. The winner paid 17 to 1. The race, over a course of a mile and seven-eighths, was worth $12,000.

Fishing Season in Garfield Park Lagoon Opens Today

The fishing season in the Garfield park lagoon opens this morning and will continue to Oct. 15. A fine stock of black bass and blue gills are available for anglers who have a state fishing license. Fishermen must use boats, none being permitted to fish from the banks. By next year the west parks board hopes to have lagoons in Douglas, Humboldt and Columbus parks also stocked.

Eckhart Park Leads Summer Sports Meet

Boys and girls of Eckhart park took high standing in the summer sports program of the west park system, and thereby won the first leg on the William R. James trophy, offered by President James of the west park board. The park winning three consecutive years will gain permanent possession of the trophy.

Eckhart park scored a total of 2,374.93 points with Pulaski park second, 192 points behind, and Douglas park third. Holstein park, winner of the last trophy, placed fourth this year.

Competitive sports on the program for boys included top spinning; track and field for intermediate, junior and senior boys; swimming for the same three classes; peg, tennis, horseshoes, and efficiency.

The standing of the various parks in the James cup competition was as follows:

Park.	Points.	Park.	Points.
Eckhart pk.	2,374.83	Humboldt	866.89
Pulaski park	2,182.33	Shedd	820.15
Douglas	2,035.90	Austin	688.17
Holstein	1,712.86	Altgeld	646.00
Dvorak	1,608.75	Stanford	630.36
Franklin	1,240.94	Sheridan	436.30
Harrison	1,037.15	Union	343.00
La Follette	940.08	Garfield	128.20
Columbus	874.25

In the boys' division A, Eckhart park was the winner, with Holstein second, and Dvorak third. Humboldt won the boys' division B banner, with Douglas second and Franklin third. Pulaski park girls won the A division banner with Eckhart second and Dvorak third. Douglas park girls won the B division banner, with Shedd playground second and Franklin third.

Cocles Wins $18,435 Gran Premio at Buenos Aires

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 14.—The classic Gran Premio with a purse of $18,435 and a gold cup, for a distance of two miles one and one-half furlong, was won by the Lamorena stables entry, Cocles, today in 3 minutes 38 1-5 seconds.

TON OF FIGHTERS ON STADIUM CARD FOR WEDNESDAY

The ton of humanity gathered together by Mique Malloy for his boxing card at the Stadium Wednesday has assembled and is working out in various parts of the city, putting on the final conditioning touches.

Of the six bouts carded, four are between heavyweights, one is in the light heavyweight class, and the other is in the welterweight division. The heavies scale down from Primo Carnera's 270 pounds to Paul Pantaleo's 190.

The welter match, featuring Johnny Indrisano, may steal the show from the behemoths. Indrisano, who holds a decision over Tommy Freeman, new welter champ, is making his second start on his way to the top, after suffering a long layoff from a broken jaw. He meets Tommy Rios, south side Mexican youth.

Walter Madey, Chicago Polish boxer, will take on Fred Caldori of Italy, member of Carnera's stable. Nick Taft tangles with Jack Robinson of the Western Electric club.

GORHAM HORSES WIN 4 RIBBONS AT SUNSET SHOW

Owners' Sons Ride Mounts to Victory.

The horses of Harry Gorham of Morris, Ill., won four blue ribbons yesterday in the concluding day's events of the Sunset Saddle club's first annual horse show at Maywood, running his string of victories to eight. The show, the first of its kind held in the western suburb in twenty-five years, drew a crowd of 5,000. It was held under the auspices of the Oak Park American Legion.

Gorham's string of seventeen horses was the largest number entered by any one person. Gorham not only entered his horses but also entered his three sons, who rode and drove his horses to victories.

Valentino's Horse Shown.

Cardinal, imported Arabian, formerly owned by the late Rudolph Valentino, held the interest of the spectators. He is now the property of Frank Howard of River Forest, who rode him into the ring. Another horse of interest was Gaelic, the nineteen year old jumper owned by Le Roi Williams of River Forest.

Billie Gorham won a blue ribbon with his team of Shetland ponies. Chuck Gorham rode four jumpers in the final event, the exhibition jumping.

Wes Ferrell Loses Third Start in Row.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The league leading Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 1, today.

Earnshaw, who started the game yesterday for Philadelphia, pitched the route today, while Wesley Ferrell weakened in the seventh and was replaced in the eighth by Bean. This was Ferrell's third defeat in a row after he had won 13 straight victories.

The game started with a homer in the first by Dykes. Simmons also hit a homer in the seventh, scoring Cochrane ahead of him. Score:

Duck Hunters in Michigan to Have No Alibis

BY BOB BECKER.

When the waterfowl hunters in Michigan open up tomorrow there will be no excuse for a gunner shooting after sundown or before the legal hour in the morning. The conservation department has issued a compact digest of the game laws for everybody and in it is printed a schedule showing at just what minute the sun rises and sets on every day throughout the duck and goose season.

The old excuse of "Why, it's still awfully light, so it can't be sundown," won't go this fall in view of the explicit time table which has been worked out for the Michigan shotgun army. It's a thoughtful piece of work by the conservation department and might well be repeated by other states.

Michigan permits the duck hunter to start his bombardment one-half hour before sunrise. We found this same regulation in effect in Saskatchewan last fall when we tried pass shooting on Wyasung lake, north of Regina. It's rather an inconvenient regulation, because it gets you out of bed much too early in the morning.)

This year the Michigan booklet giving the hunting regulations says explicitly that it is "unlawful to take or kill any waterfowl from sunset until one-half hour before sunrise the following morning." Then right under this statement comes the time table. For example, the table reads: September 16 to 21, inclusive, one-half hour before sunrise, 4:50; to sunset, 6:50.

Michigan's resident license fee for hunting is $1.25. The nonresident license costs $10. The Wolverine state has one interesting hunting regulation which shooters should know. It prescribes 15 ducks per day, 30 in possession, as the government has established such a limit, but Michigan adds, "300 in the season."

MOON MULLINS—THE COMMODORE GETS A KICK OUT OF THIS

Pirates Blast Giants' Hopes; Win 2 Games

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates reduced the Giants' chances of taking the National league pennant to almost nothing today by winning both games of a double header, 8 to 6 and 7 to 3. The first game went ten innings, while the second was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness.

The double defeat put the Giants 5½ games behind the Brooklyn Robins, today's league leaders, with only 12 games to go.

After scoring six runs in the fourth inning of the opener, the Pirates allowed the Giants to tie the score, as their infield played badly, but Glenn Spencer relieved Ray Kremer and pitched shutout ball for the last two innings to get credit for the victory. He also drove in the winning run. Bool's home run with two on base topped the big Pittsburgh rally.

Charley Wood held the Giants to four hits in the second game, but retired with a sore arm after Bill Terry's homer in the sixth. French finished. Bill Walker was hit freely, giving eight hits, including Traynor's homer. Lloyd Waner drove in four Pirate runs, while Hemsley scored three times on as many hits. Scores:

HUBS VANQUISH DANVILLE; EVEN 3 EYE SERIES

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The arm and bat of Johnny Niggeling today boosted Evansville to a 5 to 0 victory over Danville. The win evened terms in the playoff series for the Three Eye league championship.

Niggeling held the veterans to six hits, and in the second inning blasted out a triple with the bases loaded to chase over what proved to be the winning tallies. Three thousand five hundred and fifty-five spectators saw the game.

The triumph gave the Hubs two victories on their own field to square up with the pair won by the Vets at Danville. The fifth game of the series will be played at Evansville tomorrow.

Cardinals Beat Sturgis Eleven in Opener, 30 to 0

The Chicago Cardinals football club opened its 1930 season yesterday by beating the Sturgis, Mich., Wildcats, 30 to 0, in a practice game at Sturgis.

Dr. David Jones, Cards' owner, who built the team up last year to the point where it placed third in the national professional league, used 35 men in yesterday's game. Capt. Ernie Nevers played all but a few minutes of the game, but the other players were replaced frequently.

The touchdowns were scored by Nevers, Cobb, Rooney, Gene Rose, Chuck Kassel and William Boyd. Two were the result of passes, Nevers to Rooney and Flenniken to Kassel. Nevers bucked his way over from the ten yard line, and Boyd zig-zagged through the center of the line for 35 yards for his score.

Boyd made several long runs. He came to the Cards from Westminster college, Mo., where he was chosen all-state quarter back last year.

GREEN BAY, 46; OSHKOSH, 0.

Green Bay, Wis., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—The Green Bay Packers opened their football season here today, overwhelming the Oshkosh All Stars, 46 to 0, before a crowd of 5,000.

Oshkosh, headed by Earl Britton and Johnny Roach, never threatened. Zuidmulder, Packer half back, featured with a 60 yard run for touchdown after receiving a pass. Lineup:

PORTSMOUTH, 13; NEWARK, 6.

Portsmouth, O., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Portsmouth Spartans and the Newark, N. J., eleven made their debut as members of the National Professional Football league here today, the Spartans winning, 13 to 6.

Kirkleskie made the Newark score late in the last period when he snagged across the Portsmouth line after receiving double pass. Eby made a 56 yard run for a Portsmouth touchdown while Bennett also made a touchdown after receiving a triple pass.

JOHNSON PILOTS CAR TO VICTORY IN 75 MILE RACE

Driving his De Soto at more than a mile a minute, Emil Johnson of Gary won the Midwestern 75 mile stock car championship yesterday at the Roby speedway. Johnson and Virgil Livengood, the latter driving a Chevrolet, staged a nip and tuck race, Johnson winning by two seconds. Johnson's time was 71:18.

Fred Barney won the ten mile straw hat derby when Emil Johnson's hat came off in the last lap while he was leading. Barney's time was 9:41, two seconds slower than the track record

Loyola Eleven Faces Hard Schedule, but Looks Fit

BY WILFRID SMITH.

"One step to the right to fake an end run. Now, drive straight into the line. That's it. Try it again."

Dr. Edwin Norton is speaking. Four years a backfield star at Loyola university, three years an assistant coach under Roger Kiley and Dan Lamont, Norton has started his first season as head coach at his alma mater.

Norton and his assistants steadily are forging the parts of a gridiron machine. Since Sept. 4 he has moved forward from fundamentals until this week he will have given his squad the greater portion of its offense. In less than two weeks Loyola begins its most pretentious campaign. A week from Friday night Carroll college of Waukesha, Wis., invades Loyola field. Then, without respite, some of the ranking teams of the country will visit Chicago to test the Loyola eleven.

Georgetown to Play Here.

Georgetown university of Washington, D. C.; Duquesne university of Pittsburgh, one of the two teams which defeated Loyola last year; Boston college, and South Dakota university are numbered in the list of seven home games. Only twice will Norton lead his squad afield, meeting Loyola of New Orleans and St. Louis university.

Loyola has not sprung to athletic prominence over night. Perhaps Chicago has not appreciated the record of this north shore Catholic university. Seven thousand students enrolled in its downtown schools, extension courses, and at the campus attest its educational activities. Its material equipment has not kept pace at the Sheridan road campus, and consequently the enrollment there is limited to 600. This quota was filled in August. The eleven is recruited mainly from this number.

In six years Loyola has won 31 football games, lost 17, and played three ties. Last year's record was six won, two lost, and one tied. Add to this championship basketball teams and the national Catholic high school tournament which Loyola conducts annually and you have the major items contributing to its athletic position.

Complete Lighting of Field.

Last year Loyola dedicated a new stadium. The field cost $25,000, and the stands, erected only on the west side at present, cost $60,000. These stands accommodate 10,000. A lighting system will be completed Wednesday. Five games are scheduled at night. Another, Boston college, Nov. 15, may be played at night. The weather will determine the time.

Veteran players, with a sprinkling of promising sophomores, must carry on the Loyola tradition. The experienced talent includes Bill McNeil and George Weimer, ends; Frank Lutzenkirchen, tackle; Chris Poppelreiter and Ray Nolan, guards; Mike Waesco, center; Ted Connelly, quarter back; Les Molloy, Frank Murphy, Tom Howland, Walter Durkin, Henry Ployhart, half backs, and Johnny Smith, full back. Poppelreiter and Molloy are co-captains.

Joe Drugay, sophomore full back, may earn a regular berth. Other newcomers who are expected to make good are Tom Walsh, end, from Maine Township High school; Harold Fors, a tackle from Stevens Point, Wis.; Steve Furches, Statesville, N. C., and Frank McClelland, Detroit, Mich., quarter backs, and Stadler, half back, who formerly played at St. Ignatius High school, Chicago. Walter Fanning of Sandwich, Ill., a regular tackle two years ago, is back seeking his old position.

Veterans Show Speed.

Coach Norton will use offensive football which is popularly called the "Notre Dame system." His veterans are familiar with this style of attack and demonstrated last week in a series of scrimmages that they possess the speed necessary to execute the plays.

The players are well versed in fundamentals, blocking and charging with a snap which by midseason should threaten any of their opponents. And the squad has a spirit which impresses the most casual observers of their daily workouts.

O. J. Larson, former Notre Dame center; Sod Ryan, tackle on the undefeated Detroit university eleven in 1927-'28; Larry Flynn, Loyola line man in 1926, and Bob Burke, one of last year's star backs, are Norton's assistants. Corny Collins, Loyola's 1929 captain, will have charge of the freshmen teams.

only to get on with the ball game. Wright advanced both of them with an infield out, and Bissonette also walked, filling the bases.

Maybe there should have been no more scoring here, but Stripp, playing first for the Reds, missed Hendrick's grounder at this moment, and two of the runners came home, Bissonette hiking to third. He scored, too, when Finn hit a fly against Meusel's shirt-front, but Hendrick was doubled going to second after the ball had been thrown in for a futile play at the plate.

Kolp Yields Two Runs.

Salvation Dan called Ray Kolp to relieve Rixey in the fourth, and he was pitching when the Robins got their two concluding runs in the fifth. Gilbert, Herman, and Wright singled, producing one of these runs, and Bissonette scored Herman from third when he hit into a double play.

Jake May pitched the last three innings for Mr. Zero's team, and the boys defended their deficit with great tenacity to the end.

Salvation Dan Howley seems unhappy. A baseball manager of many gifts, he took his job in Cincinnati with hope and confidence, but he appears to have been undone this year at least by his own generous kindness. He seems to be trying to rehabilitate a number of baseball boys from along the baseball Bowery who were good ball players when they were good.

DE PAUL COACH SHIFTS COWHEY TO GUARD POST

De Paul university's football lineup will begin to take form today after two weeks of practice on the north side campus. Coach Eddie Anderson announced that Emmett Cowhey, tackle last year, has been shifted to a guard position.

According to Anderson, Cowhey promises to be one of the best linemen on the De Paul team this season. He weighs 180 pounds and is fast.

Coaches Ben Connors and Wally McGovern, who have been in charge of the line, were revising their plans yesterday to make room for the return of Jim O'Connor, star end last year. O'Connor has been suffering an eye ailment since the close of the basketball schedule. He is still under treatment and whether he will be permitted to play is not certain.

TRIBUNE GRIDIRON CONTEST ENTRIES TO CLOSE TODAY

Sectional Tests to Be Held Saturday.

Entries for THE TRIBUNE'S forward passing and drop kicking contests close today. All boys, 19 years of age and under, who wish to see one of the major college football games this fall as guests of THE TRIBUNE, will have an opportunity through this competition.

The four champions, determined in the finals at Mills' stadium, Sept. 27, may watch the Navy eleven against Notre Dame or Northwestern's Wildcats against Illinois. If these games conflict with high school schedules, or another game is more attractive to the winners, they will be given a further choice.

Sectional Test Saturday.

The seven sectional contests determining the finalists are carded Saturday. They will be held at Bessemer park, Washington park, Douglas park, Mills stadium, Kelvyn park, De Paul university field and Loyola university field.

Contest requirements are simple. Each contestant in the forward passing trials will have five attempts to throw a football through a hoop with a diameter of three feet. There are two age divisions. Boys under 14 years of age will pass from a distance of 15 yards. The senior group—15 to 19 inclusive—pass 20 yards. The same divisions are created for drop kicking. The junior boys drop kick 20 yards from the goal posts. The others are 30 yards distant. Each boy will have five opportunities to boot the ball over the cross bar.

Report by 9 o'Clock.

Clip the entry blank which appears today for the fast time. Designate the sectional in which you wish to compete. Report at the field Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. There the squads will be divided and both contests will be run simultaneously. The groups will interchange until all have competed in both sets of trials. The winners, or those tied for first place, are eligible for the championship tests.

This is your last opportunity to enter. Perhaps you will win a championship and tickets to a college game.

TROOP NO. 516 WINS BOY SCOUT CANOE REGATTA

One hundred members of the Boy Scouts of America yesterday competed in the first annual canoe regatta sponsored by the American Canoe association at Lincoln park lagoon. The team trophy was awarded to troop No. 516. Frank Caudergolten of troop No. 516 received a cup for individual high point scoring.

Sollie Wallace and Frank Allen captured the two man junior event. Both belong to troop No. 30. The two man intermediate race was won by Robert Fowler and Robert Edmunds of troop No. 775. Nine races were held.

FOOTBALL CONTEST BLANK

Check the section in which you will compete in The Tribune's drop kicking and forward passing contests, Saturday morning, Sept. 20. Print name and age in pencil. There are two age divisions: boys 14 and under, boys 15 to 19 inclusive.

Cissell and Reynolds spanked one squarely, but it went straight into Hayes' hands.

A single by Barnes gave the Sox another opening with one out in the ninth, but nothing happened. Then it became the Senators' turn to come out of the spell cast over them by Moore. Hayes beat out a bunt to start the tenth. Hargraves flied out, and Crowder hit a fluke double to left. Hayes pulling up at third. Myer was passed purposely to provide a force play at all corners. The scheme worked. Rice bounced to Kerr, whose throw nailed Hayes at the plate and the inning closed when Kerr made a dazzling pickup of Manush's grounder.

Ted Lyons will try for his 22d win and also will try to make it two in a row over the Senators in the final today. Sad Sam Jones will work against him.

BOND MARKET IS SEEING MUCH NEW FINANCING

Week's Offerings Total $134,296,000.

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The beginning of the early fall market in bonds is being accompanied by considerable new financing, which is expected to assume fairly large proportions in the next few weeks.

Offerings last week were just double those of the week before, totalling $134,296,000. Municipalities borrowed $43,000,000, utilities $30,000,000, and railroads $22,000,000, while the remainder came under miscellaneous classifications. It was the busiest week for the syndicates since late in July, but they are anticipating even larger totals in the period just ahead as corporations take advantage of the favorable position of the market to float new loans at comparatively low coupon rates.

Prices Range Higher.

Bond prices were firm to higher, although trading remained in nominal value. Utilities and industrials went to new highs in the averages, while the composite for 30 representative issues also touched the highest mark in more than two years at the beginning of the week. Some selling was noticed in the prime rails, but it had little effect on quoted values. Bonds below the gilt edge group enjoyed a good demand.

The four fold oversubscription to the treasury bills emphasized the abundance of money awaiting employment, but the sale of these short term securities to the banks may have had some bearing on the smaller turnovers noted in highest grade bonds. Listed United States Governments remained extremely quiet until Friday when activity increased and prices advanced.

Portends Cheap Money.

Bond dealers received enthusiastically the treasury's announcement that the 3¼ per cent notes, aggregating $1,149,380,050, would be called for payment on March 31, next. There are two issues in this loan and each is subject to optional redemption on that date on six months' notice. The notes have recently been quoted at a yield of less than 2 per cent.

The point stressed in investment circles was that the government, in retiring the notes, expected to refinance at a lower interest rate, which would presuppose cheap money well into next year.

Interest was revived in convertible and stock warrant bonds while the share market was advancing in the earlier days of the week, but turnovers were infinitesimal when compared with the bullish activity in such issues a year ago. With the market largely under the influence of institutional buying which is limited to conservative investment mortgages, debentures offering stock conversion privileges have gone begging.

Standard Oil of N. J. Starts Its Hydrogenation Plant

New York, Sept. 14. — (AP) — The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has started operation of its petroleum hydrogenation plant at the Bayway, N. J., refinery. Although the new process is being used on a commercial scale, no gasoline, motor oil, kerosene, or other products made by hydrogenation will be available for the market for some time, as the operation of the plant now is on a development basis.

FINANCIAL NOTES

An offering of $2,235,000 Chicago Great Western railroad 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates of 1930, series "A," to be issued under the Philadelphia plan, is being made by Salomon Brothers & Hutzler and the Evans-Stillman company. The certificates mature from 1931 to 1945 inclusive, and are priced to yield from 3.75 to 4.70 per cent.

Public offering of $2,500,000 Illinois Pacific Coast company 6 per cent convertible bonds due 1945 is made by a banking syndicate composed of Mitchum, Tully & Co. and Dean, Witter & Co. The bonds are priced at 98½ and interest to yield 6.15 per cent.

The Woodruff Securities company, affiliated with the First National bank of Joliet, has opened a Chicago office at 10 South La Salle street.

Formal opening of the American Securities corporation, a newly organized firm to conduct a general investment business, will be held today at One North La Salle street.

Formation of the Clark Plan, a $100,200,000 dual controlled trust sponsored by a group of California financiers and business men, is announced by Frank N. Clark, capitalist and realtor, who originated the plan. The Clark Plan has an authorized trust capital of $100,200,000 divided into 167,000 trust shares. It will begin operations with 41,750 trust shares to be presently outstanding.

Farrell Brothers, operators on the Chicago Board of Trade and principal stock exchanges, move today into their new quarters in the Board of Trade building.

GRAIN MARKETS ARE BEARISH, EXCEPTING CORN

Prices Show Steady Trend Lower.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bearish markets dominated the grain trade throughout the week, although news was mixed, being bullish on corn and bearish on other grains. Prices declined steadily from start to finish with only a small reaction at the close. It was said at the last that the markets had the appearance of having discounted all bearish factors, for a few days at least, while bullish influences are expected to become operative later.

One of the largest traders sized up the situation at the close by saying that "wheat around 80c will not likely bring the short seller any profit of consequences. Should May corn sell down to 85c it might do to buy for a long pull. Until the Canadian marketing movement lets up in volume, Winnipeg will be the dominating factor, and it is well to await a passing of the movement peak before becoming committed extensively on the buying side. "Should one desire to sell wheat short, Winnipeg would be the best market. The bullish corn crop situation will eventually have its influence on prices. All indications are that feed stuffs will be used up to a greater extent than usual and corn saved," he said, "so that at the end of the season there will be more corn than seems possible at present."

Dominating Influence.

A combination between Winnipeg and Russia is the dominating influence on the bear side of the wheat market at present. Prices in Chicago are around the 80c level, the lowest since 1914. Winnipeg December is at a discount under Chicago and prices there finished 6¼c lower for the week, while Liverpool was slower than any other market in declining and is off only 4⅜ on December as compared with a week ago.

Chicago wheat prices are 40c to 55c lower than a year ago, which should have some influence on the speculative minds, but the average trader at present is bearish and the feeling is that the United States has too much wheat and that the load is too heavy for a higher price level at present. At the same time it is freely admitted by most operators that they run a great risk in working on the short side of 80c wheat.

There is disappointment over the fact that foreigners are not taking American hard winters as freely as Canadian hard springs, but the latter are offered at a more attractive price, with the Canadian wheat pool the accredited seller. Mills are accumulating wheat at a fair rate and in some sections report an improvement in flour sales. Latest reports from France are that many millions of bushels of wheat will be needed from other countries to mix with the native crop, which has been badly damaged by rain. Germany, although having a good crop, needs to import good wheat for mixing, and Italy, with a short crop, will have to buy liberally to make up its deficit.

Lack Definite Reports.

It would be an excellent thing for exporting countries to secure reliable information as to how much wheat Russia has raised and will be able to sell, as it holds the key to the world's situation. It has always been impossible to secure reliable information as to the crops and their distribution in that country, hence reports from there tend to create uneasiness.

The United States wheat crop has come through in better shape with a larger aggregate in bushels than most people anticipated. The government report makes the crop 837,000,000 bu, or 39,000,000 bu more than two months ago. With a carryover of 275,000,000 bu, there is 1,112,000,000 bu. This is believed to be sufficient to permit exports of the largest quantity in recent years and provide for all the feeding demand that can be developed and have a small supply at the end.

September wheat in Chicago closed Saturday at 80¼c, the lowest of the season, as well as in recent years. December finished at 85⅝@85⅝c, March 89⅛@89⅝c, and May 92⅛@92⅝c, with net losses of 4⅞@5c. Losses in other grains were: Corn, 1⅛@1⅝c; oats, 3¼@3⅝c; rye, 1⅝@3c. Prices for the week follow:

Loan to Grain Stabilization Corp. Is Fixed

BY O. A. MATHER.

A new wrinkle in its program of bolstering up grain prices and so helping the farmer was announced last night by the Grain Stabilization corporation. Heretofore, the operations of the corporation have been financed by government funds drawn from the treasury. But now the corporation will also borrow considerable money from Chicago and New York banks.

GEORGE S. MILNOR. [Strauss Photo.]

A syndicate of important banks, headed by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, Chicago, and the National City and Chase National banks, New York, have arranged to lend $30,000,000 to the Grain Stabilization corporation. The corporation will purchase grains in the market and then on the basis of warehouse receipts will borrow 80 per cent of the market value of the grain from the banks. The borrowings will be arranged in the form of bankers' acceptances to be issued in series maturing in 90 days.

More Liberal Than Canada.

The credits will be available for purchasing grains for the present crop year, which ends July 31, 1931. It is pointed out that the arrangement with the banks providing for loans of 80 per cent on market value of grains is more liberal than the policy of Canadian banks in limiting advances to the Canadian wheat pool of only 60 cents a bushel.

"Execution of the acceptance agreement is in line with the announced policy of the Federal Farm board to apply the provisions of the agricultural marketing act for the benefit of agriculture without disturbance to industry or banking," George S. Milnor, president of the Grain Stabilization corporation, explained. "While heretofore the corporation has handled its operations without availing itself of commercial banking credit, the bankers had requested, in view of the fact that in previous years much of their funds had been used in financing grain, that the banks have an opportunity to join with the corporation in carrying its grain stocks.

Paid for in Cash.

"This being in accord with the policy of the corporation and the Federal Farm board, which finances and supervises the operations of the corporation, the bankers' acceptance agreement was executed.

"All the grain owned by the Grain Stabilization corporation was paid for in cash and the corporation is entirely free of bank indebtedness, making the grain collateral owned by the corporation available to secure the bankers' acceptances. The amount of credit offered by the accepting banks was greatly in excess of the amount to be borrowed."

VALUE MINERAL PRODUCTS IN 1929 AT $5,830,000,000

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—(AP)—The value of the country's mineral products in 1929 was $5,830,000,000, which was eight per cent greater than the value of the 1928 output.

The bureau of mines in making the figures public said the value of metallic products of the mines was about 15 per cent greater than in 1928. Nearly half of the increase was accounted for by a rise in the value of copper. All the important metals contributed to the increase, however, save gold and silver.

The upward trend did not bring the total to the high levels of the last ten years, the value of the mineral products in 1926 being $6,213,600,000, and $6,981,340,000 in 1920.

STEEL CARTEL NOW IN DANGER OF COLLAPSE

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The continental steel cartel—one of the most ambitious experiments in industrial cooperation among former enemy countries—is in danger of total collapse. An extraordinary meeting of the members—Germany, France, Belgium, and Luxembourg—will be held soon in an attempt to keep alive the cartel by creation of a series of separate cartels for the release of products within the framework of the organization itself.

The most serious doubts, however, regarding the efficacy of the efforts are now entertained by the German members who dominate the cartel, and meanwhile members of the four participating countries are reported to be engaging in a free for all scramble for orders — cartel regulations and prices being entirely disregarded in the eagerness to liquidate stocks on hand. So intense is the present competition that prices in some markets are understood to have fallen off as much as seven shillings in the ton.

Reports on Air Traffic for First Six Months

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 14.—The twenty-nine major air transport lines of the United States carried over 133,000 passengers and 2,000,000 pounds of mail during the first six months of 1930, according to figures made public by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America. Their planes flew a distance equal to 430 times the circumference of the earth, and in spite of bad weather and other hazards the mail and passenger planes completed 97.3 per cent of their scheduled operations. During the winter months schedules completed amounted to but 85 per cent. For the first half of the period over which the report was gathered 44,931 passengers were carried, but during the second three months the passenger load jumped to 88,074.

SIR HENRI DETERDING HAS NO ANXIETY OVER WORLD OIL INDUSTRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Sept. 14.—The Dutch oil king, Sir Henri Deterding, when interviewed on the world oil industry, declared today that he differs with leaders of the American oil industry in that the improvement of the oil position is very unlikely. Sir Henri sees no reason for anxiety. The government of the United States has already taken steps to make the oil industry sound again by prescribing restriction with the consent and coöperation of oil producers, he said.

The more the situation in the American oil industry grows critical the sooner the change in opinion for the necessity of restriction will come. The world does not suffer from overproduction, Sir Henri said, but from underconsumption. He gave as an example Russia, British India, and China as countries lost for oil consumption at the present. If only those millions would become consumers an improvement of the economical depression is to be expected, he declared.

Discusses Trend to New Family Spending Outlets

BY SCRUTATOR.

Some of the most prosperous industries in the United States are making and distributing articles or services that a few decades or even a few years ago had no place in the picture when learned economists discussed the expenditures of the masses.

Probably it would have been an impossibility for Adam Smith or Malthus to conceive of a society in which wage earners in factories would have more than a quarter of their incomes left to spend after all their needs in food, housing, clothing, fuel, and light had been cared for.

Such a situation exists, according to the national industrial conference board. It cites a survey made by the United States department of labor in Detroit. A hundred families in Detroit, with average incomes per family of $1,711.87 derived from factory earnings, were studied. It was found that food represented 32.3 per cent of the spending; housing, 22.6 per cent; clothing, 12.2 per cent; fuel and light, 6 per cent, and sundries, 26.9 per cent.

Sundry Expenditures.

A pre-war budget showed similar families spending 43.1 per cent of income for food, 17.7 per cent for housing, and 20.4 per cent for sundries.

Diet is better and its cost is lower relative to income. Housing, the conference board assumes, is better, with the workman enjoying more in the way of light and air and bathrooms. But the really striking factor in mass spending, as exemplified in the study, was the growth of the sundry percentage.

Forty-seven of these families had automobiles and thirty-six had radio sets. Eighty-seven of them carried life insurance and the average for the whole group was $59 a year in premiums per family.

There is here an indication of what American business in the future will come to. Food will hardly get a larger percentage of income; housing may, although the same portion should give better shelter as science turns its attention to building. The trend now is, as it has been for some years, toward the creation of new spending outlets.

Satisfy New Wants.

Once trifling things now represent tremendous expenditure. It may be that 1930 is a dull year, but the department of commerce estimates that retail radio sales in the first half year were 231 million dollars, seven million more than in the first half of 1929. It figures that those little golf courses represent 125 millions in investment and that they offer a potential market of fifty millions or more for awning makers, should it be desired to make them rainproof.

A bankers' publication prints with tacit approval Bobby Jones' statement that there should be a big golf course for every 5,000 Americans. Seven amusement concerns with a capital of 332 million dollars reported profits of nearly twenty-eight millions for six months this year. The big money in future will come from the discovery and sale to the masses of things that are over and above necessities for living. That's why a hundred millions a year is being spent by industry to discover, to invent, and to satisfy new wants.

OVER BILLION DOLLARS TO FLOW IN TREASURY QUARTERLY FINANCING

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—(AP)—More than a billion dollars will flow in and out of the treasury tomorrow in the regular quarterly financial transactions of the government.

The third quarter of this year's income taxes are due tomorrow and collections of about $500,000,000 are estimated to be in prospect. The large portion of income taxes were paid, however, during the first quarter.

The new treasury offering of $334,000,000 in certificates bearing 2¾ per cent will be issued. The certificates will mature a year hence. This is the lowest interest rate obtained by the government on any of its securities.

At the same time Secretary Mellon will retire $351,000,000 in treasury certificates bearing 3½ per cent which mature tomorrow; redeem $50,900,000 in treasury bills and make a payment of $35,000,000 in interest on the public debt.

All in all it will be a busy day at the government tills with the net result being another reduction, although slight comparatively in the outstanding public debt of the nation.

Although the government offered only 2¾ per cent for its money this quarter the issue of these certificates was oversubscribed by almost 4 to 1. This has encouraged Mr. Mellon to call in more than a billion dollars in treasury certificates next March 15, in the belief that he can replace these notes bearing 3½ per cent interest with others of lower interest rates.

ABOUT YEAR AGO STOCKS BEGAN RIDING TO FALL

Marks Unpleasant Anniversary.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 14.—This week is a highly interesting anniversary. It was a few days after the middle of September, 1929, that prices on the stock exchange, having risen almost uninterruptedly and with the greatest violence during four successive months, began to crumble.

The decline, at first irregular and intermittent, presently attained such a pace that, less than two months later, the averages reached the lowest level since July, 1927, and 47 per cent below the high mark of Sept. 19. Almost exactly coincidentally, $4,500,000,000 was squeezed out from the inflated structure of stock exchange brokers' bo rowings; a reduction of 53 per cent in three months, bringing the total down to the lowest figure since October of 1927.

During that period, such readjustment occurred in value of important shares [measured, not in points but

What follows is in all its essential facts a true experience. Because of the confidential nature of The Northern Trust Company's relationships, identities and personal details have been disguised

The legacy a father left to his motherless lad of twelve

HE was very much alone in the world—this motherless boy of twelve years... When sudden illness took his father's life, a modest amount—scarcely adequate—was available to see the boy through.

There was no close relative, nobody to look after him, but the father had placed all that he owned with The Northern Trust Company for his son's education.

To give a lonely boy the care of a parent, so far as lay within their power, was the aim of the trust officers when they took over the estate.

They went over with the boy the ambitions and plans which he and his father had discussed together. With his approval they chose for him a school, and later a college. They watched and guided every step he made—in those difficult years.

More and more frequently he consulted with his trust officers. He graduated from secondary school, won honors at college. His trust funds, carefully handled, provided his sole means of support.

Today could the father return he would find a son of sterling character, with the confidence of success at his back—and with funds and counsel for still greater success at his command.

The father's legacy, poor in material funds, proved precious in its provision for the care a boy must have. And a father's wish was fulfilled because his trustee accepted, in its tradition of forty years, the human spirit of the trust obligation.

What are your plans for your Estate?

You may write into your Will the purposes you wish your estate to accomplish. But you depend upon others to carry out the spirit of the Will, to uphold impartially the interests of your heirs, to guard against estate shrinkage, and the costly liquidation of valuable assets.

To do these tasks as though you yourself were here to supervise them has been the tradition of The Northern Trust Company for more than forty years.

A Northern Trust Plan

Every estate has its own problems. Each merits its own specially prepared Northern Trust Plan.

How such a plan can help in conserving your estate, in saving important sums of money to your heirs, a discussion with a trust officer will quickly show. At its home on the northwest corner of LaSalle and Monroe Streets an officer of The Northern Trust Company will be glad to confer with you.

IN COMMERCIAL BANKING

The Northern Trust Company offers the same careful attention to your banking business as it does to your affairs of trust. Sound banking as practiced here leaves ample room for an energetic and resultful effort to serve. You will find the bank officers easily accessible, and familiar with the problems of your type of business. Won't you come in for a visit?

in percentages] as 40 per cent in Standard Oil, 43 in United States Steel, 59 in General Electric, 63 in General Motors, 70 each in Case Threshing and Allied Chemical. No shrinkage in values of such scope as this, so rapid, so general, and so sweeping, had occurred in the memory of financial markets.

Now Ancient History.

These particulars, as Wall street looks at things, are now themselves in the nature of ancient history. They are worth repeating, chiefly because remembrance has already begun to grow obscure regarding the sequence of events and the immediate cause for each. To recall to mind exactly what happened in those agonized eight weeks and why is difficult in one respect, we have been fortunate. Notwithstanding the unprecedented violence of the fall in stocks and notwithstanding the fact that more individuals and greater sums of money were swept down in the panic liquidations, the true nature and economic necessity for the readjustment has been universally recognized.

There has been no talk since Nov. 13, as there was in 1920, of the culpability of the federal reserve; no emotions in the senate, as there were in 1907, to prove that the money trust had brought about the panic for its own wicked purposes; no charges by responsible statesmen, as in 1893, that the administration at Washington was personally responsible. All this sort of futility vanished as quickly as did last summer's one novel eccentricity in the way of "explanation," that the 40 to 70 per cent decline in stocks was due to the delay in putting the tariff bill's beneficient provisions into law.

Retrospect, at this distance of time, and in the light of subsequent events of the great crash on the stock exchange, is useful particularly in showing how financial thinking and the whole American financial atmosphere have cleared up. Even in the panic days of last October, when it had to be admitted that Wall street and the speculating public had been living in a fool's paradise regarding the stock market, it was not believed that trade prosperity could be more than momentarily affected.

The background of our industrial expansion was so impressive that even those financiers who had to admit that the "cycle of prosperity" still governed the action of the stock market could not believe in serious trade reaction. They did not believe it as recently as last March, when the prevalent idea was that this set back in business would repeat that of 1927—a few months of reduced commodings and steel production, then resumption of the "boom" at the old pace. But the truth of the matter has now been pretty thoroughly learned.

GRAIN MARKETS ARE BEARISH, EXCEPTING CORN

Prices Decline Steadily During Week.

60,000,000 bu less than indicated in July, showed the largest loss of any crop ever reported in such a short period and set a record. Its influence as a market factor was regarded as a failure, for the time being at least. Traders said that failure of the statistics to attract heavy buying was responsible for a general unloading movement on the part of recent buyers and development of a fair sized short interest. In the all big corn states there is 1,453,000,000 bu, as compared with 1,592,000,000 bu in August and 1,868,000,000 bu as the 1929 final, while the five year average of 1,331,000,000 bu is within 50,000,000 bu of the total production of the country this year. It is said that the market has been fairly liquidated, but outside interests, while admitting that corn may be scarce later in the season, are opposed to await further developments before loading up extensively.

Cash premiums held well.

Corn fluctuated around 7c within a week and 3c in two weeks. At the close September was 92¾c, while two weeks ago it touched $1.00. December finished at 86⅞@87c; March, 87⅞@88c, and May 89⅝@89¾c. Prices for the week follow:

Oat Crop Gains 75,000,000 Bu.

Traders who bought oats because prices were low and the crop not extensive have largely unloaded because the government report increased the crop 75,000,000 bu over the previous estimate, with an aggregate of 1,191,000,000 bu as compared with 1,240,000,000 bu last year and an average of 1,371,000,000 bu.

Hedging pressure by local and northwest interests, combined with general unloading, was responsible for a drop of around 4c from the recent high point, with the trade skeptical about buying for another upturn. September closed at 36⅜c, December 40⅝c, March 42c, and May 43¼c. Prices for the week follow:

Millers and Feed Makers Buy Rye.

Rye traders say there is an improved demand from millers and feed mixers for rye, with new rye bringing its premiums over old. Speculative trade is not heavy and there is an export interest of 19,548,000 bu. In September there is only 317,000 bu. At the close September was 56c, or 1c a pound; December finished at 60c, March at 60¼c, and May at 65c. Prices follow:

EDGE OFF OF LAND MARKET

Indications in the closing days of the week were that the enthusiastic buying of December and January land, who have been responsible for advancing prices of late, has been disposed to increase their holdings and others became more numerous, causing a recession and close at losses of 50@125c from the previous week. Cash interests have bought the nearby and sold deferred deliveries. A good export and domestic demand continues. Stocks are not large, holdings is sold storage on September 1 being 31,340,000 lbs, as compared with 118,200,000 lbs a month ago, while a year ago they were 180,035,000 lbs, and a five year September average of 158,240,000 lbs.

There is said to be a fair sized open interest in dry salted belly futures with packers holding the contents. The consumptive trade in bellies and ribs, backs is said to be good. September bellies were handled sparingly and closed 25c lower. Prices for the week follow:

AVERAGE PRICE OF CRUDE OIL IS UNCHANGED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York Sept. 14.—The average price of crude petroleum in ten producing fields was unchanged last week from the preceding week at $1.49 a barrel, compared with $1.67 a barrel in the corresponding period last year, according to the Oil, Paint, and Drug Reporter. Gasoline at the refineries was also unchanged from the previous week at 7.21 cents a gallon at four principal refineries.

Service station prices at ten leading markets were lower at 20.75 cents a gallon, compared with 20.80 cents a gallon in the previous week.

Pneumatic Casing Stocks Decrease 11% in July

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Stocks of pneumatic casings in the hands of United States manufacturers decreased eleven per cent in July, the Rubber Manufacturers' association reports. Stocks as of July 31 amounted to 21,580,691, which not only was a decrease of 11 per cent from June 30 this year, but showed a decrease of 21 per cent from July 31, 1929. July shipments increased 2.9 per cent over June to a total of 5,810,448, but showed a decrease of 26 per cent from July last year and 26.4 per cent from July, 1928. Production of pneumatic casings in July this year totaled 4,257,409 or a decrease of 22 per cent from June, 24 per cent from July a year ago, and 34.5 per cent from July 1928.

Corporate Trust Shares.

Will you please advise me as to Corporate Trust Shares stock? What are the chances of a raise in values of this stock?—J. S. W.

Each Corporate Trust share represents 1-2000th participating interest in a unit composed of 112 shares of high grade common stocks of 28 companies, which stock, together with a cash reserve for stabilizing dividends, is deposited with Equitable Trust company, New York, as trustee.

The portfolio of Corporate Trust Shares units includes four shares of each of the following companies: American Telephone and Telegraph, Consolidated Gas of New York, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Western Union, American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation, American Tobacco, class B; E. I. du Pont de Nemours, Eastman Kodak, Ingersoll-Rand, International Harvester, Otis Elevator, United Fruit, National Biscuit, U. S. Steel, Woolworth, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé, Illinois Central, Louisville and Nashville, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Standard Oil of California, Standard Oil of Indiana, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of New York, and Texas Corporation.

No change may be made in the above stock unit [so long as cash dividends or other distributions of value are made against the underlying stocks] except in case of merger, consolidation, reorganization or sale of the property of any company.

Funds for dividends are derived from [1] cash dividends on underlying stocks, [2] proceeds from sale of subscription rights, stock dividends, and stock splits, [3] interest allowed by the trustee on the cash reserve fund.

"Super Sound."

Please advise whether stocks I see listed on the New York stock exchange are "super sound." By that I mean are they all right because they are listed on the stock exchange?—M. R.

Emphatically not. Of the many hundreds of stocks that are listed on the New York stock exchange there are some that are high grade, others of fair grade, and some that are hazardous speculations.

The purpose of an exchange of this kind is to provide a free market for legitimate securities. The New York stock exchange has certain requirements which must be fulfilled before a stock can be listed. It does not and cannot, however, place any guarantee of safety on the stocks that it lists.

New York, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Master Tire and Rubber company, a managing and holding corporation, has purchased a controlling interest in the Giant Tire and Rubber company of Findlay, O., through an exchange of securities.

TRADE RECOVERY SEEN PROBLEM OF PSYCHOLOGY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 14.—To accelerate the world's recovery economists shoud be displaced by psychologists, declared Lord Melchett, chairman of the Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., in a talk before the Bond club of New York at its first fall luncheon at the Bankers club.

While he believes in economics, Lord Melchett said he doubted the value of many of the basic rules governing the study of the subject. Many phases of the present world depression are not receiving the proper study, he declared, and he advised economists to take a long rather than a short view of the situation. The time element, he pointed out, is very important.

"We all know what to expect, but the important factor is when to expect it," he said.

Lord Melchett said that when there is a psychological change in the world conditions will change for the better, and when this change does occur "we will see a drastic change in values throughout the entire world."

This English industrialist said that money is piled up in banks in all the financial centers in the world not because of a lack of trade but because of uncertainty. The world cannot go on for long, he predicted, seeing its money lying idle.

Commenting on the relationship between business and the stock market and the tendency to believe that the market will follow business, Lord Melchett asked, "Which is the cart and which is the horse?"

He expressed the opinion that business was more likely to follow the stock market than vice versa. "When stocks are rising," declared Lord Melchett, "people are more hopeful and more likely to spend money."

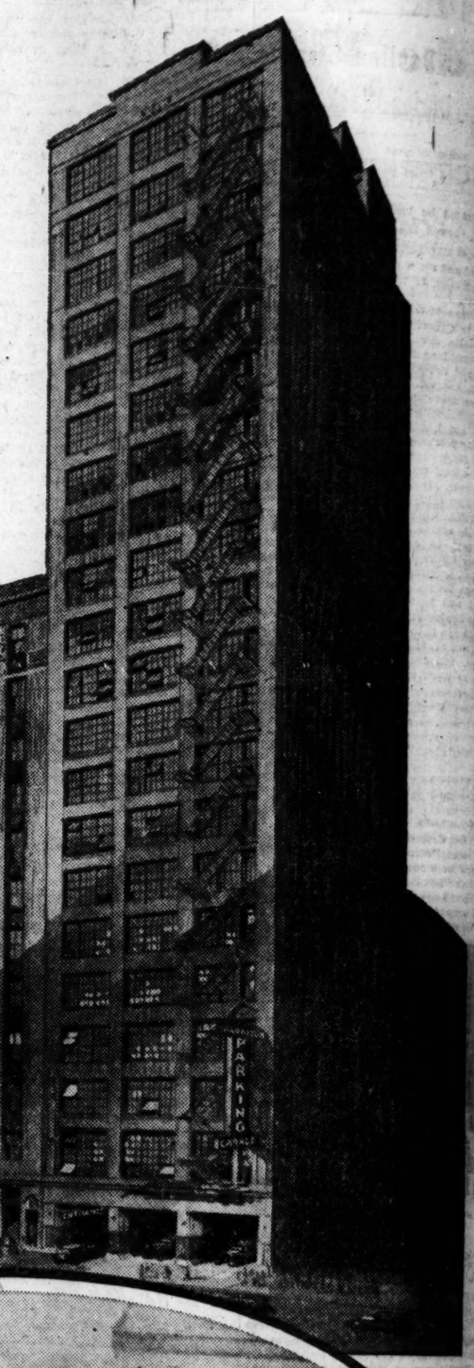
Chicago welcomes the opening of its second Electric Parking Garage

the Harrison Parking Unit



BUSY motorists to the South Loop district—business men, shoppers, theatre patrons—praise this proven solution of the parking problem. Electric parking at the new Harrison Parking Garage is as simple as checking your hat.

You simply drive your car in the broad entrance, lock it, and leave it in one of six entrance lanes. Electricity parks it for you, untouched by human hands.

Electricity brings your car to you quickly when you return. High-speed elevators, running a floor a second, feed six lanes of cars, at the command of a central electric control. There are no annoying waits here, even at rush hours.

Besides, Electric Parking safeguards your car and its contents. Because of the accuracy of the automatic equipment no car is ever bumped or damaged. Electric parking is collision-proof!

Additional features of this remarkable Parking Garage include rest and writing rooms, showers, lockers, telephone service and a parcel delivery desk. Yet rates are only standard parking charges. Washing, greasing, gasoline, oils, full garage service, are here for your convenience.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS.

Mr. Clement is vicar of a country village in England. His wife, Griselda, is nearly twenty years his junior. The vicar's young nephew, Dennis, lives with them.

Col. Protheroe, a pompous parishioner, who makes life miserable for his daughter, Lettie, and his second wife, is expected at the vicarage at 6:15 one evening. At 5:30 the vicar is called to visit a dying parishioner and leaves word for the colonel that he will be late. On returning at 7 the vicar meets Lawrence Redding, an artist who is living in a studio on the vicarage grounds, coming out of the house in an agitated state. The artist tells the artist and Mrs. Protheroe had confessed to him their love for each other. To study the vicar finds the colonel dead, murdered apparently. No weapon is found. Dr. Murdock is called and he says Protheroe has been dead half an hour and summons the police. A note which the colonel started to write to the vicar is headed 6:20. A clock, overturned when the colonel fell forward, stopped at 6:22, but it was always kept fifteen minutes fast.

Lawrence Redding and Mrs. Protheroe both confess to the murder.

Miss Marple, whose house adjoins the vicarage, saw Anne Protheroe going to the garden about 6:15. From there she went to the studio. She carried no handbag and had no place to conceal a weapon. Redding came along shortly after and joined her at the studio. They came out about twenty minutes later and walked toward the village.

Lawrence and Anne admit they had confessed the crime thinking the other had committed it. Lawrence said he had come back to see the vicar, after leaving Anne, and had found his pistol and thought Anne must have taken it.

Three people heard a shot, which they thought came from the woods, the evening of the murder—the vicar's maid, Miss Marple, and Mrs. Price Ridley, who lives near the vicarage.

Mr. Lestrange, a newcomer in the village, who had called on Col. Protheroe the night before he died, sends for the vicar.

PLAYING A PART.

There was a bitterness in Mrs. Lestrange's voice.

I did not answer and she went on.

"Sit down, won't you?"

I obeyed and she took a chair facing me. She hesitated a moment and then began to speak very slowly and thoughtfully, seeming to weigh each word as she uttered it.

"I am in a very peculiar position, Mr. Clement, and I want to ask your advice. That is, I want to ask your advice as to what I should do next. What is past is past and cannot be undone. You understand?

Before I could reply, the maid who had admitted me opened the door and said with a scared face.

"O, please, m'am, there's a police inspector here, and he says he must speak to you, please."

There was a pause. Mrs. Lestrange's face did not change. Only her eyes very slowly closed and opened again. She seemed to swallow once or twice, then she said in exactly the same clear, calm voice:

"Show him in, Hilda."

I was about to rise, but she motioned me back again with an imperious hand.

"If you do not mind—I should be much obliged if you would stay."

I resumed my seat.

At this moment he caught sight of me and scowled. There is no doubt about it, Slack does not like me.

"You have no objection to the vicar's presence, I hope?"

I suppose that Slack could not very well say he had.

"Nos," he said grudgingly. "Though, perhaps, it might be better——"

"This is a serious matter, Mrs. Lestrange, I want the truth!" He banged his fist down on the table.

"What can I do for you, inspector?" she asked.

"It's this way, madam. Murder of Col. Protheroe. I'm in charge of the case and making inquiries."

Mrs. Lestrange nodded.

"Just as a matter of form, I'm asking every one just where they were yesterday evening between the hours of 6 and 7 p. m. Just as a matter of form, you understand."

Mrs. Lestrange did not seem in the least discomposed.

"You want to know where I was yesterday evening between six and seven?"

"Let me see." She reflected a moment. "I was here. In this house."

"O!" I saw the inspector's eyes flash. "And your maid—you have only my word, I think, can confirm that statement?"

"No, it was Hilda's afternoon out."

"I see."

"So unfortunately you will have to take my word for it," said Mrs. Lestrange pleasantly.

"You seriously declare that you were at home all the afternoon?"

"You said between six and seven, inspector. I was out for a walk early in the afternoon. I returned some time before five o'clock."

"Then if a lady—Miss Hartnell, for instance, were to declare that she saw here about six o'clock, rang the bell, but could make no one hear and was compelled to go away again—you'd say she was mistaken, eh?"

"O, no," Mrs. Lestrange shook her head.

"But——"

"If your maid is in, she can say not at home. If one is alone and does not happen to want to see callers—well, the only thing to do is to let them ring."

Inspector Slack looked slightly baffled.

"Elderly women bore me dreadfully," said Mrs. Lestrange. "And Miss Hartnell is particularly boring. She must have rung at least a half a dozen times before she went away."

She smiled sweetly at Inspector Slack.

The inspector shifted his ground.

"Then if any one were to say they'd seen you out and about then——"

"O, but they didn't, did they?" She was quick to sense his weak point. "No one saw me out, because I was in, you see."

"Quite so, madam."

"Now I understand, Mrs. Lestrange, that you paid a visit to Col. Protheroe at Old Hall the night before his death."

Mrs. Lestrange said calmly, "That is so."

"Can you indicate to me the nature of that interview?"

"I'm afraid I must ask you to tell me the nature of that private matter."

"I shall not tell you anything of the kind. I will only assure you that nothing which was said at that interview could possibly have any bearing on the crime."

"I don't think you are the best judge of that."

"At any rate, you will have to take my word for it, inspector."

"In fact, I have to take your word about everything."

"It does seem rather like it," she agreed, still with the same smiling calm.

Inspector Slack grew very red.

"This is a serious matter, Mrs. Lestrange. I want the truth." He banged his fist down on a table. "And I mean to get it."

Mrs. Lestrange said nothing at all.

"Don't you see, madam, that you're putting yourself in a very fishy light?"

Still Mrs. Lestrange said nothing.

"Yes."

And the monosyllable. Unemphatic, uninterested.

"You were acquainted with Col. Protheroe?" the inspector asked.

"Yes, I was acquainted with him."

"Well acquainted?"

"I had not seen him for several years."

"You were acquainted with Mrs. Protheroe?"

"No."

"You'll excuse me, but it was a very unusual time to make a call."

"Not from my point of view."

She said clearly and distinctly.

"I wanted to see Col. Protheroe alone. I did not want to see Mrs. Protheroe or Miss Protheroe. I considered this the best way of accomplishing my object."

"Why didn't you want to see Mrs. or Miss Protheroe?"

"That, inspector, is my business."

"Then you refuse to say more?"

"Absolutely."

"You'll be putting yourself in a nasty position, madam, if you're not careful. All this looks bad—it looks very bad."

She laughed. I could have told Inspector Slack that this was not the way of woman who is easily frightened.

"Well," he said, extricating himself with dignity. "Don't say I haven't warned you, that's all. Good afternoon, madam, and mind you, we're going to get at the truth."

He departed. Mrs. Lestrange rose and held out her hand.

"I am going to send you away—yes, it is better so. You see, it is too late for advice now. I have chosen my part."

She repeated in a rather forlorn voice.

This "Big Boy" Is Al Jolson as Laugh King

No Efforts Made to Draw Audience's Tears.

"BIG BOY."

Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by Alan Crosland.
Presented at the Oriental theater.

THE CAST.

Gus ..... Al Jolson
Annabel Bedford ..... Claudia Dell
Mrs. Bedford ..... Louise Closser Hale
Jack Bedford ..... Lloyd Hughes
Coley Reed ..... Eddie Phillips
Jim ..... Franklin Batis
Joe ..... John Harron

BY ROBERTA NANGLE.

Here's Al Jolson in the sort of rôle that fits him like an old shoe. Most of the movies hitherto loaded on his husky shoulders have been such hokumy "Laugh Clown Laugh" affairs that "Sonny Boy" threatened to become a national nuisance. Now it seems that Warner Brothers have seen the light and are letting the singing comedian do the stuff that made him the highest paid and most popular entertainer in the country.

"Big Boy" in the movies practically is the same hilarious comedy it was on the stage. The plot is a slim structure built around Jolson's personality. If you're looking for the crocodile tears that were spilled copiously over his previous screen offerings you won't find them, but you'll find Jolson's black-face comedy, Jolson's songs and Jolson's wise cracks. And isn't that enough?

Direction, photography, dialogue and continuity are perfect. There's a really exciting race at the finish when Jolson brings "Big Boy" around the final stretch to win the Kentucky Derby. There are nice people in the supporting cast, but they don't count, because this picture is all JOLSON. Here's hoping for more like it.

[SILENT.]

★

Presented at the Cinema Art theater.

Every time I see a silent picture I think the talkies are swell. There's no getting away from the fact that the new sound technique makes the old art of pantomime look as out of date as a hobble skirt. Silent pictures, even the best of them, seem like relics of the horse and buggy days.

This doesn't mean that there aren't plenty of silent pictures worth seeing, but the faster tempo of the talkies seems to have spoiled our appreciation of them. The little Cinema theater, which refuses to yield to the talkie craze, has a loyal patronage of its own.

It must be said to the management's credit that it selects the best pictures available. It has shown some splendid foreign made films and some pretty dull ones—dull fare for a talkie addict, anyhow.

This week's offering, I'm sorry to report, belongs in the latter category. It's one of those stark, close to the soil tales depicting the sad plight of the Russian peasants before they exterminated the nobility. Its only virtue is realism (if that's a virtue), but since the peasants are no longer ground under the imperial heel that sort of realism seems irrelevant.

The only way to estimate the age of the picture is by the clothes that the pampered nobles wear. Their costumes are not quite antiquated enough to indicate that it was filmed before the revolution, and why it was made since then I can't see, unless to prove that the bloody uprising was a holy and necessary evil.

The principal rôles of a peasant and his bovinely beautiful wife are commendably played; the direction is clumsy and the photography second-rate. I'm sure the Cinema will find a better offering for next week.

Roman Catholic Women to Meet Here on Sept. 20

The Archdiocesan Federation of Roman Catholic women, recently organized, will hold a general meeting Saturday, Sept. 20, in the assembly hall of Quigley Preparatory seminary, Rush and Pearson streets. This was announced by the Rev. Timothy Rowan. The federation represents 200,000 women of the city and the coming meeting is the first to be held by the organization. It is announced that all who attend this first meeting will be enrolled as charter members. The Rt. Rev. Bernard J. Shell will address the meeting.

URGE FOR BEAUTY SEIZES THE MEN, TOO, BARBER SHOPS SHOW

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Youth and beauty as commodities sold in department stores and beauty parlors, barber shops and drug stores are sought by men customers as well as women, although not to an equal extent, a survey of State street department stores and hotel barber shops showed yesterday.

Perfumers, soap and cosmetic houses and others who have found so many millions of women beauty seekers now are recognizing the new male consciousness of dress and appearance. They are producing new bottles of lotions designed for men, new soaps and new perfumed liquids which might be described as having "that note of masculinity."

One of the lotions for men, a saleswoman in a loop department store said, is of the fashionable Chypre scent. It is a spicy scent and particularly well liked by men, she said. Still another lotion, a creamy liquid meant for softening the face, is popular with men customers, according to the saleswoman. On the bottle it is set forth that the lotion "gives an attractive youthful bloom to the face."

The author of a letter recently published in THE TRIBUNE'S Voice of the People column pointed out that while women constantly are being warned of the advisibility of keeping young and beautiful in order to win or keep a man's love, no one ever advised men to do the same. "I am quite certain that it is just as important that men should be attractive to win and keep woman's love as vice versa," she wrote.

A buyer for the toilet goods department of a loop store told another story. She said:

"There always were fops who went in for powders and perfumes. But this isn't the same. Staid business men have begun to buy not only talcum powders, but scented soaps, hair tonics, and dressings, toilet waters, vegetals they use after shaving, and, to a lesser extent, skin fresheners.

"The younger ones who grow these fierce flowing mustaches so popular now use mustache wax, brilliantine for their hair, and, to some extent, a dark tan powder of fongere or fern odor."

A new scented shaving soap in bowls is the latest thing for men, she said. Some houses put out dainty porcelain bowls filled with soap in green or lavender, elaborately fluted on top. Others produce wooden or pottery bowls. Scented soap done up in paper packages which resembls small leather books are sold for men.

One salesgirl told of selling many bottles of deodorant and many jars of cream to check perspiration to men customers. Another said women customers told her their husbands secretly used their cold cream.

Soft X-Rays Called Makers of Vitamin D

"Artificial Sunshine" Is Given Test in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Discovery of a new method to make vitamin D by a peculiar kind of X-rays was made public at the University of Cincinnati today. Its usefulness may be described as somewhat like getting your cod liver oil out of an X-ray tube.

The development is in effect a wide extension of the field of "artificial sunshine," deep down into the zone of invisible rays that usually have far different effects than the sun. It was perfected in the basic science research laboratory.

In nature a large source for vitamin D is the effect of sunshine upon plants. Recently it has been found that the sun's invisible ultra-violet or "tan" rays produce vitamin D in many foods, such as olive oil, milk, and cod liver oil, and that the rays do this by changing a substance in the foods called ergosterol into the vitamin. Artificially produced ultra-violet rays do the same thing and have been used to produce a whole new series of health foods.

But X-rays have been considered too lethal for food making. Only about a billionth of an inch long, they frequently destroy the substances through which they pass, especially the living ones. Ultra violet rays are much longer.

Between the ultra-violet and the X-rays is a zone of radiation called soft X-rays. These have lengths of about a millionth of an inch. These are the rays that make the new vitamin D. They operate apparently like both the sun and artificial ultra-violet. At any rate, the results on animal health thus far are the same.

Rats having rickets, which is a vitamin D or sunshine deficiency disease common to children, were fed foods that had been treated with soft X-rays. In about three weeks the rickets were cured, according to the laboratory records. This is similar to the time of cures from vitamin D made by the older methods.

The basic science research laboratory obtains the soft X-rays from a special tube made abroad. It resembles a rolled up magazine. Its rays are shot out through an illuminum window.

R. H. Morse, After Hunt in India, Sees U. S. Industry Revival

New York, Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Among the arrivals from Europe today was Robert H. Morse, vice chairman of the Fairbanks-Morse company of Chicago, who returned from a two months' tour in Europe and hunting trip, accompanied by his wife and their son, John, and daughter, Barbarba. Mr. Morse was optimistic about business conditions in America and said he had received a report from the statistical department of the company in Chicago that orders were now flowing in steadily and that its business would be back to normal before the end of November.

Mr. Morse, during his hunting trip in India, bagged a number of wild animals, and brought home the skins of five tigers, three panthers and five bears. Several other skins that were being shipped by rail in India were stolen. Mr. Morse and his family left for Chicago on the Twentieth Century.

Nurses Provide Own Room at Presbyterian Hospital

Nurses at the Presbyterian hospital will not have to worry about the cost of medical care. Present and former nurses on the staff have contributed the sum of $22,840 of a permanent endowment fund of $35,000. The income from that will pay for a special room to be known as the Mary Byrne room, in memory of a former student. In that room nurses or former nurses will be placed when ill.

Any member of the alumnae association who contributes toward the fund will be eligible for care in the Mary Byrne room on the same basis as the nurses, it was reported by Miss Alice Snow, chairman of the committee in charge of collecting the subscriptions.

Donations will be received until the $35,000 quota has been reached.

200 Delegates Arrive for Polish Union Convention

Two hundred members of the Polish Union of the United States of North America, an organization of 40,000, arrived yesterday and registered at the Hotel Sherman, where the union will open a five day convention today. Another hundred delegates are expected to arrive today.

OUR SECRET AMBITION

THE STAGE

HUBERT OSBORNE, new director of the Goodman theater, has returned to Chicago after spending the summer on the trail of plays and players that would fit into the repertory scheme of things. He announces the engagement for the acting company of Florence Williams, a 20 year old ingenue, whom he discovered playing the girl in Barrie's "Dear Brutus" with marked success.

Six members of last year's organization will continue under the new régime. They are Harry Mervis, Ellen Root, Katherine Krug, Carl Kroenke, Hale MacKeen, and Sara Fenton. The new members of the company will be Miss Williams, Patricia O'Hearn, William Brenton, Dario Shindell, Earl McDonald, and one other, a man, upon whom Mr. Osborne has already fixed a discriminating eye.

The Goodman's season will consist of eight plays, each to be presented for four weeks. "The Firebrand" is a definite choice for the opening, Oct. 14. The other plays will be selected from the following list: "Hotel Universe," by Philip Barry; "The Chalked Circle," by Klabund; "The Marquise," by Noel Coward; "Tabloid," by Chanslor and Paynter; "Hedda Gabler," by Ibsen; "Those We Love," by Abbott; "Jane Clegg," by St. John Ervine; "Milestones," by Edward Knoblock and Arnold Bennett; "The Harlequinade," by Granville Barker; "The Father," by Strindberg; "The Little Saint," by Roberto Bracco; "The Squabbles of Chioggia," by Goldoni; "Hassan," by Flecker, and "Linda," by Adelaide Chatfield-Taylor.

"Strike Up the Band," a musical show which was highly regarded in New York last season, will come to the Selwyn theater Oct. 5, following the engagement of "Lost Sheep." Messrs. Clark and McCullough, a quaint and energetic pair of clowns, are the stars of this entertainment George Gershwin composed the score; Morris Ryskind and George Kaufman are responsible for the libretto.

Mrs. Fiske's repertory company for her season's tour will contain: William Ingersoll, Edmund Elton, Eleanor Gordon, Sydney Booth, Ethel Strickland, Marga La Rubio, Sterling Oliver, Robert Leslie, Thomas Shearer, Mona Smith, Jennette Dowling, Elise Keene, Alice Cowan, Mary Emerson, Luke Conness, Will Geer, Vincent James, Kemble Knight, Edward Butler, and George Sejbold. She will carry a repertory of seven plays.

The University of Wisconsin recently awarded Mrs. Fiske the honorable degree of doctor of letters, and in describing her accomplishments, announced:

"The crowd has turned to her as a trusted teacher, for hers is the art that has kept the theater vital and prophetic."

And Smith college made her a master of arts, with this description:

"The first of living American actresses, who by her sensitiveness, insight, and technical skill retains for our stage the interest of intelligent citizens at home and abroad."

Fritz Leiber, now in Chicago preparing for his second season in Shakespearean repertory at the Civic theater, says that he spent the summer revising the texts of the acting versions of "Hamlet," "King Lear," and "Richard III." He believes that Colley Cibber and William Winter, whose acting versions have been in general use, omitted certain scenes that should be restored.

"I have been trying to get closer to Shakespeare," he explains. "In adding these rarely played scenes I have endeavored to preserve the speed of dramatic action which we achieved last year. I do not think that the performances will ran more than 5 or 6 minutes longer than they did last year, and I am convinced that much will be gained by the addition of this material."

Laurence Stalling's dramatization of Ernest Hemingway's novel, "A Farewell to Arms," will have its New York première at the National theater Sept. 30. The leading rôles will be played by Glenn Andera, Elissa Landi, and Guiseppe Sterni. C. C.

BEG YOUR PARDON

A list of candidates to be voted on at the election on Nov. 4, published in SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE, said Lloyd C. Moody was Republican nominee for Probate judge and that Arnold Heap was Republican nominee for associate justice of the Municipal court. This is erroneous. David H. Brill is the Republican nominee for Probate judge and Albert B. George for associate justice. The names of the nominees for congress-at-large were omitted.

An item in THE TRIBUNE Saturday stated that Joseph Bezdek, 60 years old, 2203 North 77th avenue, Elmwood Park, who died in the county hospital of a self inflicted bullet wound, had shot himself after quarreling with his wife. A report of the Elmwood Park police states there was no quarrel between the couple.

Junkers Going Into Business, Industry, Too

War Last Effort to Hold Feudal Position.

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COLOGNE, Sept. 14.—Is the Prussian Junker a mere legend in modern Germany? As one travels about in the "Reich," it looks, indeed, as though the old type Prussian noble caste had staged an ultimate fadeout, with just a few exceptions to confirm the rule.

No more strutting of handsome counts and barons in gorgeous Death Hussar uniforms. No more scandals about mesalliances between the kaiser's courtiers and untitled girls. Downtrodden east Prussian peasants no longer kiss the hands of their squire's children or call their master "Herr Wohltaeter" [Mr. Benefactor] for the few square feet of potato land and starvation wages he hands out to them. The nobility no longer monopolizes the 8,000 weightiest official jobs in Germany.

Junkers, in the "good old days" before the world war, were born to rattle the saber and dictate. The Prussian Junker owned always a vast stretch of more or less carefully farmed land. His feudal ancestors had wrested it from heathen Slavs or bullied peasants. His grandfather and father had shed their blood copiously to cement the fabric of a great Prussian monarchy.

Would a little blood letting help clean the social body and restore prominence to the landed gentry, now that self-made men wanted to usurp power? Prussia's military caste, including practically every squireen east of the Elbe river, went fervently into the world war. The nobility sacrificed their sons, but made a great deal of money selling wheat and rye at top prices to the starving rest of the population. During the post-armistice inflation period every Junker paid off mortgages and debts with worthless paper marks. The future looked pink and golden.

Today East Prussia's landed nobility are close to ruin. Protective tariffs cannot shield them from foreign competition. They cut down their forests to get cash, borrow money "just till the next crops are out," and then borrow again, as Canada or South America undersell them.

"Noblemen cannot go into business," decreed the Junkers' caste before the war. Around 1880 a landed aristocrat would disgrace himself by turning beets into sugar, or rye into brandy on his estate. Thick volumes were seriously written on the problem whether the Junkers' "historical mission" permitted him to make money in industry or finance.

Today the old-time "Junker," who allowed himself only three professions—landowner, officer, or official—is extant only in fossilized specimens.

The "20th century Junker" takes his place. The up-to-date Prussian nobleman goes in for banking, industry, business and politics. If he still owns an estate he fights for his class interests, as a workman for labor or a merchant for his business.

Try One-half Portion Diet to Gain That Willowy Silhouette

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

There's no rest for the weight-controllers. If anything, we are in for a sterner season of dieting this fall than ever. To get into the new gowns and look as if there'd been no struggle getting into them, you have to be long and slinky. Nothing less in figure management will do.

The short girl, of course, will have to depend upon the frock for the length, which it well may give her, and upon herself for the figure that suggests a slink!

So it looks as if we had to begin all over again with grit and determination, aided by diet, to produce the willowy slink.

The willowiness that is wanted for the fall dress showing is something more than that which comes from dieting, however. It's a young flexibility that is required. Fluid lines, if you know what I mean, which you do. Not stiff, stilted bone and muscle shorn of avoirdupois, but a gracefully feminine softness to a chic, slim silhouette.

Well, there is still some time left for action. And if the weather is good enough to keep at the agreeable temperature in which this is written there isn't any reason why the energy is not present to tackle the job of refining the silhouette.

In fact, we women might just as well make up our minds that there's never going to be a day when we can sit down and submit to weight-piling without censure. Being so, we might just as well dig and do the shaving before we get snowed under a whole pile of avoirdupois. It's so much easier to control weight than to conquer it once it takes on an enemy hold. But that's no consolation to the already burdened.

Why not try the half portion diet, beginning today? It's surprising how one does not need three slices of toast for breakfast. One and one-half is sufficient. Take one lump of sugar instead of two. Use half the amount of cream in coffee. One can manage luncheon with half the amount of bread or rolls, and let salads be the main dish. And dinner can be cut in two and still have enough to live comfortably on. A few weeks of this makes an amazing stride toward the long and slinky silhouette.

Corner Stone Laid for $375,000 Episcopal Building

The corner stone of the new $375,000 group of parish buildings of Christ Episcopal church, Winnetka, was laid yesterday noon with ceremonies led by the Rev. E. Ashly Gerhart, rector. The group includes a chapel, three story parish house, and a ten room rectory. The new chapel will serve the parish for special services in addition to the parish church, which is located several blocks away on Sheridan road.

Junior League Plans 4 Plays for Its Season

BY THALIA

Every day now there are more indications that society has finished its summer vacation and is about to resume its activities. The Casino is to be available to its members today and tomorrow for luncheon, tea, and meeting, although there is no formal opening to end the "closed for the season" era.

The rooms on the east side of the building are still in the process of being decorated and will not be ready until Oct. 1. Mrs. Joseph G. Colean, president of the Casino, whose ill health prevented her from being really active last winter, is expected to return from Santa Barbara in a few days.

The charitable activities of the younger women already are launched. The Junior league office has been busy for the last week sending out announcements for the children's theater and corralling the list of professional members. A meeting is to be held this afternoon to discuss plans. The league expects to produce four plays this year: "Blue Bird," a national Junior league production to cost forty thousand dollars, which will tour 25 cities; a children's Chauve Souris with music, dancing, and pantomime; "Aucassin," the revival of a past favorite; and an original Indian play. The season will open Nov. 1 and continue through April 11. Service club rehearsals for the annual benefit now begin this Thursday.

Mrs. Walter B. Wolf and her daughter, Miss Ghita Watson, who will be among the debutantes this year, are expected to return next Sunday from Bonniesport on Cape Cod. They have been there for the summer. Mrs. Wolf is chairman of the St. Luke's follies show revue to take place on Oct. 31. Much of the preparation for that event was accomplished last spring, but the bulk of the organization work remains. Mrs. Frank Hibbard, who is chairman of the boxes for the benefit, returned last week from Walsh Hill, and Mrs. John W. Gary, general chairman, also is on the job.

The Needlework and Textile Guild of the Art institute had hoped to have Miss Ann Winifred Mynors of the Royal School of Needlework in London return this season to resume her stitchery classes, but word has been received from her that she has been engaged, and is to be married in December, and hence will not return her Chicago stay. She was enthralled a great deal between stitches, as it were. The correspondent to whom she revealed her plans says that she neglected to include the name of her fiancé.

Mrs. Enoch T. Holmes of Cocoanut Grove, Fla., announces the engagement of her daughter, Anne, to Charles Shepard Reed Jr. of 12 Scott street and Ottawa, Ill. Miss Holmes is a member of the Junior league and attended the Chicago Latin School for Girls and Miss Bartlett's school at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Mr. Reed was graduated from Yale last June.

H. Godfrey Haggard, the British consul-general in Chicago, and Mrs. Haggard of 174 East Pearson street have returned from a 6 weeks' holiday at Limberlost near Muskoka, Canada. Their daughters, Miss Joan and Miss Vivi Haggard, who accompanied them, are remaining in Toronto, where they go to school.

More returned vacationers include Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Ward of 219 Lake Shore drive and their daughter, Mary Ann, who were to arrive yesterday from their camp at Batchawan bay on Lake Superior; Mrs. James Montgomery and her children, also of 219 Lake Shore drive, who have been at their place at Coburg, Canada, and Mrs. William H. Barker of Highland Park, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Robert Watson, at her former home in Canada.

The Wayne Chatfield-Taylors of Lake Forest have returned from Nantucket, where they have been for the greater part of the summer.

Miss Margaret Enders sailed on Saturday morning from New York on the S. S. Minnetonka for Europe. Miss Enders spends much of her time traveling, and makes her residence with the Frank O. Lowdens when she returns to Chicago.

Lawsonia Country club is being closed officially today for the winter. Part of the clubhouse may be opened for the Christmas and New Year holiday. Chicagoans who were at Lawsonia last week included Mrs. Carter H. Fitzhugh and her daughter, Miss Mildred Fitzhugh of Lake Forest; Mrs. Arthur A. Burrows, her sons, Arthur and George, and her sister-in-law, Miss Louisa Burrows of Lake Forest; and the Charles T. Murdocks of Winnetka. Mrs. Vincent Bendix, who planned to accompany Mr. Bendix to Europe, changed her mind at the last minute, and will return to her house at Lawsonia after a short stay in New York City.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—Mrs. Stark McMullin, who has been at the White House since early summer, was the only guest of the President and Mrs. Hoover at the Rapidan camp over Sunday. She motored there yesterday with Mrs. Hoover. The President and his physician, Capt. Joel T. Boone, with Herbert Hoover Jr., joined them later in the day.

Secretary Adams returned this evening from Newport, where he went for the international cup races.

Secretary Lamont came back today from New York and will be joined later this month by Mrs. Lamont and Miss Gertrude Lamont who still are in their Lake Forest home.

Mr. and Mrs. McClure Kelly arrived yesterday and are with his mother, Mrs. William Fitch Kelly, until the middle of the week when they will go to their home in Aurora, Ill.

Calls Brain Cells Vitamin Factory at Convention Here

An area of cell structures in the hind part of the human brain is a factory where every vitamin known to modern science is manufactured, Dr. Charles C. Cook of Saginaw, Mich., declared here yesterday at the seventh annual convention of the American Electrical Research association at the Morrison hotel.

Dr. Cook's findings are the result of years of research in the origin and action of vitamins.

"The thought occurred to me," Dr. Cook stated, "that since vitamins exist in so many substances, might it not be possible that the body contained its own vitamins as well as its own elements.

"Extended research proved that such was the case and that they were located in the hind part of the brain. At first only vitamins A, B, C, D, and E were located and their functions determined. Then further search proved that there were at least thirty-five vitamins.

"The group of cells producing any given vitamin will occupy an area not as large as the circumference of an ordinary lead pencil. The entire area is located in a spot about the size of a silver dollar."

To Keep Health Up. . Eating costs Down

WHY don't you give the "Quart a day for each member of the family" a trial? See how it keeps eating costs down, and how it keeps family health up.

Milk gives more downright body-building, health-maintaining value for the money than any other food. It contains practically all the elements needed to grow and keep up bones, teeth, muscle and tissue.

Actually you could live on milk. Of course, we don't recommend that, but we do want to stress the fact that the liberal use of milk as part of a balanced diet will help you feed your family better at lower cost.

In using a quart a day for each member of the family, there is a wonderful variety of soups, vegetable dishes and desserts that use a liberal amount of milk—also it should be served regularly as a beverage—the grown-ups should join the children in drinking it—both as an encouragement and for their own health's sake. A prominent dietitian says that milk, the essential food for children, continues to be man's most valuable food throughout life.

Low Cost Milk Dishes

Where can you get a satisfying and appetizing meal for less money than bread and milk or crackers and milk, using either white or graham crackers? It is the favorite lunch of many business men. Hot milk on fresh crisp toast makes an invigorating and nourishing breakfast. Then there are many delightful soups to be made with milk: Potato soup, asparagus soup, tomato soup, and chowders. Chipped beef in milk gravy is always enjoyed and milk gravy for the potatoes and bread always goes well. For the dessert, custards, junkets, rice and milk, bread pudding and cabinet puddings are just a few of the delightful dishes made with milk. Your cook book has dozens of other ideas.

A Valuable Leaflet

has been published by the Milk Council of Greater Chicago—"How to Feed Your Family Better at Lower Cost." Phone Franklin 3110, write us, or ask your Borden milkman for it.

If you have no regular milkman, or if you are not now enjoying the excellence of Borden's product and the faithfulness of our service, get in touch with us by phone or letter and your neighborhood Borden milkman will call. He will be glad to leave milk at your door every morning. Among the 16 good foods he carries are also eggs and cottage cheese—two other cheap foods that will help you keep up the family's health and keep down the cost of eating.

King of Spain Selling String of Race Horses

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BIARRITZ, France, Sept. 14.—Is the king of Spain broke, or does Alfonso fear that the growing discontent in Spain may topple over his throne? These questions are being asked just across the frontier at Madrid, and at the summer capital at San Sebastian, and here among the Spanish colony.

Coincident with the persistent depreciation of the peseta, which has continued to decline ever since the late Dictator Primo de Rivera's overthrow, which ostensibly occurred to save the country's finances, comes the report of a sudden turn to economy on the part of the king.

The most serious development of this determination is Alfonso's sudden decision to give up horse racing and sell out his stable. The royal colors are raced under the name of the duke of Toledo, and include several hundred crack thoroughbreds, with some of the best blood strains. Alfonso's entries have appeared in the past on English, Belgian, French, Italian, and German tracks, beside being the main support of Spanish racing.

The king long ago tried to make horse racing popular in Spain, and has helped to finance the big race track at San Sebastian. His efforts have failed, the people preferring to witness bull fights, and the story is told that when the big track opened and the local populace were invited to witness the first day's racing free of charge that a number of them hissed and booed after the final event, shouting: "When are they going to kill the horses?"

Alfonso's Belgian trainer—the king kept a large stable and breeding farm near Ostend—Jacques Deneuter, has just received orders to dispose of all the blooded stock.

It has been further learned that the monarch has reduced his fleet of motor cars from 46 to 22, of which 18 are of American make. The decrease in the royal automobile squadron has resulted in halving the garage staff and in the dismissal of a score of chauffeurs and mechanics.

Intimates of the king here assert that Alfonso fears that the people will consider him wasteful and prodigal unless he retrenches, and as a monarch he is determined to maintain the dynasty and the throne for his son, the prince of Asturias.

Furthermore, the king has never won any races.

Gardens at Jewish Home Opened with Ceremony

In a ceremony attended by hundreds of Chicago Jews the new gardens of the Orthodox Jewish Home for the Aged, 1648 South Albany avenue, were dedicated yesterday afternoon. Judge Henry Horner made the principal address. Maurice Burr, president of the home, accepted the gardens on the part of the home. S. B. Komaiko presided. An ancient Jewish ritual of thanks was performed by the aged inmates, led by Rabbi Moses Belzak, 90, who tendered bread, water, and salt to Morris Katz, donor of the gardens, on behalf of the other inmates.

Paris Hats Top Off the New Silhouette

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special.]—The proportion of the head to the figure is of supreme importance to chic; a tiny head makes a woman look taller and, contrariwise, a large head will, visually, take several inches off your height.

Paris modistes have taken account of these optical laws in creating fall hats to complete the new costumes. Hats are necessarily growing larger or, if they are small, they are treated so as to give them an important effect, for the wide shouldered line of the fall silhouette and the large and highly decorative sleeves make a woman in the tiny skull caps of yesterday look like a pin head.

The medium sized hat from Gaby Mono shown today says all the last words about Paris millinery trends and is becoming into the bargain. It's of supple satin felt, finely quilted on its upper surface, and in the new lapis blue. It rolls back off the face in the prescribed manner but is softened by a draped bandeau effect. A plain band of the felt is drawn through slits in the brim and knotted at the back.

Lewis makes the other bonnet of black velvet and white velvet. It's supple enough to be rolled into a ball without crushing, but the draped wing effects of white velvet at the sides give it almost the air of being a large hat. This treatment is, by the way, typical of Lewis. A small bow of black and white velvet trims that trying point at the back of the neck.

There's Wisdom in Seeing Your Child Has Limitations

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"Short Reading References for the Expectant Mother" will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Did you ever try to do something you were utterly incapable of doing? Do you remember how miserable it made you feel, especially if some one was expecting you to do it—or blaming you because you couldn't?

Thousands of children, in no way to blame, are put in that position for years of their lives because either their parents or an educational system expects more of them mentally than they are capable of. When they fail in the lower schools, in High school or college, as the case may be, they are usually made wretched by it and ashamed, too—while their parent's feel even worse.

This is all wrong, because these children could become happy and useful if they were not pushed beyond their capacity. It is surprising to look over the results of a series of mental tests that were made upon thousands and thousands of children from all sorts and conditions of families.

Suppose, to make the test graphic, we see what the results were in figures. Twenty-five children out of 100 were found not mentally able to go above the fifth grade. Forty-five children out of the hundred were mentally able to go through high school doing good average work. The remaining 30 were able to go faster than the ordinary speed as planned for.

Higher education or a professional life is not possible for every boy and girl, no matter how ambitious the parents. He or she may be normal, happy and attractive without having a great deal of intellectual ability. When a child begins to fail consistently in grade after grade, repeating it one or more times, and having attendant trouble with his teachers or outside of school, it is time to look into the matter. That boy or girl, perhaps, is being prodded to do what here she is mentally incapable of. In this case it is better for parents to acknowledge the child's limitations and let him go to work or learn a trade.

The same suggestion holds true where a boy or girl is intellectually able to do high school work—but not equal to doing it brilliantly. If he seems to make every reasonable effort and just passes, nothing can be achieved except friction if he is pushed or twitted or compared to others because he is not a shining light.

Nature has not equipped us all the same, physically or mentally. If your child is one of the first group of 25 per cent, or of the second average 45 per cent, his life will be happier, for him and for you if you will accept his limitations, and not consider his inability his fault.

Food Talk.

One of the most delightful dinners I have ever had was one in which stewed chicken [a hen in her prime and just killed] and dumplings formed the pièce de résistance. A close second was a delicious beef stew with puffy, tender dumplings floating in a rich meat gravy.

Dumplings are of two varieties in this country—the drop and the rolled and cut variety. In rural communities the latter is generally indulged in, in urban districts the former is most popular. And to my mind the drop dumpling is always to be preferred. It is so much more easily made and the chances are much better for it to be a light, delicate affair.

One of the things to be avoided in a dumpling is sogginess, a quality often acquired because the dumplings are manipulated too much before or too much after they are put into the boiling liquid. Dumpling mixtures should not contain fat. A good recipe for dumplings is to use a biscuit recipe omitting the fat and increasing the milk to obtain a mixture of the drop biscuit consistency.

Just as soon as the mixture is combined it should go immediately into the liquid which is actively boiling and one of the secrets of making excellent dumpling is to have enough liquid but not too much. Dumplings absorb considerable liquid and in a small amount there is danger of burning. If there is too much liquid the flavor is likely not to be sufficiently concentrated and too much reminds one more of soup rather than of gravy for the dumplings. Dumplings should be dropped in one at a time but they should be dropped in rapidly until all are in. Care should be taken not to press the dumplings too far below the surface of the liquid as this extra manipulation promotes sogginess. Put the lid on and cook uninterruptedly until done, about 10 or 12 minutes for dumplings made from a tablespoon of batter. Serve dumplings at once. They are another temperamental food that refuses to be kept waiting.

DROP DUMPLINGS.

4 teaspoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.

Sift flour, then measure. Resift with other dry ingredients. Add milk and mix quickly. Drop batter by spoonfuls on top of a meat or poultry stew. Cover tightly and boil 12 minutes. Do not uncover until the 12 minutes have fully expired.

Yield: Six servings. One serving: Total, 160 calories; protein, 22 calories; fat, 18 calories; carbohydrates, 120 calories.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

An applied band at the center front of the bodice of this attractive dress combines with the jabot frill of the collar to give the figure length, by carrying out a vertical line. If you wish the dress may be made sleeveless, using a capelet collar like the one shown in the small cut. Silk crêpe, chiffon, and crêpe de chine are smart suggestions.

The pattern, 2648, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Girl Idealized the Boy Friend; Now She's Unhappy

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am a young girl, 22, and have been quite a success in my chosen profession—but am anything but happy. My health is excellent and I have everything in the world to live for, but each day is like the one before and the day after—to work, to bed, and then to work again.

"I met HIM about three years ago. For the last two years he has been away, but we've carried on a desultory correspondence. During this time I have met other boys, but he was always my ideal. I compared the new boys with him. They fell short.

"Well, now he's back, but so, so changed. So changed I wonder how I ever fell for him. I am disillusioned. He is not the boy I worshipped for years. You'll tell me I am an idealist and that I am doomed for disillusion. I realize now I no longer care for him, but live in hopes he will change. It makes me fearfully blue. I am successful, but what is success without happiness. DISILLUSIONED."

The idealized one probably is the identical young man you fell in love with when you were indulging in the popular pastime of being in love with love. Given a male specimen of most ordinary talents, a girl can work him over in her mind into so godly an image that the gentleman himself would hate to have to attempt to live up to it.

There are different kinds of idealists, "Disillusioned," the kind that idealize with sense and the kind that idealize with dream stuff. I am afraid you qualify for the latter class. It is quite possible the boy also returned to a different individual, which he found in you. Certainly if you are going around with an air of disappointment you couldn't be the girl who inspired him in the beginning.

For your cure, "Disillusioned," I should most heartily recommend that you turn the spotlight in your direction. You might wonder what he may be thinking of you. I am sugesting this not especially for reanimating interest in the now half dead flame, but for guidance with other young men. They'll never fall for a young woman with a hurt and disillusioned outlook on life.

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Burrowing into the rock strata of Illinois is becoming an increasingly important job in the "sweetening" of farm soils in the state, according to J. E. Lamar of the state geological survey. He finds that of the more than $8,000,000 worth of limestone materials being quarried annually in Illinois about $600,000 worth are being hauled by railroad and truck to be spread out on fields.

Limestone corrects acidity through the neutralizing effect of calcium and magnesium carbonates, thereby permitting greater activity and growth for such crops as the legumes and their bacteria inoculated family of clovers and alfalfa.

Layers of limestone rock are outcrops or near surface strata from Chicagoland and west across the northern part of the state and down along the west side, curving to the east along the southern border of Illinois. Other layers are in the center of the state. Mr. Lamar reports, but they are buried 3,000 to 4,000 feet beneath the newer deposits in which the coal areas are being mined.

Chicago itself is an important quarrying district and sends out a considerable amount of agricultural limestone, most of it finer than one-fourth inch and much of it fine enough to pass through a screen of 10 mesh to the inch. One Chicago quarry recently reached a depth of 265 feet; one near La Grande is said to be working at 120 feet below the original surface, and another at Bellwood is around 131 feet, according to information obtained by the geological survey.

In the southern Illinois quarries the agricultural limestone is nearly pure calcium carbonate, as contrasted to the northern belt quarries, which contain dolomite or a combination of magnesium and calcium carbonate and credited with greater neutralizing power. Impurities most important in limestone are found to be the clays, with silica or sand next, and often some iron compounds.

Your Lawn Needs New Seed NOW!

Don't Wait, and Above All, Sow No Timothy!

ALL lawns have suffered from the drought. Fine grasses were burned out and must be replaced by sowing new seed.

NOW IS THE TIME! Every day you wait shortens the precious interval before freezing, during which days are short, rains frequent, nights cool and everything favors grass growing. New grass plants must be well established before the ground freezes.

Better sow no seed than timothy, which is hay seed, a cheap field crop, used to adulterate lawn mixtures. An enormous amount is now sold and sown in the Chicago area, where it is the greatest enemy of lawns. It comes up quickly, but its coarse stems rob fine grasses of food and it inevitably ruins a lawn.

Vaughan's Chicago Parks Lawn Seed
Contains NO TIMOTHY. It is composed solely of Kentucky Blue Grass, Red Top and White Clover, in a blend which 84 years' experience has proved best for midwestern lawns.
Price, ½ lb., 30c; 1 lb., 60c; 5 lbs., $2.90; 10 lbs., $5.75.

Vaughan's Lawn & Garden Fertilizer
This is a rich, quick acting, odorless mineral fertilizer of the formula 5-8-4 (5 parts nitrogen to 8 parts phosphoric and 4 potash). 10 lbs., 95c; 25 lbs., $1.95; 100 lbs., $5.00.

Seeds of Bent Grasses
Cocoos Bent, unmixed seed of true creeping bent grass, excellent for lawns; 1 lb., $2.75; 2 lbs., $5.50; 5 lbs., $13.25.
European Mixed Bent; 1 lb., $1.75; 2 lbs., $3.50; 5 lbs., $8.50.

Peonies and Irises
Time to plant peonies and irises now. Named varieties of peonies from 50 cents up; iris, 35 cents up.

DISEASE STALKS PORTO RICANS, ROOSEVELT SAYS

Asks Additional Funds in Report to Hoover.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—An appeal for outside aid in solving the problems facing Porto Rico is made by Theodore Roosevelt, governor of the island, in his annual report to President Hoover.

In this document, made public today, Gov. Roosevelt described health conditions throughout the island as "deplorable," and asserts that funds at the disposal of the insular department of health are entirely inadequate to face the problem.

Urges Funds for Roads.

Mr. Roosevelt urged the appropriation of additional funds by congress this year for use in road building. He also advocated the extension to Porto Rico of the various federal aid systems, including vocational education.

Gov. Roosevelt spoke optimistically of the future of Porto Rico. He asserted that the island, if properly utilized, could play a major rôle in maintaining good relations between Latin-America and the United States. He urged a wider employment of Porto Ricans in the American foreign service assigned to Latin-American capitals and a more extensive use of Porto Rican young men by American business houses doing business in South America.

Touching on health conditions, which he explained had been improved through the aid of financial assistance from interested groups in the United States, Gov. Roosevelt said: "I did not arrive in Porto Rico until the first week in October, 1929. At that time I found conditions on the island exceedingly bad. We were struggling with three great problems—disease, poverty, and an island revenue that was insufficient to meet the budget then in force.

Health Conditions on Island.

"We were and are a prey to disease of many kinds. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, 4,442 of our people died from tuberculosis. Our death rate in this disease was higher than that of any other place in the western hemisphere, and 4½ times the death rate in the continental United States. Our death rate from malaria was 2½ times the rate in the continental United States. Phrasing it differently, some 35,000 people on this island are now suffering from tuberculosis, some 200,000 from malaria, and some 600,000 from hookworm.

"This condition is all the more deplorable because the climate here is exceptionally healthy. We have an abundance of sunshine. The trade winds blow through the majority of the year. We should be nearly free from such plagues as tuberculosis. We should be considered as a health resort."

James Casey, War Veteran and Chicago Pioneer, Dies

James Casey, 86 years old, a resident of Chicago since 1854, died yesterday at his home, 8116 Ingleside avenue. Funeral services will be held tomorrow from St. Francis de Paula church, with burial at Mount Olivet cemetery. Mr. Casey opened a tea and grocery store at 1419 South State street in 1866, later moving to 1419 South Wabash avenue. He retired in 1906. He was a member of the New York volunteers, with the Army of the Potomac, during the civil war. He is survived by his widow, Alice, and five children — Charles, Dewitt, and Frank, and Mrs. Helen Lippe and Mrs. Ruth Fry, all living in Chicago.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Convalescent

LILLIAN WEIDE, TEACHER, WILL BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for Miss Lillian B. Weide, 72 years old, a teacher in Chicago for the last 50 years, who died of peritonitis Saturday night in St. Luke's hospital, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Miss Carrie B. Neely, 4929 Greenwood avenue. Burial will be private.

MISS LILLIAN WEIDE.

Miss Weide was born in Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, coming to Chicago when a child. She taught in the old Dearborn seminary, in the Loring school, where she once had been a pupil, in the Sieboth-Kennedy school, the Kenwood institute, and the Faulkner School for Girls, 4746 Dorchester avenue, where for the last 20 years she was a teacher of German and Spanish. Her home was at 1320 East 48th street.

4 TARIFF BODY MEN WILL BE NAMED TODAY

Orange, Va., Sept. 14.—(AP)—With one of the major problems of his administration—appointment of a tariff commission — completed, President Hoover rested today in his mountain lodge.

It was reported before the chief executive left the White House yesterday that he had completed selection of the six men who will operate the flexible provisions of the tariff bill through which Mr. Hoover expects inequalities of the legislation to be corrected.

Tomorrow, soon after returning to Washington, he is to confer with the new chairman of the commission, Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, and announce the names of the other four men, in addition to Mr. Fletcher, Thomas Walker Page of Virginia, already has been appointed.

A touch of late summer weather today broke the coolness of the mountains. It found Mr. Hoover and the little party which had accompanied him ready to remain in the shade and relax.

San Marino Buries Regent; Hoover Sends Floral Wreath

REPUBLIC OF SAN MARINO, Sept. 14.—(AP)—A wreath from President Herbert Hoover was among the many floral tributes at the funeral today of Marino Lonferini, one of the two regents of the world's smallest republic. The entire populace gathered for the funeral, making a crowd of 13,000 at the imposing ceremony.

BRITISH BORROW POLITICAL PLEDGE IDEA FROM U. S.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Sept. 14.—One of the first results of injecting a fourth political organization into the British party system has been to introduce the American Anti-Saloon league's campaign device of demanding pledges of all candidates that they vote as the league commands.

These tactics so far are confined to Lord Rothermere's new United Empire party, which, as the price of its newspaper and financial support, demands in advance the promise of the candidate that he will vote for a tariff against all foreign imports if elected to parliament, but it is feared the practice will spread to other parties and that, if it becomes general, the house of commons will become a mere agency for putting into effect the orders of party bosses.

Lord Eustace Percy, calling attention to such a possible result, today declared his intention of fighting it. Lord Percy is one of the Conservatives won over to the policy of tariffs on foreign foods for the sake of improving trade relations between Britain and her dominions, but balks at pledging himself in advance to vote blindly on every tariff question regardless of circumstances.

VETERANS HOLD MEMORIAL FOR LOST COMRADES

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—More than 2,000 world war veterans of the 32d [Red Arrow] division tonight attended memorial services at the Auditorium which opened the division's three day reunion. About 3,000 men are expected to be in attendance for the divisional and regimental business sessions tomorrow and Tuesday.

The chief business to be placed before the divisional session tomorrow is a plan to finance future reunions independently of the city where the meeting is to be held. A motion has been made to use the income from the Liberty bonds owned by the divisional organization, amounting to $26,000.

The next reunion is likely to go to Michigan on the theory that Wisconsin and Michigan, the two states from which the 32d's membership is almost exclusively made up, should be given an even break. Gen. George McConnell, Madison, president, is expected to be succeeded by a Michigan member.

GOOD WILL BODY TO HEAR HOOVER ARMISTICE DAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 14.—[Special.]—President Hoover will deliver an address on Armistice day this year at the fifteenth annual conference and good will congress of the World Alliance for Friendship through the churches, it was announced today by officials of the peace organization. The World Alliance congress will be held in Washington on Nov. 10, 11, and 12.

Last year President Hoover addressed the American Legion on Armistice day, speaking at Arlington National cemetery. The year previous the American Legion Armistice day speech at Arlington was delivered by former President Coolidge. The American Legion plans to hold exercises at Arlington again this year.

Forty speakers, among them several opposed to construction of a treaty navy, will address the conference and congress.

Skull Fractured, Woman Is Unconscious 300 Hours

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 14.—(AP)—Her skull fractured in an automobile accident Sept. 2, Mrs. Max Behgtol, Lindent Sept. 2, Mrs. Max Behgtol, Lindcoln, Neb., had been unconscious for 300 hours at 11:30 o'clock tonight. She is in a hospital here and physicians say her chances for recovery depend on her regaining consciousness soon.

Mrs. Beghtol, wife of an attorney at Lincoln, was injured when a taxicab in which she was riding collided with a truck. Her daughter, Martha, 11, and her son, Robert, 9, also were injured. Martha still is in the hospital, recovering rapidly. Robert suffered only minor injuries.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED BY FALL.

SAVE Nearly a Third ON LOANS

The Household plan offers cash loans of $100 to $300 at almost a third less than the lawful rate. No lower rate on household loans is available anywhere in the city.

Strictly confidential. No inquiries are made of your friends, relatives or tradespeople.

You may pay back your loan at any time, or you can take as long as a year and eight months on small monthly payments.

Quick service. You can get the cash you need on short notice.

Come in, phone or write. If you can't come in, ask us to send a representative to your home. No obligation of course.
